Rio de Janeiro, July 21st, 1890.

THE scheme of founding a new non-sec tarian hospital in this city, we are gratified to say, has met with so cordial a reception on every side that its success is practically secured. The fact that existing institutions do not meet the requirements of the large and growing non-Catholic population of this capital, is signally demonstrated by the interest taken in this proposal, and by the voluntary offers of contributions from every quarter. Two efforts in this direction, but within restricted limits, had already been made, but without securing the funds necessary, although the individual donations in each were noticeably liberal. It is now proposed to unite these two separate schemes and to make the enterprise broad and liberal enough to include all. This, in our opinion, insures its success. The idea of founding a school for nurses has been specially well received and will, we are certain, appeal strongly to the sympathies of many an old resident of Rio, whose recollections of epidemic seasons here are none of the pleasantest. As soon as the preliminary arrangements can be made, the scheme will be placed before the parties interested for their approval. capital, is signally demonstrated by the in

The scheme for the creation of an international American bank in the United States for the purpose of assisting the development of commercial relations between American nations, is one which has a strong hold upon our sympathy and good wishes. A good bank can be of incalculable assistance in strengthening the bonds of commercial intercourse between American nations, but like a steamship line it must be considered as an instrument merely. It can by itself create instrument merely. It can by itself create comparatively nothing, but in the hands of enterprising merchants and under liberal commercial legislation, it can not fail to enhance profits, facilitate transactions, and thus encourage an extension of the trade be-tween the countries interested. But in the tween the countries interested. But in the absence of merchants and in the face of restrictive legislation on all sides, what can such a bank do? We are advised that the projected American bank is to have its seat is the United States and the project of the Project of the United States and the Project of the Projec in the United States, with a capital of $25,000,000, and will have branches at all the principal commercial centres on the continent. If it were not for existing restrictions, we believe that such a bank would easily secure a brilliant success; but in view of the discriminating tax levied in Argenof the discriminating tax levied in Argentina, the two-thirds capital requirement here in Brazil, the various exactions of other countries, and the hostile tariff legislation of the United States, what chance is there for such an enterprise? Frankly, the United States must reverse her policy and treat all these American nations as friends and neighbors, before any real commercial progress can be made. Asking everything while yielding nothing, is certainly a very poor method for developing commerce. It might do to start a horse trade, but never to build up a permanent and advantageous foreign trade. While the present Chinese policy prevails at Washington, it will be wise for merchants and capitalists to put away their South American maps, for they will never accomplish enough to pay for the trouble taken.

Two propositions were not long since presented to the municipal intendencia for this purpose, both calling for radical and extensive improvements and both involving a very heavy expense. By the advice of the ministers of interior and finance both of these propositions were declined, the intendentes disagreeing with some of the stipulations and the minister of finance dissenting altogether on account of the expenditures involved. As to the relative merits of the two schemes we desire to express no opinion. In general, a purely speculative enterprise of this character is to be viewed with suspicion. Sanitary engineering is a science sufficiently modern and difficult to require special study and experience. If involves expenditures and public consequences of such importance and magnitude that experiments can not be entered into hastily and thoughtlessly. Other things being equal, therefore, the recommendations of physicians whose studies and experience are largely within the bounds of this science, must be allowed a decided preference. In looking over the report of a special medical two schemes we desire to express no opinmust be allowed a decided preference. In looking over the report of a special medical commission which was presented to the Rio medical society in September, 1889, we find that a majority of the recommendations then made form a very good basis for the sanitary improvement of this city. They recommend sub-soil drainage, improved water courses, the filling in of low grounds, the preservation of the forests, the widening and extension of streets to admit the sea breezes freely, regular water supply smiand extension of streets to admit the sea breezes freely, regular water supply, sani-tary measures for habitations, etc., etc. With some of the recommendations pre-sented we do not altogether agree, for the advantages derived will not counterbalance the vexations imposed. But with a major-ity of them, however, we are heartily in ac-cord, and we believe that they can be un-dertaken gradually and without so great a charge upon the public treasury. One of the serious defects in the plans proposed is the unproductive character of the improve-ments and the necessity of meeting these expenditures by increased taxation. The costs of living in this capital are already suf-ficiently high to make every increase in taxexpenditures by increased taxation. The costs of living in this capital are already sufficiently high to make every increase in taxation a subject for serious deliberation. Every increase in the predial tax means increased rentals; every increase in the taxes on imports means a disproportionate increase in the burdens on the masses. Were there a better sense of public responsibility, a higher sense of moral obligation, a more disinterested patriotism and a more impartial administration of justice—an administration which will not acquit the rich and influential thief while it severely punishes the humble criminal—were these conditions to be found here in Rio de Janeiro we should say that most, if not all, of these sanitary improvements could be realized without increasing taxation one trintem, without adding one single burden upon the city, and without adding upon the whole country to pay for them. The policy pursued in the city of Birmingham is perfectly applicable here, were the Brazilian authorities as public-spirited, business-like and trustworthy as those of England's famous manufacturing city. We do not like to make so sweeping and condemnatory an assertion, but the facts of daily experience can not be overlooked. However, it is possible and the government should therefore adopt some and necessary to make a beginning, and the government should therefore adopt some general and feasible plan and then carry out the improvements as rapidly as circumstan-ces will admit.

THE SÃO PAULO BANK.

São Paulo, 17th July, 1890.

To the Editor of the R10 News.

Sir,-I regret that among the many, and Sir,—I regret that among the many, and in some cases too just censures on the new companies and banks, you, in your Financial Notes of July 14th, treat the Union Bank of São Paulo unfairly, when you advise the Rio shopkeepers to be on the lookout against its notes.

I should not take the liberty of writing you, did I not feel that an injustice to a good enterprise is at times more hurful good enterprise is at times more hurtful than allowing a bad one to escape criticism. The Union Bank of São Paulo is certain-heavily laden with rights and privileges, but, at the same time, it is more nearly a representative bank of this state than any other, and it can not fail to do much good.

The emission of 2,000 contos in notes can not be hurtful, because the circulating medium here is too small for the amount of business done. I can assure you that more money is wanted here, now that all the laborers are paid, instead of as in the old time when labor was unpaid, and a planter received from his commission agent a cheque which was passed into his bankers; and the chief shopkeeper's accounts were paid only once a year, and this by some order or

How changed is all this now, with the hundred thousand free farm laborers, who receive part, or all, of their wages in paper

Now, the Union Bank of São Paulo i one of the safest, and will be one of the longest lived in the country, so that its notes may be taken at their value anywhere, even though they are only legal tender in the states of Sao Paulo and Goyaz. I have no shares in the Union Bank, no have any other interest in writing than to try and maintain what I consider worthy o maintenance among the scores of new banks that have cropped up lately.

The friends of the Union Bank only it to be very careful how it avails itself of its privileges at first, because if it once commences with moderation this will become a habit, and it will ever continue to treat them as exotics, very beautiful to have but not to be dragged into everyday life, which goes better with free trade.

Your obedient servant,

WALTER J. HAMMOND.

In regard to Mr. Hammond's objection to our cautioning Rio shopkeepers to be on the lookout for Banco União notes, we can fully justify our position by recalling attention to a recent incident, which has al ready been mentioned in these columns. friend of ours, residing in São Paulo, had a considerable sum of money to receive. He was on the lookout for the 200$ notes of the Banco dos Estados Unidos-which are not legal tender in São Paulo-but quite overlooked those of 50$ of the same bank The surcharge on those notes is not quickly distinguished, particularly where the light is not good. The result was that he afteris not good. wards found a considerable number of these notes in the money received, and subsequently had to pay 1$000 each, or 2 per cent. discount, to get them changed into money current in that state. As the same discounts will unquestionably be charged here on the Banco Unido notes, we consider ourselves obliged to caution our readers against the risk. A system which renders such risks and losses possible is not only a mistake, but it is pernicious to the last There is not one valid argument or. We have repeatedly admitted degree. T that the country requires more money because of the wage-paying necessities of free labor, and the changed conditions of trade we can not admit that a currency of this character, issued by speculating and monopoly-endowed banks, and restricted to fractional parts of the country, fills the We would as soon advocate feeding a Perhap hungry man on corrupted bread. the better response, however, would be to ask if Mr. Hammond, as an employer of labor in São Paulo, will receive Banco dos Estados Unidos notes at their face value? As for the emission of 2,000,000$ by the Banco União, we should have nothing to say were the issue properly secured and judiciously placed in circulation. A currency based on non-negotiable bonds, and which in case of liquidation can only be redeemed from other assets of the bank, can hardly be considered perfectly safe. And an issue made in notes of 200$ and 500$ which are the two denominations thus far put into circulation—can hardly be considered an assistance to labor. In conclusion, we trust that Mr. Hammond will believe us not only ready but sincerely desirous of assisting every worthy measure for the improvement and benefit of the country. No one will commend a good purpose and enterprise more quickly and heartily than we shall. But as for the interested schemes of speculators and charlatans, the impracticable theories of uneducated politicians, and the dangerous ventures which always force themselves to the front in times of mad speculation, we must reserve for ourselves specialism, without incurring the charge of being unfriendly to the real progress of the country.—Eds. "The clandestine issue of bank notes by various Argentine banks, with the knowledge and comi-vance of the national government, appears to have been over $$5,000,000. The Cordoba bank, located at President Celman's native place, was the principal offender, which makes it look all the worse in view of the circumstance that the government is trying to excuse and cover up the scandal.

—The Uruguayan government has opened rego-tiations with the Barings for a loan of $10,000,000, to relieve the financial crisis. It is proposed to redeem the Banco Nacional notes with the pro-ceeds. It loss very much as though our neighbors depended upon London to help them out of their frequent binancial muddles, in which case it would be chaquer for England to take complete charge of the country and put an end to the extravagant and dishoust government which exists there.

dishonest government which exists there.

—Our Platine neighbors have a very queer standard of morality. It is a recognized fact that certain banking institutions have illegally issued a large excess of bank notes. Instead of closing them up and prosecuting their directors for a criminal and, a bill is presented to Congress to legalize the issue and loans are made to the criminal banks to enable them to withdraw the overi-ssue. When our Agentine friends reach the point of prosecuting and panishing thieves and other criminals, no mater what their social and political standing may be, then and not till them will there be ar improvement in the economic and financial condition of that country.

HOW WILL IT END?

That the inevitable storm is approaching slowly ut surely, we are fairly convinced. Rumblings of That the inevitable storm is approaching slowly but surely, we are fairly convinced. Rumblings of an unpleasant kind are becoming frequent, and are beard in different directions, showing that when the storm does reach, it will pretty well sweep the whole country. We are not those people who indulge in enthusiastic agitation or hysterical alarm, at the first signs of dauger. Yet we would advise all to view the situation calmly, and at the same time unveils. time gravely.

The rumors afloat daily, of revolutions in Entre Rios and of the death of the loan, are ones which are not confirmed. The fact that such things are not only possible but probable is well known to all, and in this lies the gravity of the situation. But it revolutions were to take place, let us see in what way we should be benefitted. For revolutions are not, as a rule, either welcome friends to responsible business people, or advantageous to a country's business people, or advantageous to a country's reputation, but it seems to be regarded just the re-verse to-day, when trade is beggared and all busi-ness paralyzed. Suppose the presidential forces were made to submit and give way, is it not neces-sary for all vitally interested to be prepared, in or-der to secure themselves against reaping such another misfortune? United action is not only essential but absolutely indispensable, for without it all will be a "fiasco" and we sincerely trust that the opposition party have realized all this. For, though we can not advocate force, ext, if such reputation, but it seems to be regarded just the that the opposition party have realized all this. For, though we can not advocate force, yet, if such were to happen, let us be assured first that it won't be a falling out of the frying-pan into the fire. Of course, as we mentioned yesterday, the President is only partially to blame for the crisis, because he has a government, we assume, of course, that it is a government, to assist him in every way, and if these ministers can not frame and refuse to give us remedial measures in the form of enforcement of remedial measures in the form of enforcement of remedial measures in the form of enforcement of the laws, not only by the banks but by all parties official and otherwise, and refuse to take note of such wholesale corruption in their own circles officially and otherwise, then they must share part of the blame with its inevitable responsibility. If the loan does fall to the ground, so much the better for the future of the country. The system of incessantly meeting obligations by loans, shows no statesmanship and forms bad precedents, and as s long as you possess credit you can carry it through till the time comes when your creditors begin to think and then to doubt, and finally to refuse. This is the time when wanton recklessness is brought face to face with common sense. To build up the This is the time when wanton recoveraces a source, face to face with common sense. To build up the country on a foundation burdened with an enormous debt, which means annual drains from your finances to meet your obligations, and save your honor, is as foolish as it is unjust to the country. But when rumors are rife and facts become dischard that the manny has been placed to other ac-closed that the money has been placed to other accounts, private and personal, by those who are supposed to be responsible for the national purse, then matters begin to assume a serious aspect, then matters begin to assume a serious aspect, which breeds mistrust among the people and eventually chaos in the markets. We still believe that if the loan fails to reach us, as we hope it will, that the country will be saved from the revolutionary cure, the most pacific one, of the resignation of the President, being applied instead. If this happens it will speedily help the immediate future in allowing the country to redeem her honor and give the President the consolation that at least he did one patriotic action during his term of office.

PROVINCIAL NOTES

-The São Paulo intendencia has approved Mor-ris N. Kohn's market wagons.

-The opera company contracted for Pará arrived at that port on the 15th in the French steamer Poitou.

Another lot of contraband merchandise was captured at Itaqui, on the Uruguayan frontier, a few days since.

-The laying of the water main for the supply of faubate with water from the neighboring hills, will be begun next month.

-It is announced that the new water-works at Campinas, São Paulo, will be completed and in op-eration in November next.

—The Correio, of Limeira, São Paulo, says that coffee-gathering has begun in that municipality and that the crop promises to be large.

—The Mercantil of São Paulo, of the 16th inst. contained 16 pages, made up principally of till-poster advertisements of new companies.

—On the 16th the Diario Official tells the whole story of the rubber surtax at Pará, which was settled by the minister of finance by his telegram dated on January 20th last.

—On the 11th inst, the minister of war refuses in application of the governor of Sergipe to send roops of the line there to do police duty. They re wanted to fight the police in Rio.

—Gen. Godofredo, son.in-law of Gen. Quintino and chief of police of Rio de Janeiro, has informed the Nictheroy municipal chiefs that they may count upon his assistance for the regulation of domestic service.

—There were disturbances in Pará on the 15th ult, between the police and firemen, and a military board of investigation was appointed to inquire into the causes. Punishing a soldier for disorderly conduct is probably too severe.

—At a place called Araguary, Minas Geraes, the police delegate on duty arrested and "jailed" the clerk of the justice of the peace because he would not sell him and the policemen what rum they wanted—and wait for payment.

The good people of Paraná deny the charges from Santa Catharma. They say that Paraná matte has been carried across the line for years, to the great injury of the state from the loss of export duties. They are now trying to collect these —At a place called Redondo, Minas Geraes, a wicked black boy recently went fishing with dynamite on a Sunday, but he will never go fishing again—at least in this world. It is a serious question whether Gabriel will ever be able to get him all together again.

—We regret to see that the old stories of im-pressing Indians for service in the rubber awains of Anazonas are again coming out. Surely the federal government will take energetic steps to correct this miserable traffic in free men—and who are moreover wards of the nation.

—Mr. Morris N. Kohn has asked the São Paulo intendiencia. for a concession to establish his well-known delivery and market wagon enterprise in that city. From all that we can learn, Morris has taken his entire patent office up to São Paulo and intends to work the whole schedule.

On the 12th inst, the parish priest at Mogy-rim, S. Paulo, clearly explained to his parish-rs what they are to expect in this world, and next, if they consider religious marriage un-ressary. We inter that purgatory even will be seed to recalcitrants; sheol pure and simple is their destination —On July 18th the governor of Rio de Janeiro decreed interest guarantees of 6 per cent. per annum for 20 years on a maximum capital of 20,000,000-$ to be employed in peopling his state. The preamble to the decree should render possible applicants for the concessions under the decree very careful, for the economic position of the state is de clared to be critical.

—Juz de Fóra has been recently favored to rare exhibition. A professor named Dr. Agostudi-Penido gave a public lecture, during which he exhibited a man, completely illurente and brought to specially for the trial, whom he taught to real easily and in a very few minutes. This is just the man the republic requires. He should be employed to go about manufacturing voters.

—Some cavalry soldiers in Santos were recently grievously offended because a Portuguese servant told bis master of their intention to steal some pigeons and other birds from his chacarn. A party of them went to this gentleman's residence on the night of the 9th, entrapped the poor fellow and nearly killed him with their arms. A companion tried to help him and was treated in the same patriotic manner.

—Four individuals, one of them a Sr. Jordão Lopes, who was prosecuted a few months ago for passing counterfeit money and escaped through the mistaken clemency of the relapão, were arrested in São Paulo on the 17th in the very act of unpacking some boxes contatuing counterfeit 10$ and 50$ Treasury notes. The arrest interrupted a business transaction in which the dealer, Samuel de Mello, was selling a large quantity of the spurious stuff to Lopes and his friends.

Lopes and his friends.

—The Ypiranga lottery monument is again the cause of trouble. The president of the monument commission has recently asked the state treasury to pay the contractors a balance of 349,673$941 for the completion of the edifice, which the treasurer refuses to do because the law authorizing the enterprise determines that the expenditure on the building shall not exceed 1,000,000$\frac{8}{3}$, and that a part of the fund derived from the lotteries shall form the patrimony of the institution. From the accounts presented, the contractors have presented bills for construction to the aggregate sum of 1,546,639$$51.

—A cargo of 31,700 bags of Rangoon rice, per ship British Envoy, arrived at Santos on the 16th, And yet São Paulo can grow the very best of rice!

—The São Paulo intendencia received two proposals on the 16th for the construction of a new market, one for 723,290$780, and the other for 714,000$.

—The goose of a police delegate at Rio Bonito, Rio de Janeiro, sent a man to the chief of police who had been bitten by a mad dog! Gen. Godo-fredo jumped on his desk, and had the man immediately sent to the hospital. Presents like this are not appreciated by the authorities—they want silverware and fireworks.

RAILROAD NOTES

—The June receipts of the Carangola line were 46,193$020, of which 12,624$160 were from pass engers and 30,758$120 from merchandise.

The grantees of the Benevente and Minas rail way concession have been granted an extension of time to October 5th to commence work on the line —On the 17th the minister of agriculture re-fused an application of the Alagoas railway com-pany to reconsider the dispatch which approved the modification of the Assembléa branch route.

—A credit of £ 5,750 has been placed at the disposition of the government purchasing agent in Europe for the purchase of material for the Baturite line.

On the 18th the Jornal de Commercio hear that the final survey of the Ceará-mirin, Rio Grande to Norte, railway had been approved. I extende from Natal to the above named place and measure about 43 kilometres. The estimated cost in round figures is 1,405,000$.

—A severe accident occurred on the Central line at the suburban station of Queimados on the morning of the 13th, two mixed trains colliding on a siding, killing one brakeman instantly and wound-two others and a fireman, and causing much damage to the locomotives and cars. The accident seems to have been due to carclessness.

—The governor of Rio de Janeiro has ordered that the Leopoldina railway company must complete the line to and station in Nictheroy by August 25th next upon which date expires the period conceded for this purpose. The Leopoldina directory has been so occupied in buying other lines that their obligation referred to by the governor must have been overlooked.

—A Sr. Bahiano, stated in the press that Gen. Bocayuva, ad interm minister of agriculture, was granting railway concessions without the formality of a decree, and that he fears one of his concessions is not safe. It is only fair to say that Sr. Bahiano wanted a concession, which he did not get, and that the decree was published on the 18th. It is the concession to the Bahia and Minas company of the road from Victoria to Pessanha.

the road from Victoria to Pessanha.

—The work of construction on the connecting branch of the Leopoldina system between Campos and the Tapirussú station was begun on the 1st inst. The line will be 70 kilometres long, will have a bridge across the Parahyba 430 metres long and is to be completed in seven months. Now that the Leopoldina has acquired the Macabé and Campos line, the next step will be to lay a third rail to permit the rolling stock to pass down to Macahé, the old road being of the broad gauge.

—It gives us much pleasure to note that a small consignment of flour was recently received here from the famous Carcarañá flouring mills, of the province of Santa Fe, Argentina. We had the opportunity a couple of years since of visiting this mill, which is one of the most complete establishments of its kind in South America. It is run by seven large turbine wheels, uses steet cylinders, and has a working capacity of 500 bags of flour per day. The various brands of flour turned out in the Carcarañá mill are well known in Argentina and will, we doubt not, soon find an equally good market in Brazil.

Even the Diario de Barbosa on the 17th had to take notice of the disci-pline ruling among "the armed forces."

—The reason why Admiral Walker was in so great a burry to get away is now apparent. It appears, according to our English and Américan exchanges, that the officers were becoming demoralized by the hospitalities extended in Europe, and were sent out here for the purpose of restoring discipline. The threatened cruption of manifestations and entertainments here convinced the Admiral that he had struck the wrong place, so he sailed away.

—On the evening of the 13th what appears to have been a very serious disturbance occurred in the Gambôa district here. —A fatal accident occurred on the Botanical Garden tram line in Rua Gonçalves Dias a few days since, resulting in the killing of a child playing in the street. A riot was imminent for a time and traffic was suspended in that street. The tram drivers, who generally pass through this narrow street at a high rate of speed, have been roundly blamed of course, and the company has been compelled to issue instructions for slow driving there in future. This is now causing anusual delays in transporting passengers toward evening, and is causing rushes for seats not altogether compatible with dignity and courtesy. We are still waiting for our colleagues to instruct the public not to let small children play in the street, nor cross the lines in front of the trams, when passing behind them would be safer.

MARKET REPORT.

Rio de Janeiro, 21st July, 1890.

Exports.

Exports.

Coffee.—There has been some movement during the week, and upwards of 50,000 bags probably changed hands, nearly all for the United States. This burnies has sufficed to keep the market steady all along, for receipts continue very small and particularly so by rail. Quotations show only trifling changes from those of our last report and exchange is also just about where it was has week. There come no published accounts as to the weather up country, but it must be the cause of our restricted supply, for certainly prices ruling here are, or should be, satisfactory to the planters. How far the question of labour is to interfere with the Rio coffee zone is a serious problem, and the authorities of the state of Rio are evidently exerting themselves to attract immigrants. The measures should have been taken months ago: they may be too late now, for this crop at all events.

Shipments income that report have been:

35,600 bags for the United States

Cape of Good Hope

54,130 bags.

52,139 bags.
The daily foreign clearances at the custom house for the reek amount to: 38,115 bags for the United States
10,476 , Europe
- , Cape of Good Hope 48,591 bags. The vessels cleared with coffee, including those whos mifests were not given in our last report, are: United States:

There was a fair amount of business reported during the past week. Receipts of Flour are small and sales and withdrawals have smartly reduced the steeks in first hands; there is, however, a considerable quantity aftoat by steamers for our port. Three cargos of Pitch pine have arrived, of which two are on order and nothing has yet transpired as to the other, Both Pitch and White pine are reported firm. Kerosene has advanced sharply, but quotations for Lard are lower and the market is now reported every flat. Indian Corn has flattened out considerably; the receipts have been very heavy and the market is dual and flat at the decline. Rice remains unchanged and Codfish shows no improvement; stocks are however, gradually becoming reduced and there are no receipts this week.

PARA*.

Mestrix. Singlehurst, Brocklehurst & Co. write under date of July 5th:

Russett.—Entries last month turned out to be the same as in June last year, viz; éac tons. The crop which closed on June 9th showed a tatal of 15,310 tons, against 15,070 tons in the preceding year, the deficit resulting being does not. The coming crop does not open under as favorable auspices as could be desired, for although the trees are full of sap, they cannot yet be reached in many places in consequence of the enormous floods, which have only now commenced to subside. The work therefore, being delayed the crop at the best in likely to be here than usual, and there still remains the fear of an outbreak of fever as the consequence of the inundations, which if realized would in a serious measure jeopardize the output.

Our market opened quiet after our last advices and prices adapting themselves to the values and conditions ruling at the consuming centres, as well as to the continued rise in striling exchange, gradually recoefed to 3600 for fun, and $2000 for coarse Islands rubber, Up river kinds being worth too—200 rs. per kilo, more. Large transactions having recently taken place in New York and at improving prices in Liverpool, the demand here has become active and in excess of supplies, which in all probability will continue moderate during the next fear months.

Stack, on fold June. 1008.
