RIO DE JANEIRO, SEPTEMBER 22nd, 1890.

THE election returns are as yet incomplete, while some of the most distant states are not even heard from. The results, however, are not at all doubtful, thanks to the subserviency of the voter, the fears of the opposition and the measures taken by the government. The election may be not incorrectly described as a pro forma ratification of the revolution and the provisional government, in which the opposition had been previously frightened from the field. The result therefore is an almost unanimous delegation in both chambers of the purely official party, there being very few opposing candidates elected. Among these, however, we are glad to see the names of Senator Saraiva and Deputy Zama from Bahia, Deputy Demetrio Ribeiro of Rio Grande do Sul, and Deputy Antonio Prado. With but few exceptions, the successful candidates are new and untried men. Some of them are known merely as poets and café orators, and are sure to occupy valuable time with empty declamations and visionary projects. The outlook, therefore, is not favorable for legislative work unless executive pressure is brought to bear on them to carry out the official programme with a minimum of discussion. In addition to the names given in our last, we have to record the election to the Senate of Gen. Floriano Peixoto, minister of war, in the state of Alagoas, and the probable election of Minister Ruy Barbosa in Bahia and Minister Cesario Alvim in Minas Geraes.

in Bahia and Minister Cesario Alvim in Minas Geraes.

We trust that the Paiz will permit us to offer one very essential correction to its editorial of the 20th on "anti-patriotic opposition"—this paper has no alliance ("hybrid," or otherwise) with any political party or newspaper whatever, and it has no "solidarity" with any person or newspaper except what may spring from independent, voluntary agreement on common topics for public discussion. We are deeply obliged to the Gazeta de Noticias, Tribuna, Brazil, Diario Popular, and other Brazillan journals for the frequently repeated compliment of transcribing our opinions in their columns, and we should be pleased to have the Paiz and Diario de Noticias place us under the same obligation. As we can not be suspected of revolutionary designs, nor of purposes leading to personal gain or partizan advantage, our opinions certainly will not posson the minds of those who read those two semi-official journals. Still further, as we thoroughly believe in free discussion and in frank opposition to any measure which we consider wrong in principle and hurtful in practice, we claim the right of a public hearing without incurring the contemptible rejoinder of being "unpatriotic" and "inimical to the country." A man's highest duty is to be honest, sincere and truthful, and there is no true patriotism which compels him to be otherwise. No republic can exist without parties, and the true basis of patries is opposition on questions of policy and methods of government. Each may call the other unpatriotic, but the truth is that both may be equally honest and patriotic. When, therefore, the Paiz seeks to suppress discussion by calling names and creating suspicion as to motives, it either discredits its own judgment, or dishonors its own reputation for free discussion and

We see by the Novidades of the 19th that Deputy Luiz Murat will advocate two measures in Congress—literary property and divorce. The young deputy has thus far distinguished himself only in poetry, and it may be a rare exhibition of discretion which had being the reserve in foreastic powers to may be a rare exhibition of discretion which leads him to restrain his forensic powers to such subjects as these. In all probability other new members of the national legislature will follow his example to identify themselves with some project or reform which will give good opportunities for tropical oratory and the creation of a reputation for advanced ideas. In view of this tion for advanced ideas. In view of this prospective state of things, it ought to be explained to these enthusiastic young legis-lators that Brazil has urgent need of a very different class of work just at this moment. There can be no denial of the need and utility of such laws as those of divorce, of literary property, and of a score of similar subjects, but just now the prime need is that of reorganization—the creation of an efficient republican government out of the ruins of the republicant property and of a medicaral state of social monarchy and of a mediaval state of society. The work to be done—if well done—is simply stupendous. The finances of the as simply stupendous. The inflates of the country must be organized and a proper budget prepared; a new system of taxation must be devised which will continue to prowide the revenue required for the national government and at the same time provide for the support of the new state governments; the organization of the states must also be promoted and the limits between national and state powers must be clearly defined; a new judiciary is to be created, provided with a new judicial procedure. with new inferior courts, with a new police organization, and with a proper codification of the laws; the national domain must be determined and better arrangements made for locating immigrants; there should be a better definition of the powers of nation and state in the matter of railway control and concessions, and of the guarantee of interest to industrial institutions; there should be more rigid laws relating to bankrupt settlements and liquidations to protect investors and legitimate trade against the mania for speculation which has broken out in this country; there should be created a bet-ter and more liberal system of public eduter and more liberal system of public edu-cation; and there should be an intelligent and judicious study of a score of other im-portant matters intimately connected with the reorganization and prosperity of the na-tion. We may be permitted, perhaps, to advise Deputy Murat that his scheme for di-vorce can easily wait until all these more urgent matters are settled.

Translated from the Revista dos Estados Unidos do Brazil, September 13th.

HENRY LOWNDES.

For the growing development which recently has been noticeable in our city, in all branches of our industry, the confidence and integrity with which commerce is conducted, the impulse day by day impressed upon our activity, the factors are many which have united to justify the motto of our flag:

which have united to justify the motto of our flag: Order and Pragress.

To discriminate these factors one by one, is a labor we can not assume, for it demands much study and special acquirements, among which is pre-eminent the evolutionary phase, of which the horizon was opened on November 15th of last year. Only after this unequalled occurrence was it that therty in all its grandeur became manifest, inspiring the most daring of enterprises. In this manner we understand it, and thus have understood it all the dreamers of a future, filled with prosperity; who until then believed that in Brustil all was grand, save man, and using a supreme effort they endeavored to totally destroy this opinion, which until now was the obstacle to our progress.

opinion, which until now was the obstacle to our progress.

It was as a species of new blood introduced into our organism impoverished by the invading anemia of a policy without direction, which we had supported for a long period and which was wasting us in every sense.

Immediately after that glorious event the men who still had faith in the future, prepared themselves and are now to be seen engaged in the sublime task of reconstructing our fatherland.

In every class of society do we find men whose courage and dedication have rendered them marvellously pre-eminent.

They collected together all the weaknesses, they investigated the future, and, constituted into a force, they resolutely put their hands to the task.

They are not few, these workers for improvement, these benefactors who thus freely and decidedly employ their best efforts for our aggrandizement.

In this cluster of heroes and of laborers HENRY

LOWNDES occupies a very prominent position.

Ol Scottish extraction, he is the son of the respected merchant of our city, Henry Lowndes, and grandson of the esteemed capitalist, Mr. Andrew Steele.

While yet a youth he devoted himself to a commercial career, in which he overcame all the obstacles encountered, and endowed with an indomitable strength of will, he continued therein, for he found his decided vocation in that direction. He travelled through the north of our republic, in England and in other industrial countries, studying and examining everything, until five years ago he fixed his residence in this city where, finding a wast field for the development of his activity, he has ardently devoted himself to industries.

Under the influence of his enlightened intelligence and his inimitable activity have appeared successively the enterprises: Fabril Bruzelio, Tecedagon Flummone, Companha de Ferro Gabranssalo, Tecidos S. 7 dols, Nacional Tecidos de Meias, Codostha, Inhustria de Ono Prets, Naunfactura de Rendas, Alexancia e Cantaia para Construções, Chimica Industrial de Hera Bruzelios, Tecidos de S. Christovão, Estrada de Ferro Quilombo, aud many more, which owe to him their esistence, but in which he from modesty did not desire that his name should appear.

He organized the Banco da Industrial Nacional, showing clearly upon this occasion his high financial acquirements and giving to the shareholders handsome profits satisfactory to all. The Leopel dura railway and the Macakl and Campos company have felt the result of his activity, to which these enterprises owe the credit and importance they are enjoying.

He has taken part in more than one syndicate have felt the result of his activity, to which these enterprises owe the credit and importance they are enjoying.

He has taken part in more than one syndicate with the purpose of carrying out most important enterprises. He settled the affairs of the Rvo das Flores railway, which to-day is his property; he acquired the Benezente and Minus railway; the Industria, Lawona e Viagão de Macahé company; he incorporated the Geral de Estudia de Feiro company, a gigantic enterprise which disposes of 100,000,000$ of capital, which will afford our country an advantageous development; the Credito Rund e Internacional bank, with a capital of 25,000,000$, an enterprise of such importance that its shares are already in demand at a premium, so brilliant is the future foreseen for it; finally, he is in direct relation with the high functionaries of the republic, who honor him with their confidence and hear him with attention. His name enjoys great credit and importance through all Europe; important financial transactions effected by him establish this unquestionably.

With such activity and intelligence Henry tionably.

With such activity and intelligence Henry
Lowndes obtained in a short time the competence and independence he is enjoying, and has accumulated the capital he possesses, and which also he has sought to employ for the benefit of our country.

lated the capital he possesses, and which also he has sought to employ for the benefit of our country.

The subject of our sketch is only 29 years of age; of an agreeable and attractive countenance, courteous manners, modest, and of great soul and unlimited generosity, he has neither enemies, nor opponents, which is proved by what he has accomplished in society without displeasing nor offending. Endowed with a superior intelligence and a perspicacity above the common, disposing of an extraordinary strength of will, he knows no half-way; either the journey will be completed, or the idea will be abandoned as worthless.

He has by the strength of his character and by his proved honesty secured among us deducated, grateful and sincere friends. Even yesterday, the portals of the Cassino Pluminense were thrown open, from side to side, to receive not only the high functionaries of the republic, together with the most distinguished members of the diplomatic corps, commerce, industry, arts, science, letters, finally of every branch of our activity, at the ball which various friends, eminent in commerce and representatives of our city, offered to Henry Lowndes as one of the most strenous combattants for our progress, and one of the most dedication.

We would offer our compliments, therefore, to Mr. Henry Lowndes as one of the most strenous combattants for our progress, and one of the most dedicated friends of our beloved country, to which moreover he is attached by the ties of family and by those of the consideration, acknowledgement and high esteem which, by all of us Brazilians, is let for hum.

Translated from the Cidade do Rio, September 13th.

HENRY LOWNDES.

By telegram received yesterday we learn from a creditable person that to the worthy, industrious and distinguished capitalist, Henry Lowndes, had been granted by His Most Faithful Majesty the title of Visconde de Leopoldina.

Congratulations to the illustrious recipient, who

Congratulations to the il-merits this high distinction,

Congatulations to the illustrions recipient, who merits this high distinction.

Well were we justified yesterday in stating that the ball which Henry Lowndes' friends gave to him would be a dazzling fife and that nothing would be left undone.

The Cassino Fluminense was adorned with the richest and costliest of decorations for the fife yesterday, which will be long remembered, and this remembrance agreeably impressed upon all those who had the fortune to be present.

The exterior of the building was delightfully illuminated by arches, producing a dazzling effect, principally when seen from a distance. In the centre of this illumination, formed by letters of gas, was the monogram of the guest of the evening.

Upon entering the doors of the building one was astounded, so beautiful and carefully arranged were the decorations and Illuminations.

Lights and flowers in abundance adorned the stairway and saloons of the majestic building. The attendance of guests was enormous; the most select and illustrious in arts, science, finance, letters, were there present. The most beautiful ladies, and of our best society, displaying the richest of toilettes, filled the saloons.

The dancing was animated and carefully watched over by the attentive committee, who exceeded themselves in order that all might be served and that no requirement be overlooked.

All of the ladies on entrance received from the committee numbered tickets for the tembola of six extremely rich prizes, which were to be offered them.

At 2 a.m. the Viscondessa de Leopoldina, Barão de Santa Margarida and the citizen Hitchings commenced to draw the lots. There then came a large salver with the tickets unmbered in accordance with those which had been delivered to the ladies by the committee. The Viscondress would take a ticket, deliver it to Baron de Santa Margarida who read it out and passed it on to the citizen Hitchings, who in turn proclaimed the lucky number, the prize belonging to the fortunate holder being delivered to her.

The holder of ticket No. 272 was not present and her prize was not delivered.

Upon the conclusion of the tombola the dancing was resumed.

The service, both at supper and at the buffet, was excellent and profuse, and was furnished by Paschoal.

executent and profuse, and was farnished by Paschoal.

From the impossibility of taking note of all the toilettes, these being numerous, we will not give here a compte rende but we assert that they were very rich and all of great taste.

The committee, which was composed of the distinguished and amiable gentlemen, Commendadores José Julio Pereira de Moraes, Colonel Lima Braga, Francisco Casemiro, Alberto da Costa, Arthur Hitchings and Juvenal Damasceno deserve our compliments for so nobly meeting their distinguished task in arranging a 1/the worthy of the guest and of its organizers, together with our thanks for the politeness of the invitation and the attentions shown to us.

—A small shopkeeper at Cubatão, near Santos, was found murdered in his shop on the morning of the 17th. He had been tied and strangled, and his place had been thoroughly rifled, showing that robbery was the incentive. A considerable quantity of gold and silver was found concealed about the premises by the police. On the 16th the police succeeded in capturing the assassin, a Spaniard named José das Caixas.

-The election of capitalist Mayrink seems to have aroused great eithusiasm throughout the country. There can be no doubt that the people have fully resolved to abandon Positivism and adopt the worship of the Golden Calf.

—A correspondent of the Juiz de Fóra Pharol tells a significant story about the appointment of ten school inspectors in the state of Minas Geraes at a salary of 500$ each per month. The inspectors, however, were employed as election agents, travelling about on free passes and advocating the official ticket, while the matter of public instruction received almost no attention whatever.

"—Ceará and Maranhão have shown their adhe-sion to the republic in a very peculiar manner. The first has elected a Sr. José Avelino, who has been the defender of every cabinet that was ever organized, and the latter will send as one of its deputies, Sr. Henrique de Carvalho, elected a deputy from the city of Rio, when Afionso Celso was consul, once an alderman accused of exacting blackmail, and only a short time ago a prisoner on a charge of treason in Fort Santa Cruz. It is very evident that the electors in the provinces do not read history.

—According to a telegram from Fortaleza, Ceará, a group of some 400 individuals, led by Srs. Rodrigues Junior and Torres Portugal—the former an ex-minister—organized a procession on the attenuon of the 14th which went through the streets with seditious cries and firing revolvers. A conflict ensued between them and the police force, during which several individuals were wounded. The mob was finally dispersed and Sr. Rodrigues Junior was arrested. It is said that the purpose was to expel the provisional governor. Another telegram says that the authorities were the aggressors by attacking a peaceful procession of citizens.

—On the 19th inst. the minister of agriculture furnished the foreign affairs minister with a detailed account of the reasons for depriving the Minas and Rio railway compray of its concessions for an extension to the Rio Werde and for the Lambary branch. The document is long and is declared to be drawn up for the information of the British minister here. It is ex parte, of course.

RIVER PLATE ITEMS.

- -Some of the national schoolmasters in Bueno Aires have not been paid since January last,
- -The Paraná river is said to have risen some ree feet above its normal level, owing to recen
- —The Argentine government paid $161,700 to the railways for carrying troops to put down the recent revolution.
- —An illegal issue of notes has been discovered the Rioja provincial bank, and the amount is so to be very large.
- —A Bolivian consul having been imprisoned at Jujuy, Argentina, the Bolivian minister at Buenos Aires has asked for explanations.
- —The Buenos Aires Standard is informed that a large part of the new wool clip will be brought to market on bullock carts because of the exorbitant railway charges.
- —The immigrant arrivals at Montevideo during the first half of the current year numbered 15,523, and the departures 8,743, leaving 6,780 against 2,604 in the same period of last year.
- —A decree has been issued by the Argentine government annulling previous decrees which dismissed revolutionary officers from military service. They are restored to their former rank with arrears of pay.
- The Argentine government has been compelled to take three "state coaches," which had been ordered in Paris by President Celman. They are no longer wanted, but it was thought not advisable to let them be sold at auction. The price is 36,950 fraces.
- —The Argentine government has decreed that after October 15th all steamers and sailing vessels whose draft will perait, shall discharge and receive passengers and cargo in the south basin, in one of the new docks, or at one of the Riachuelo wharves. Salt, timber, tiles, etc., are to be discharged at the Riachuelo.
- —There is most dolefully impecunious news from Santa Fé. There is not a red cent either in the free bank or the government till there, and Governor Caffaretta declares that he has not money enough in hand to pay even the wages of the port-ers in the Government House. What a blessed state of things!—Buenos Aires Slandard, Sept. 4.

Coffee Notes

- -The New York Coffee Exchange has voted to list mild coffees on and after June 1st next.
- —The imports of coffee into the United State: during the last fiscal year amounted to 499,159,12: pounds, against 578,397,454 pounds in 1888-89—a decrease of 79,238,334 pounds.
- The telegram was justified that gives the news.
 From 4,000 coffee trees a planter of S. Carlos do Pinhal, S. Paulo, has gathered 4,000 alqueires of dried coffee, representing a money value of 24,000$.

LOCAL NOTES

- -King Taffy is now having his turn.
- —The chief of police, Colonel Dr. Sampaio Ferraz, resumed charge of the police department on the 16th.
- —It is announced by cable that a second strike has occurred at Southampton which has delayed the departure of the Royal Mail steamer La Plata for Brazil.
- —As the children of the primary schools are to be allowed to sing "school anthems," the minister of the interior has ordered that a competition be or-ganized to furnish the "words and music."
- —By the str. Vittoria, sailed on the 11th inst., there left for Rome the Archbishop of Bahia, the Bishops of Pará and Goyaz, a canon and three priests of the Brazilian Roman Catholic church.
- —It is generally supposed that Srs. Murat and Luiz Delphino, both poets, recently elected depu-ties, will be made secretaries of the Chamber, and the reports of the daily sessions will be in verse.
- —The plague of 200$ notes still continues. And everyone gets rid of them just as soon as he can—just to show how correct the minister of finance was when he stated how large a percentage of business is done in these notes.
- —The friends of Mr. Mayrink are so rejoiced over his election to the Chamber of Deputies that they propose to offer him a grand banquet at the Cassino. Perhaps the King of Portugal will ask to be included in the demonstration in the customary
- —One of the sanitary delegates on the 18th seized a quantity of stuff that was being hawked about the city as the "Elixir of Our Lady of Lourdes," and the sellers are to be fined 100$. As they were not arrested, they are not likely to pay the fine.
- —According to a telegram published in the Gazeta dr. Noticias on the 18th a night school has been opened at the lazareto to tench the ignorant servants there. It seems about time to close the lazareto, if the employés have to open a night school to keep themselves awake.
- —Antonio de Barros has been appointed a member of the administrative council of the section of commercial statistics of the state of Paraná. Antonio's friends are hereby requested to add to his patronymic the initials, M. A. C. S. C. S. S. P., and give his place of residence to avoid mistakes in the post office.
- On the 17th twenty-three coachmen appeared —On the 17th twenty-three coachmen appeared before the police to pass examination as to their knowledge of which of the Rio streets you go up, and which you come down, and three of them were "plucked." Perhaps, with the constant changes in names of streets, the poor victims had become maixed in their geography of Rio.

- -The job for razing Castle hill was authorized by a decree of the 18th inst.
- —General Hermes da Fonseca, brother of General Deodoro and governor of Bahia, arrived here on the 19th.
- —Curious result of silver legislation in the United States. The Sorata carried to England 4,000$ in Brazilian silver coin.
- —The swan-necked Lopes Trovão is now on his way home to take his seat in Congress at the head of the Rio de Janeiro delegation.
- -There was a severe conflict in Villa Isabel on the 18th between a shopkeeper and some police soldiers. The latter were thiel-hunting and stupid-ly mistook the shopkeeper for the man they were locking for
- —The New York Maritime Register of August 20th contains a lengthy communication from "A Victim," describing what ship captains' tribulations are in Rio. The guarda mór, who reads English, should peruse it.
- —Dr. Domingos Freire seems to have missed election to the Chamber by only a head. He will now be able to devote himself to further researches after that facke little yellow tever cryptococcus he claims to have discovered.
- —Citizen Antonio Augusto de Carvalho has been appointed lieutenant-colonel commandant of the artillery battalion of the federal capital, national guard, vice L. Col. Francisco de Paula Mayrink, placed on the retired list with the rank of colonel.
- —The minister of matine has requested the minister of agriculture to have 1,250 tons of coal destined to the Central of Brazil railway, delivered at Bahia for the use of the navy yard there; and also that 1,050 tons be ordered to Pernambuco, 200 to Pará and 700 to Rio Granded do Sul. The government appears to have gone into the coal business.
- —The failure of the republican electors of Rio de Janeiro to return Dr. Silva Jardim as deputy must be considered as an indication that they appreciate true republican principle less than official protection. The Dr. has evidently wasted much good powder throughout the state of Rio de Janeiro. But republicans always were ungrateful, you know!
- mu republicans always were ungrateful, you know!
 —It is reported that Silva Jardim, the defeated republican tribune, will soon start a paper here in Rio. If all the defeated aspirants for legislative honors rush into journalism, we shall soon have one of the liveliest controversies on record. The more the merrier, however; we shall be delighted to see them at it, even if it puts up the price of paper and ink.
- paper and ink.

 —The new notes of the Banco dos Estados Unidos, printed in Leipzig, have been turned over to the printers here for alterations in conformity with the decree of March last. The minister changes his mind so often that it is impossible to get out a note before some correction becomes necessary. However, as his admirers consider this fickleness and versatility as indications of financial genius, we presume there is nothing more to be said.
- —The editor of the Duario do Commercio has had a disagreement with his cook, and just "lifts the scalps" of the intendentes because they don't oranize domestic service. As a profound secret we may tell our colleague that "industrial nacional" is at the bottom of his trouble; everybody who can, goes into the factories or on the Allandega. The dwellers in Petropolis will endorse us, we are sure.
- —The Paiz has, we fear, made a very serious omission in a recent attempt to classify the opposition press of the city, in which they are placed under only three categories:—Roman Catholic, Outo Pretista (adherents of Affonso Celo) and intriguers. There may be all of these, just as there are parasites, fools and intriguers on the other side. There is, however, one very important class which the Paiz ignores—those who can not support a corrupt and meddlesome administration. It is puerile to charge that an opposition comprises no men who are actuated by honest and rational motives.
- motives.

 —It is announced that Dr. J. Barbosa Rodrigues proposes to prepare a catalogue of all the plants existing in the Botanical Gardens. It will be a work of great value and utility. In this connection, we should like to call the attention of the director to the inconvenience of closing the Gardens on certain days, as has recently been done. Strangers are continually being disappointed by going out there to find the gates closed. If the Gardens must be closed, then special pains should be taken to advertise the days at the steamer and newspaper offices. But why is it necessary to close a public garden any day?

 —Cen. Costrio Alviny takes the cole.
- garden any day?

 —Gen. Cesario Alvim takes the cake. On the 16th he managed to get Gen. Deodoro to order Gen. Barbosa to let him have 1,059,000$ more for taking a census of Brazil in December next. And Gen. Alvim bases his estimate on the following ingenious calculation: in 1872 there were 10,112,061 (these are imaginary figures, for the census enumerators gave no such number.—Ed. News.) inhabitants in Brazil according to the census of that year and it cost 814,454$05,3 to register them. As experts of the department of the interior have fixed the present population of the country at 14,-389,462, without any census at all, it is clear to the meanest intelligence that it will require just 1,159,-000$ to count noses! This beats Favilla Nunes clean out of the statistical field.
 —We are in receipt of a note from Capt. Tilston
- clean out of the statistical field.

 —We are in receipt of a note from Capt. Tilston of the British bark £. T. G., requesting us to express the thanks of himself and crew to Mrs. Small, of this city, for her generous service and assistance to them on the 17th. The £. T. G. had cleared for sea, but when passing Ilha Raza one of the crew, a boy of 16, fell from the top-mast to the deck and shattered his 18 gc. The captain brought the unfortunate boy ashore in a boat, but on landing on the Praia Flamengo found himself unable to explain his wants. Mrs. Small happening to pass there at the time not only offered her services as interpreter at the police station, where an ambarlance was obtained to convey the boy to the Misericordia, but also provided the men with food, an attention most gratefully appreciated.

SANTOS AT!!LETIC CLUB.

The first athletic sports of the above club, which were postponed from yit inist, on account of the bad weather, took place on Sunday last (14th) and were a decided success. In the absence of a suitable field the course was on the beach, and thanks to the exertions of Messrs. Sell and Colbourne presented a most pleasing appearance, being taskfully decorated with flags, bunting, etc. There was a fair attendance of spectators from the first which would doubtless have been much larger had it not been for the weather, which was very doubtly, and only kept favorable until 3:30 p. m. when rain fell unceasingly for the rest of the day. A band was in attendance, and at the close the prizes were given away to the successful competitors by Mr. Edward Broad. Everybody appears to have been highly satisfied, and we trust this will not be the last of these pleasant meetings.

BAHIA.

BAHIA.

From Metser, Vanighan, McNair & Co's Market Report, dated September toth.

Stocks.—Very firm and dealers demand higher prices. Last sale was of about 3,500 bags No. 3, D. S. at 18-21 per last color of the color of the Plassava,—Entries continuing to be small, prices have been well maintained, but little has been doing owing to the small-ness of available supplies. We estimate the sales at about 200 tons at 45000 for fair, 5500 for good and 55000 per 15 kilos. For prime. Stock 190 tons.

ROSHWOOD AND BRAZILWOOD.—Dull and no transactions to report. Stocks about the same as at date of our last report. RUBRER.—Without alteration; 305000 per 15 kilos but little doing. Entries have been almost nil.

Tonacco.—Albo unaltered and no sales.

FRIGHTS.—Chartered to load at Pernambuco, or Macció, Nor bis Salaminiator Sciner, at 201 for one of four ports in the United State.

From Meastrs. Henry Forster & Co's Market Report, dated September 6th.

Sucasa.—Since our least of the 16th ult, there has been no see the properties. But itself of the 16th ult, there has been no see the properties. But itself of the 16th ult, there has been no see the properties. The second of the properties of the 16th under the do not look for even fairly free entires of Rive Grande have been sking for bids for cargoes to clear up to the middle of October and exports from that port are always earlier than from this. The halance of old cryp sugars now in stock will off the see all soil for coast and home consumption.
