THE OUTLOOK

THE EXCHANGE MARKET

90 days closing drawing rates:—

Rio de Janeiro, March 12th 1930

	Bk Brazil	Other Bks	Rio-N.Y.	N.Y.-London
	Pence	Pence	Dol.	Dol. to £.
March 12th, 1930	57/8 -559/64	5 3/4	8$580	$ 4.86 1/8
March 5th, 1930	57/8 -559/64	5 5/8	8$880	$ 4.85 31/32

The exchange market continued firm throughout the week ending this afternoon, following the slow, but gradual upward course anticipated by us, closing very steady, with the Bank of Brazil's rates unchanged and an advance of 9/64d in foreign banks from last Wednesday's close.

The São Paulo market followed the same course, closing this afternoon, however, with a tendency to weaken slightly, and with banks quoting 5 25/32d to 5 51/64d and the dollar at 88530.

Bills are still in evidence, but takers are quiet, which is their usual attitude during the first quarter of the year. The month of April, however, should witness the renewal of an all round activity in the exchange market, but so long as coffee continues to be shipped in large quantities and bills are in good supply and, above all, nothing abnormal happens in the political field, which is actually somewhat obscure, we do not anticipate a fall in rates.

The market is actually much more confident in its own elements.

The rise in Brazilian bonds in general in London and New York is the evidence that those markets are likewise confident in Brazil and her credit. We are of the opinion that the worst has been witnessed in this country, barring accidents in the political sphere, and that a steady exchange and coffee prices will rule.

A cable from London dated 7th inst. states that the „Evening News" published a report to the effect that the negotiations for a new loan for Brazil have been renewed, but that probably nothing will be determined until the result of the local elections have been fully confirmed.

Local industrial conditions continue very depressed, with no tendency to improve as yet. The markets in general are in constant fear of new commercial failures.

The anticipated shrinkage in the f.o.b. value of exports in December last compared with the previous month of £449,000 and the consequent drop in the favourable balance was the consequence of the drop in prices of coffee resultant upon the crisis.

The movement during the year was as follows:—

Twelve Months — Jan. to Dec.
in £ 1.030

	1929	1928	Increase or Decrease
Imports	86,653	90,669	—4,016
Exports	94,831	97,426	—2,595
Balance in favour exports	+8,178	+6,757	+1,421

Time at our disposal does not permit further analysis. The full returns will be published in our next and subsequent issues.

Being now in possession of the trade returns for 1929, it will be possible for us to initiate the publication of the much promised Retrospect for 1929 next week.

EXPORTS OF COFFEE FROM BRAZIL IN 1929

The preliminary returns of the coffee export trade from Brazil in 1929, show total exports to amount to 14,280,815 bags, valued at £67,306,847, discriminated by ports of shipments as follows:—

Ports:—	Bags	£
Santos	9,311,508	48,291,332
Rio	2,741,071	10,424,943
Victoria	1,216,132	4,478,253
Bahia	317,940	1,198,949
Sundry	694,164	2,913,370
Total	14,280,815	67,306,847

Further details and analysis will be published in subsequent issues.

THE OUTLOOK FOR COFFEE

As already stated in these columns, the daily quotas of entries at Santos during the current month have been fixed at 50,000 bags per diem. The increase from 45,000 bags to 50,000 bags in entries has caused a good impression in the coffee markets, which will eventually be supplied with normal free stocks of 1,200,000 bags. „Boletim Medeiros” estimates the position of stocks as follows:—

Actual Stocks at Santos (5th March)	980,000
Probable entries from 5th to 31st March (24 working days)	1,200,000
Available	2,180,000
Shipments (embarques) during same period	1,000,000
Estimated stocks on 31st inst.	1,180,000

Shipments of 1,000,000 bags are based on the averages for the last two months, but should they increase as expected, the rise in stocks to normal will be further delayed, as it was in February last when the daily quota was increased to 45,000 bags in virtue of the very marked increase in demand and, consequently, shipments.

The basis of the defence of coffee lies in the regulation of stocks rather than in entries for the simple reason that the last named are fixed in accordance with the supply of free stocks up to the maximum of 1,200,000 bags. Prices, consequently, are not likely to be affected adversely so long as entries are regulated on the basis of maximum market stocks and the latter are not permitted to exceed that amount.

The new daily quotas of 50,000 bags determined on 5th inst., comprise 38,000 bags of ordinary quota and 12,000 bags supplementary quota; 45,460 bags being São Paulo coffees, 4,460 bags of Minas and 80 bags of Goyaz. The 45,460 bags of Paulista coffee will be drawn exclusively from the 1928-29 crop stocks in the Regulating Warehouses, no new coffees, consequently, being included in the above quota for the time being.

The retained stock of old or 1928-29 crop coffee in São Paulo on 5th inst., as already stated in these columns, amounted to 2,812,000 bags and should the daily quota of 50,000 bags, i.e., 45,450 bags of Paulista Coffee be maintained up to May, the transport of this coffee will have been completed by 21st of that month, as shown as follows:—

March — 5th to 31st (22 working days)	1,000,120
April — (25 working days)	1,136,500
May — 1st to 21st (15 working days)	675,380
Total	2,812,000

The lack of entries of new crop coffee, so much desired by the trade, will be compensated by the exchange of „esco'has” for fine grades.

COST OF LIVING AT RIO DE JANEIRO.

The average wholesale and retail prices of principal articles and foodstuffs, numbering in all 24, show an encouraging drop in January last, as compared with October 1929. The index number for these 24 articles averaged in January 296 wholesale and 280 retail, as compared with 316 and 288 respectively in October last.

The average wholesale and retail prices at Rio de Janeiro in January last and their respective index numbers (basis, 1914=100) are as follows:—

PRODUCTION OF ORANGES IN BRAZIL

Actually, says the daily Bulletin of the Economic and Commercial Service Department of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs (founded on the basis of the Overseas Department of the British Board of Trade), all the Brazilian States produce oranges. There are those, however, which are much more in evidence owing to the importance of their production and export trade.

In 1927, the State of São Paulo possessed 1,236,000 orange trees producing 350 million oranges, of which 7,200,000 were exported. Actually, there are 6,000,000 new trees which should produce within the next five years 6,000,000 cases.

In the State of Rio de Janeiro there are actually 4,500,000 trees. In 1928, exports of oranges from that State, including the Federal District, amounted to 432,738 cases.

The number of trees and production in other States are as follows:—

Bahia, 63 hectares planted producing 50,000,000 oranges;
 Maranhão, 70,000 trees producing 14,000,000 oranges;
 Espírito Santo, 400,000 trees, producing 70,000,000 fruit;
 Minas Geraes, 1,465,000 trees, producing on an average 220,000,000 fruit;
 Matto Grosso, 143,000 trees, producing 58,000,000 oranges;
 Rio Grande do Sul, 1,000,000 trees, producing 200,000,000 fruit.

In 1928, Brazil exported 24,578,700 oranges, valued at 10,013 contos, equivalent to £245,787 sterling, as against 64,770,700, 5,600 contos and £144,185 respectively in 1927.

The 1929 orange crop was officially estimated at 180,000,000 fruit valued at 15,400 contos.

The progress of the Brazilian orange export trade is expressed in currency values as follows:—

1915 exports amounted to only 5 contos, rising to 5,866 contos in 1925 and to approximately 15,400 contos in 1929.

IMPORTS OF BANANAS INTO THE UNITED KINGDOM

According to the Brazilian Consulate in Manchester, imports of bananas into the United Kingdom during December, 1929, amounted to 565,042 bunches, of which 184,500 bunches were important from Honduras, 164,369 from Costa Rica, 95,888 from Colombia, 41,449 bunches from Brazil, 40,000 bunches from Jamaica and 38,836 bunches from sundry countries.

During the month of January last, the United Kingdom imported 890,059 bunches of bananas, of which 77,544 bunches from Brazil and 812,506 from other countries.

AUSTRO-BRAZILIAN TRADE

According to a communication from the Brazilian Legation at Vienna to the Economic and Commercial Services Department of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, imports into Austria from Brazil during the month of December last amounted to 1,318 tons of sundry produce.

The principal articles of imports are as follows:—
 Coffee, 968,200 kilos; Cocoa, 119,800 kilos; rubber, 142,300 kilos; chilled and frozen meat, 12,900 kilos; cotton, 33,000 kilos and rice, 11,200 kilos.

Coffee was quoted in that country in December last as follows:—

Santos special, 550 Austrian shillings per 100 kilos; Santos extra prime, 500 ditto; Prime, 470 ditto; and superior, 450 ditto.

IMMIGRATION

According to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, 100,424 immigrants landed in Brazil, during 1929, discriminated as follows:—

Rio de Janeiro	40,681
Santos	52,543
S. Francisco	629

The nationality of these immigrants are as follows:—

Japanese	16,648
Poles	9,095
Italians	5,288

BRAZIL — JAPAN TRADE

According to official Japanese returns, the Japanese-Brazilian trade during the five years ending 1927 was as follows:—

	— In Japanese Yens —
	Imports from Brazil into Japan	Exports from Japan to Brazil
1923	142,280	848,561
1924	113,119	1,447,390
1925	68,958	1,581,669
1926	152,075	1,597,091
1927	294,279	1,250,730

The value of the Japanese Yen is four times that of the Brazilian milreis.

The trade between the two countries is enormously against Brazil. From the economic point of view, in view of the considerable increase in the immigration of Japanese subjects into Brazil, the progress of Brazilian exports to Japan is not encouraging.

THE PERNAMBUCO 1928-1929 SUGAR CROP.

The production of sugar at Pernambuco during the 1928-1929 crop (ending 31st August), was the record registered in the history of the State, the next largest being that of the 1921-1922 crop which amounted to over . . . 4,000,000 bags of 60 kilos.

The 1928-1929 crop amounted to 324,554 tons equivalent to 5,409,000 bags of 60 kilos, of which 266,377 tons of 1000 kilos were exported coastwise and overseas, as shown as follows:—

THE OVERSEAS TRADE OF THE UNITED KINGDOM IN JANUARY

The Board of Trade returns of the Overseas trade of the United Kingdom for the month of January last are considered disquieting. Exports were about the same as in December, though the last named was a holiday month, while compared with January, 1929, they show a decline of £8,617,000.

The total overseas trade, excluding bullion, is as follows:—

	— January —
	1929	1930	Decrease
Imports	116,546	101,854	14,692
Re-exports	9,811	8,174	1,637
Net imports	106,735	93,680	13,055
British Exports	66,880	58,262	8,618
Excess of imports	39,855	35,418	4,437

The remarkable fall in imports of £14,692,000 was accompanied, however, by a disappointing decline in British Exports of £8,618,000.

CONDITIONS IN THE UNITED STATES COTTON MARKETS

(Circular of A. Norden & Co. of February 12th 1930.)

After declining to around the 15-cent level for March contracts during the early part of the week under review, it was quite natural for the market to stage a strong rally. The problem at present confronting traders is whether the upturn which has occurred is merely technical in character or whether it represents a definite change in the price trend.

Those who favor the second of these two possible explanations point to the recent selection of an advisory committee by the cotton co-operatives as being potentially bullish; they believe that it presages the establishment of a cotton stabilization corporation. An organization of this kind, if deemed necessary by the advisory committee and recognized by the Farm Board, would have power to purchase and store any quantity of cotton that might be regarded as surplus production; it would be financed by loans from the Board's $500,000,000 revolving fund.

Furthermore, those with bullish views consider that the decline which has occurred cannot fail to bring about a sharp reduction in acreage. They are also impressed by the possibility that the co-operatives will not liquidate their large old-crop contract holdings across the ring but will take delivery of actual cotton which they will then keep off the market pending the development of profitable selling opportunities.

The above mentioned views are not without weight but we think that their importance may easily be over-emphasized. The formation of stabilization corporation for the purpose of surplus control operations would inevitably advertise the weakness of the American cotton situation, antagonize foreign spinners and stimulate the demand for outside growths. With regard to the effect of current quotations on farmers' planting intentions, it should be remembered that the majority of producers marketed their crop last Autumn, received a relatively good price for it, and consequence, are unlikely to favor acreage reduction this year. As for the possibility that the co-operatives' contracts will be held until deliveries are made against them, we see nothing constructive in it. We believe that the short end of these contracts is very largely in the hands of interests who have cotton for sale and that there is little likelihood of a squeeze. Even if a large quantity of cotton is taken up and segregated, it would not be lost sight of and would unquestionably exert a bearish influence on the price ideas of buyers.

We believe that the cotton situation will continue to be unsatisfactory until a free market prevails, and until prices decline to a level at which consumption is sufficiently stimulated to bring about an adjustment between supply and demand. The increasing popularity of foreign growths can only be successfully combated if American producers will concentrate on growing cotton of good quality which can be profitably marketed on a competitive basis with that grown abroad. This means planting only the most suitable land to cotton, using good seed, and limiting production costs as much as reasonably possible.

Transit Passengers calling at Santos usually have ample time to ascend the slopes of the forest-clad mountain range known as the «Serra do Mar»; special trains will, at an hour's notice, be placed at their disposal at a cost of 200 milreis for 40 passengers, plus Government impost of 1$000 per passenger travelling. Above that number 7$500 each person.

The return trip lasts 3 hours in all, giving time for lunch at the top of the Serra («Alto da Serra»).

Passengers arriving early at Santos can also usually visit the city of São Paulo; leaving Santos by the 8.19 train, they reach São Paulo at 10.20. After a motor drive through this large city with over 1,000,000 inhabitants, the 12.15 train will land them in Santos at 14.40 in good time to catch the steamer sailing at 15.30 or later.

The São Paulo Railway, whose first section began in 1860, has been assiduously consolidated and improved since then, and has long enjoyed a deserved reputation as second to none in the world in point of solidity and security.

The Inclined Planes on the Serra represent a triumph of engineering science and perseverance. The geological characteristics of the ground are such as to render construction and maintenance of railway lines over it a work demanding the utmost patience, skill and care.

São Paulo sometimes called the «Chicago of South America» and whose prosperity bids fair at no distant date to rival that of its above named American contemporary — is a bright breezy city, situated on a tableland 2,700 feet above sea-level, and distant 79 kilometres, or, 1h. 50ms. by São Paulo Railway from Santos. It possesses wide streets, important public buildings, theatres, excellent shops, etc., and electric tramway and lighting services, and is notable for the unusual architecture and floral beauty of some of its residential suburbs. The sanitation is perfect and the climate bland.

The Port of Santos possesses wharves alongside which all ocean going steamers are berthed. Its quays and spacious warehouses are perfectly equipped for the rapid despatch of all descriptions of cargo.

Business in São Paulo State is, naturally, for the most part, of an agricultural and pastoral character. The Government is always ready to encourage enterprise. The Secretary of Agriculture replies promptly to all inquiries through the special «Information and Publication Section» of this Department.

THE SANTOS COFFEE MARKET

Week-Ending, 27th. February, 1930

(From our correspondent)

There is nothing fresh to report. Markets remain steady, and prices are well maintained. We may have a slightly quieter tendency with the turn of the month, but, as the market is certainly oversold for March shipment, it seems reasonable to expect a steadier tendency towards the middle of the month.

Options paralysed and easier with March at 22$675, April at 22$275, and May at 22$275.

Exchange steadier with sterling at 5 5/8d and the dollar at Rs. 8$800.
