EDITORIAL AND PUBLICATION OPPICES:—

79, Rua Sete de Setembro.

RIO DE JANEIRO, SEPTEMBER 29th, 1890.

According to the Gazeta de Noticias of ACCORDING to the Gascha de Noticias of yesterday, the minister of public instruction, Gen. Benjamin Constant, had offered his resignation on Saturday, but no reason for this action was given. The Tribuna, however, gives an indirect explanation of the affair to the effect that the minister had sent around a batch of appointments by one of his sons for General Deodoro's signature, and that the latter had sat down upon the business in a very decided manner. That there have been repeated controversies and business in a very decided manner. That there have been repeated controversies and bad feeling in the ministry, all the world knows; but the discretion of the Rio press is so great that the points at issue are never openly discussed. Just what the cause of this last breach may be we can not say, and our colleagues give us no clue. The Gazeta—the only paper which gives the news—says this morning that friendly efforts are being made to induce the minister to reconsider his resignation and accept a leave of absence.

The new bank of issue decree, which was published yesterday, is perhaps quite in harmony with the confusion of ideas and impracticable theories which now dominate impracticable theories which now dominate the financial administration of Brazil. It was expected by some that when the elections had taken place and the people had chosen their legislators, this irregular and arbitrary system of "government by decree" would be brought to an end, but the minister of finance is apparently disposed to rule despotically up to the very last moment. Whether the representatives of the people will submit to so irregular, illegal and arbitrary an exercise of authority remains to be will submit to so irregular, illegal and arbitrary an exercise of authority, remains to be seen, but be this as it may, the consequences can not be avoided. By the terms of this decree, the issue of currency on a gold basis becomes practically unlimited, special issues of 36,000,000$ are added to the emission already conceded, the zones of the regional banks are subjected to another. regional banks are subjected to another modification, the banks of a certain class are subjected to an obligation from which they were exempted in the decree of January 17th, and two new banks are subjected any I/m, and two new banks are subjected to obligations of making state loans without the federal guarantee recently established by decree. Why a foreign banker should have a guarantee on his loans, while the national banker must take his own risk, the national banker must take his own risk, is a difference we can not explain further than to class it with the other conflicting modifications and exceptions which appear to constitute the greater part of the financial system now dominant. It is considered by many prominent financial authorities that uniformity, simplicity and system are essential factors in the successful administration that factors in the succession administration of a nation's finances, but Ruy Barbosa evidently thinks otherwise. If he, or any one else, can evolve a consistent, harmonious and intelligible system out of the conflicting and confusing elements contained in the decrees which have been issued in regard to banking and currency since the beginning of the year, it will be more than we have been able to do, and more than any one has succeeded in doing thus far.

Some time ago we took the liberty of advising the organization of a new association which should better represent the commercial interests of this city. In view of the present abnormal state of affairs and the unsatisfactory position occupied by the Associação Commercial, it is highly advisable sociação Cominercial, it is highly advisable that some steps should be taken in that direction without further delay. We are now passing through a crisis of speculation which must inevitably lead to serious consequences. The wildest schemes and the financial expedients are not only current in the street, but are actually pro tected and encouraged by a commercial or ganization whose prime duty it is to foster and promote legitimate commerce only. An association whose chief anxiety is to burn association whose chief anxiety is to incense before the dominant personage of the moment, whether he be statesman, the moment, whether he charlatan, or speculator, is certainly not a fit representative of a class whose best traditions are those of honorable dealing and laritimate commercial enterprise. As we tions are those of individuals teams and legitimate commercial enterprise. As we are now on the verge of the greatest crisis ever experienced in Brazil, we need the organized leadership of the best and most trustworthy men which the country possesses. We are heartily sick of the defersesses. We are heartily sick of the deference shown to charlatans and speculators, these organizers and promoters of sham companies and impossible enterprises, these jugglers in shares and debentures, these patriotic bankrupts and spendthrifs who are engaged in organizing well-paid directorships for their own personal benefit, these impostors who buy millions without a vintum in their pockets and then invent empty tem in their pockets and then invent empty credit operations to cover their liabilities credit operations to cover their habilities, these adventurers who make and break contracts without the slightest sense of responsibility and without the faintest appreciation of honor and honesty. One has but to walk through the crowd on the Rua da Alfandega to be convinced how lew men of good credit and reputation are engaged in the business of buying and selling shares. Reputables the business of buying and selling shares and in organizing companies. Reputable merchants, bankers and capitalists can not safely be associated with such people nor concerned in their operations, and, therefore, as the Associação Commercial is not inclined to draw a line between them and legitimate commerce, it becomes imperative to create an organization that will.

Ir the Brazilian public were in the habit of requiring explanations and reasons, it is to be feared that some of our republican colleagues would soon find themselves in a sea of difficulties. It is not so long ago that at least two of them were demanding a that at least two of them were demanding a rigid censorship of the press and the pun-ishment of anyone found guilty of dissem-inating false information, and now we find the immaculate Diario de Noticias, the personal organ of the minister of finance, act-ually condemning the popular desire to ob-tain seats in Congress as an "inveterate uany concerning the popular desire to obtain seats in Congress as an "inveterate vice." As the law and gospel of the new dispensation, perhaps the Diario can explain how it becomes a "vice" for a citizen plain how it becomes a "vice" for a citizen of a republic to aspire to any office within the gift of the people. In the United States every boy is taught that he may aspire to be President some day, and no one ever thinks the worse of him, nor he of himself, if he cherishes the ambition seriously. It would have been bad enough, despotic expensely in fort, if all the poor journalists enough in fact, if all the poor journalists had been compelled to write nothing but the truth, but if to that be added the further restraint suggested by the Diario on the 22nd, there is no imagining what the result will be! What the mocidade is to do, if not permitted to exercise their fluent imaginations and nourish their parliamentary ambition, we cannot conceive! If the Diario were as full of practical wisdom, as it is of sententious theories, it would advocate doubling the number of deputies, as a safety valve for the uneasy and impatient, rather than repress their ambition as an "inveter-tax rice." And further, will the Diario tell What the mocidade is to do, if than repress their ambition as an 'finveter-ate vice.' And further, will the Diario tell us how it happens that what is good and worthy enough to secure the choice of one senator and two deputies from its staff—if we may still count. Ruy Barbosa a member —becomes so objectionable when applied to the outside world? What kind of a re-public is the Diario proposing to create anyhow? anyhow?

DECISION OF THE U. S. COURTS.
U. S. Circuit Court, Northern District of Illmois, Singer Manufacturing Company 29, June Manufacturing Company,—Decided December 23rd, 1880

1.—Trade Names.—"Singer Machines."—Use af ter Expiration of Patent.

That the patentee, Singer, and his successors have manufactured sewing machines publicly known as "Singer Sewing Machines," and the name Singer has come to identify the special kinds of machines made by them, does not, after the exputation of the patent, give them the exclusive right to the use of the term "Singer" as applied to sewing machines.

**Expectation of Patent — Rights of the Public.**

2. - Expiration of Patent. - Rights of the Public After the expiration of the patent the public may anufacture machines having the same form of onstruction, and even ornamentation, used by the construction, and even ornamentation, used by the patentice. The contention of complainant is that it is entitled to the exclusive use of the word "Singer" as trade-name, and that the defendant has no right to use the word "Singer" in any way, or in any combination, as descriptive of the machines made by the defendant. The questions raised by this bill are by no means new ones. Substantially the same questions were before this court in Manufacturing Co., 2x. Lausen, (8 Birs. 15x), and were also raised and passed upon in Brill 2x. Manufacturing Co., (xr. Okio M., 1x7); Manufacturing Co. vz. Stabage, (6 fol. Rep., 279); Same vz. Ripey, (1x fol. Rep., 706); Same xz. Loog, (4x Law T., N. S. 858); Same vz. Kimball, (10 Nod. L. R., 175]. In all these cases the present complanant sought to enjoin the use of the word "Singer" by the defendants as a designation for sewing machines made or dealt in by them, respectively, and the right thus asserted was denied in all those cases, except that reported in 10 Sot. L. R. In the Larsen case (3 Birs., 15t.) it was said by Judge Drummond:

larsen case [8 Bits, 151, 11 was said by Judge Drummond:

"I think there can be no doubt that the plaintiff can not claim the exclusive right to manufacture the "Singer Sewing Machine." All that it can claim is to make a machine of its own peculiar manufacture, with a device in the nature of a Trade Mark. Otherwise after a patent has expired which has established the nomenclature of a ewing machine, as the Howe patent or the Wilson patent, the patent emight go on and have the benefit of the patent mediantely. "These patents have all expired, and nothing can therefore be claimed under them. Other persons cannot be prevented from manufacturing a machine like the Singer sewing machine, and which may be called to distinguish it from other machines. "Singer's Sewing Machine." If a sewing machine has acquired a name which designates a mechanism or a peculiar construction, parts of which are protected by patents, other persons, after the expiration of the patents, have the right to construct the machine and call it by that name, because that only expresses the kind and quality of the machine." So in Brill z. Manufacturing Co., it is said:

"Descriptive as the name." Singer' is of machines of early distinctive character; in their con-

So in Brill vs. Manufacturing Co., it is said:
"Descriptive as the name "Singer" is of machines of a really distinctive character in their construction and principle of operation, when the patients protecting them expired the right to use that name accompanied the right to make and sell the machines. It would be a poor return for the exclusive privilege which the public gives for a long period to the patentee if, after the expiration of his patent, the shall be allowed to virtually perpetuate his monopoly, in a measure, by preventing all others from using the name which will describe and make known the invention that has become dedicated to the public."

It proposes to establish a hopedaria in this city, with perhaps branches in other states, for the reception of immigrants, which will supplant the official and inconvenient establishment on Ilha das Flores. POLITICAL AFFAIRS.

The victory of Sr. Vinhaes represents the first rose leaves cast upon the commencement of the path; afterwards come the complaints, the debate as to the comparative value of capital and labor, strikes with all their accompanying misery and disturbances; an entire class, numerous, condemned to almost no improvement, for, although it marches from victory to victory, it sees each day its necessities augmented.

It will be said that no country can absolutely dispense with the working classes, that there is always some industry to be exploited, and that necessarily there will be a body of men to whom life must be hard.

Entirely do we agree: but the duty of those who direct is, not to augment this group, but to accept it as a sorrowful necessity, which will be that much the less as the exploited industries shall become more natural and which may be the more readily assisted in proportion as its numbers are less numerous.

Sr. Vinhaes, entering parliament in the name of the working classes, assumes a gecat responsibility.

We may mention that the Sr. Vinhaes referred to was a lieutenant in the Brazilian navy under the empire, but employed his leisure hours in the editorial rowns of O Paire. Exactly how the became the chosen leader of the working classes is so great a mystery that we have never sought to explore it.

THE PILCOMAYO EXPEDITION.

From The Southern Cross, August 22nd.

THE PILCOM. IVO EXPREDITION.

It appears that the expedition headed by Captain Page up the Pilcomayo river has turned out a failure. The vessels under his command were expressly built in Europe for the purpose of sailing in shallow water, and Captain Page had hopes of finding the river navigable as far as Bolivia. The expeditionists by river were eighteen in all, and a bady of soldiers who followed the course by land had to return when almost reduced to starvation. The expeditionists had several encounters with the Indiana, and on reaching the 22nd parallel of latinate Visionists and several encounters with the Indiana, and on reaching the 22nd parallel of latinate Uniterated Visionists and Several encounters with the Indiana, and a few others who accompanied him search of Reconquista. A vessel was fitted out at Resistencia, and Zorilla, placed in command, again went up the river to reheve the unfortunate expeditionists who are supposed to be besieged by Indians. Troops have also been sent by land, and it is to be hoped their efforts to save the galiant fellows will not be in vait, each of the properties of the properties of the properties of the vision of the United States, and who wrote a most interesting book on Paragaya. We believe the old gentleman is still living with his daughter in Italy. Captain John Page was descending by the river Pilcomyon on order to consult a physician at Resistencia, but the diet before he arrived there. We deeply sympathise with his widow and lamily.

Later reports any that Captain Page's son, Mr. Nelson Page, is in command of the river Epicomyon on order to consult a physician at Resistencia, but the diet before he arrived there. We deeply as a stern-wheeler drawing only 8 inches, and two large canoes, with provisions for three months, arms, etc. The ascent of the stream was terribly difficult, and before they reached the Patiño swamp, food began to get scarce; and soon the poor explorers had to eat reptiles and anything they could pick up. In the swamp they lost their way, and could only advance 200 metres a day, by damming the water to keep the steamer afloat. Lieutenant Zorilla and Dr. Cassius were then sent back for assistance. The trip down was most dangerous, as the river had risen and the current was very rapid. Before reaching the confluence Dr. Cassius became half mad from hunger, jumped into the river and swam to the bank, telling Lieutenant Zorilla that he preferred to remain there. It is feared that he must either have been captured by the Indians or killed by wild beasts.

Provincial Notes

-There were 171 deaths in Pará during the month of August.

—Sr. Ubaldino do Amaral, having been elected a senator for Paraná, is going down there to thank the boys for the favor.

—We find we were wrong. It is a place called California, not Canaan, that holds the champion grape vine of S. Paulo.

—Sr. Paulino José Soares de Souza has sold h Tusculum; the plantation of "Val de Palmas. Is Sr. Paulino going to Europe also?

—The August exports of rubber, all qualities, from the Amazon valley amounted to 914,908 kilos., of which 376,770 kilos. went to Europe and 538,138 to the United States.

—On the 20th the minister of agriculture granted a supplementary credit for 245,520$154 to the gov-ernor of Rto Grande do Sul, for colonization ser-vices during the present semestre.

—A telegram published in the Correio do Povo on the 26th says that 400 Italian immigrants at São Paulo are to receive free passages home, for to them is attributed the increase of thievery in that city.

—According to the Correio do Povo a policeman of the Kio de Janeiro state force, married and with five children, has complained to the authorities that one of the officers of the corps had seduced and run away with his wife.

—The normal horse manufactory at Curityba, Paraná, was inaugurated on the 23rd with great enthusiasm. It has a government guarantee and will probably, like most "industria national" factories, import its raw material.

The mania of making boots by joint-stock corpanies has struck Juiz de Fora, Minas Geraes, the provinces commence to manufacture their ow foot coverings, the outlook for the 'Hivencreel' boot company in Rio) is not bright.

boot company in Rio) is not bright.

—The man who wanted to change the capital of Minas. Greacs to some other place may "hang up his fidile and his bow." The governor has granted a concession to build a capital near Outer Preto that will hold nearly everybody in the state.

—Of 2,000$ sent by the Bahia central commis-sion to the drouth-stricken town of Caetité, 400$ was destined to complete a cemetery and 780$ was set apart to build a road to this cemetery. It ap-pears a grim sort of assistance to a starving people.

An indignation meeting was held at Juz de Fóra, Minas Geraes, on the 23rd to protest against the governor's concession for building a new wing to the capital of the state, Ouro Preto. Juz de Fóra seems inclined to secede from the Mineiro —His subordinates were so delighted that the chief of police of Rio de Janeiro has been elected a legislator that they gave him a bouquet of artificial flowers and a psyché glass. Symbolical presents one represents rhetoric and the other the correct artifitude.

A telegram published here on the 27th says that the coffee crop in the west of S. Paulo is estimated at twice that of the last crop, and the coming crop is expected to be twice the present crop. As figures of the past crop are not given, speculation is left to complete the other estimates.

—The chief of police of Rio de Janeiro, who was exhausted by the electoral struggle, has re-assumed his position and has been given a banquet by his admirers. Lt. Col. Fouseca e Silva should remember that even a deputy to the first Brazilian congress has a liver; he should be careful at banquets, or he will have a relapse.

—Recent advices from S. Paulo state that Gen. Couto de Magalhães hat become a hopeless lunatic. Gen. Couto de Magalhães was an important figure in S. Paulo polítics for many years, and was the president of the province when the revolution burst on Brazil. We have seen no reasons ascribed for his great misfortune.

—At a meeting of the legislators elect of the state of Rio de Janeiro held in Nictheroy on the 21st it was decided to support Governor Portella in his "squabble" with the minister of agriculture over the Sapacahy rathway extension. Rio de Janeiro and S. Paulo are now writually facing each other. Is there no Brazilian Helper to write on the "Inevitable Conflict?"

witable Connect?

—The recent warm days have developed some very pointed criticisms on the sanitary condition of Santos and the indifference of the municipal authorities. The grumblers, however, should be more patient; the intendents are now engaged in "developing industry" by the creation of joint-stock companes, and can not be expected to look after such things as drainage.

such things as drainage.

—On the 18th Gen. Barbosa wrote a sharp note to Governor Portella of Rio de Janeiro about his demanding state bonds as a deposit in guarantee of contracts, to the exclusion of government stock. Governor Portella has now two quarrels on hand: the Sapucally railway question with the department of agriculture and the bond deposit quarrel with the Treasury. Governor Portella must have Irish blood in his veins, to judge from his delight in a marrel.

-São Paulo is proposing to organize a con-ental exposition.

-The governor of Minas Geraes has entered into —The governor of Minas Geraes has entered into a contract with Walter Heilbut for the construction of a new capital city on the plateau near the present capital, Ouro Preto. The contract covers the erection of a number of public edifices together with all the public services of a large city. If the constitution is not soon adopted and a check placed on these provisional rulers, we shall soon have them signing contracts for making butter and cheese out of the Milky Way.

-It is charged that the government officials are guilty of gross misconduct at Jahú, São Paulo guilty of gross misconduct at Jahú, São Paulo, where there was a strong opposition party. The people were threatened with conscription if they roted against the government, and the opposition was not allowed to have a fiscal at the polls. Of the 114 votes known to have been cast for the "Centro" ticket (opposition) only 26 were counted, while of the 20 votes for the Catholic ticket not one was reported. Rigorous punishment should follow an abuse like this.

-We understand that the lazaretto at Curityba —We understand that the lazaretto at Cartiyha, Paraná, is a jewel. A local journal thus describes it: "The edifice is modest, but spacious, well built, it obeys hygienic rules, has five wards, good sanitary accommodations, a saloon for disinfection and a medical cabinet. It is situated in an appreciable position, surrounded by forests on every side, has excellent drinking water and the crial currents that predominate cross through it by dihedral angles." If a quarantined man is not content in such a Paradise, he had better go home again, where dihedral angles cross in parallel lines.

-On the 25th the shareholders of the Sapucah —On the 25th the shareholders of the Sapucahy railway divided among themselves the 150,000 new shares issued, outsiders being left there. The old shares, with 50$ paid up, have been replaced by fully paid shares. In all probability another loan will soon be applied for.

-A company is in process of organization with capital of 3,000,000$ to build the railway Tijuca. The concession was originally a part of the Northern and Rio railway privilege, and has been granted extensions of time upon many occasions. We hope it will now be built without unnecessary delay.

-The governor of Rio de Janeiro has granted 6 per cent, interest guarantee on 20,000$ metre to a maximum of 1,000,000$ per kilo-metre to a maximum of 1,000,000$ capital for a railway from the S. Domingos station on the Campos and Carangola line towards the Freicheiras mountains up to the limit of the S. Antonio de mountains up to tac Padua railway zone.

—In the Jornal do Commercio of the 28th the representative of the Minas and Rio railway company replied most forcibly to the minister agriculture's report to the Brazilian foreign office as to his reasons for cancelling the concessions granted the Minas and Rio company. Mr. Fean contraverts much that the minister asserts, and Sr. Giwerio's action certains contents, where Sr. Glycerio's action certainly appears to have been precipitate.

A second-class passenger took too much time over his coffee at the lower station and ran to catch the train, in movement; he caught on ran to catch the train, in movement; ne caught on the foot-board and succeeded in entering the car-riage, but the train had been brought to an imme-diate halt. The idiot, who risked his life, had merely to pay a fine of 20$. Next year he should send his 20$ to The Rio News and learn how to avoid such adventures.

-An interesting series of brake trials has —An interesting series of brake trials has been concluded on the Belgian state railways. A train of fifty goods waggons, fitted with the quick-acting Westinghouse brake, has been experimented with on the long and steep inclines on the Luxenberg line between Libramont and Jethal. the Luxentberg line between Libramont and Jemelle. The experiments were a great success in every respect, and this long train, with loaded and empty waggons, was taken down a bank some eighteen miles long with the greatest case. The train was under perfect control, and the speed was kept practically uniform. All present were unanimous in their praise of the improved Westinghouse brake, with which the handling of a train of fifty waggons is as easy as that of an express train of three carriages. The Belgian state rail-ways intend to put this train into regular service at once, and contemplate the fitting of a considerable quantity of goods waggons with the quick-acting Westinghouse brake. Various other trials were made, all equally successful; and, in the were made, all equally successful; and, in the quick stops, the train of fifty waggons was brought to rest within 300 yards, much less than the length of the train, from a speed of forty-one miles per hour, on a falling gradient of 1 in 62.—English —The gentleman who was reported to have come here from Montevideo to raise an Uruguayan loan, denies the report.

—The str. John Elder, which arrived on the 27th, brought £10,000 in gold from Liverpool and £50,000 from Lisbon.

—On the 25th the minister of agriculture secu a credit for 548,850$ for the Rio Grande do bar improvements.

—The "Ruricola Commercial" is a new São Paulo company, whose name suggests a country

—A new hat manufactory, capital 800,000$, is mounced under the style of "Nacional de Cha-

The "Estamparia e Ferragens" company, capital 5,000,000$, appears from its name destined to trade as ironmongers.

-A joint-stock harness and saddlery business is organizing under the title of the "Arreios e Sellaria" company; capital 1,000,000$.

-The "Nacional de Artefactos de Folha de Flandres" company, capital 1,200,000$, will go excensively into the tinman's business.

--The "Photographica Brazileira" company, capital 1,000,000$, will acquire photographic galleries and deal generally in goods belonging to the business.

-The "Luz Incandescente Welsbach no Brazil" company, capital 2,500,000$, is formed to work the patent granted the South American Welsbach Incandescent Light company in Brazil.

-The "Iniciadora de Melhoramentos" company capital 20,000,000$, will initiate 20 burgos agricolas for the establishment of which it has a concession. Railways will be incidentally contemplated.

—Minas Geraes is to have yet another bank; the "Banco Regional do Estado de Minas Geraes," with a capital of 15,000,000$. Land improvement and immigration are, of course, contemplated.

—A company is being organized in São Paulo under the title of "Lucros Reacs" [Real Profits], with a capital of 1,000,000$. How it can be done in these inflated times on so small a capital, we can not imagine.

—The "Commercio e Industria de Sirgueiro" company, capital 1,000,000$, is in process of organization. A sirgueiro used to be a man who dealt in miliary trappings, etc.—and some of them were money-lenders also.

—The well-known Garraux book store and printing establishment of São Paulo has been transformed into a joint-stock company under the designation of "Grande Empresa Editora da 'Casa Garraux;'" capital 500,000$.

—Sr. Conselheiro, Commendador, Colonel Francisco de Paula Mayrink left to take the waters of Caxambú on the 24th. In other countries this would mean a "raid," but there appears to be no bears in Rio; everybody is a bull.

Dears in Rio, everyoody is a waii.

—The "Empreza Industrial do Norte e Oeste do Brazil," capital 20,000,000$, proposes to "go in" for rubber extraction, etc., in the states of Para, Amazonas and Matto Grosso. We ask our readers to refer to our correspondence from Para.

The "Banco Mineiro," capital 20,000,000$, is more particularly destined to offer facilities to raisers and dealers in cattle, sheep, etc., but will also engage in such business for account of its shareholders. A meat business is also contemplated.

—A telegram published in the Gazeta de Noticias on the 22nd says that one of the gentlemen of the Argentine minister's train was coming to Rio to borrow money for Montevideo. The report was subsequently denied by the gentleman in question.

—At the meeting of the shareholders of the Commercio e Lavoura (coffee packing) company held on the 22nd, it was decided to accept the ofter of the Ensacadora company for purchasing their assets, and the appointment of a committee to liquidate their company was made.

—On the 22nd the first state loan mader quarants.

—On the 23rd the first state loan under guarantee of the general government, was settled. The contract calls upon Messrs. Louis Cohen & Sons, through their representatives, to advance 3,000,000$ to the state of Amazonas on the conditions prescribed by the August 10th decree.

—On the 23rd it was reported that all the banks of, issue—Ruy Barbosa patent—would be allowed to increase their issue of notes. We do not see what else could be done, once the Banco dos Esta dos Unidos and Banco Unido de S. Paulo were given this concession. It looks, however, as though General Ruy is going to have his own way about bank issues after all.

—The "Orphanologica de Flores Artificiaes" company, capital 500,000$, is formed to buy an already established business—the making of artificial flowers by orphans—and the prospectus states that if the company can supply only one-half of the quantity now imported the profits resulting will reach 50 per cent, dividends. If such dividends can be paid, why not reduce the prices?

—There is said to be an increasing determina-tion on the part of Rio importing firms to establish branches in S. Paulo and Santos. This policy seems to us well worthy of mature deliberation, for the S. Paulo people ars mtoxicated at present by prosperity, which depends on the one article, coffee. Rio, it appears to us, is likely to be the Brazilian commercial metropolis for many years, and the antics of the Paulistas will wear them out as so many other things have done in this wicked world. as so r world.

—On August 31st the Moniteur des Intérits Materielles says: "Enfin, on a appris avec satisfaction" que le ministre des finances, M. Barbosa, n'était pas démissionaire, non pas qu'on tienne en Europe à ce ministre, qui, au début, a pris quelques décisions à la légère e forcément contradictores, mais parce qu'on ne sait januais, à distance, ce que peut cacher un changement du personnel dirigeant d'un pays." Not altogether satisfactory, it must be confessed, to the bries of the General in charge of Brazilian finances.

of Brazilian finances.

—To the banks of issue on the basis of government stock it will be permitted to convert one-half of the issue conceded to them to the specie basis, in conformity with that of other banks; they can not, however, avail of this permission until they have exhausted the other issue. The Banco do Recile will be permitted to issue an additional 10,000,000$, which it will lend to the government of that state at 95½ per cent. type and 5 per cent. interest. —Gazeta de Noticuas, September 24th. Great is the financial savior of the Brazilian republic.

—A decree of the governor of Pernambuco dated on the 12th inst, reads as follows: Art. 1—The inspector of the state treasury is authorized to issue boulds (apolices) at par of an annual interest of six per cent., the issue to represent a sum equivalent to the amount of the floating debt. Art. 2—The payment (of this debt?) may be made directly in bonds, if the creditors agree to this. Art. 3—Contrary dispositions are revoked. A clearer case of forced loan could hardly be formulated; and the governor is evidently ignorant of what the floating debt amounts to.

—The "Perfumarias Haller" company, capital 200,000$, the Brazileira Commercio de Ceraes and the Cortumes pela Electricidade companies were all formally installed on the 25th.

—Telegrams published here on the 27th state that the directors of the London and Brazilian Bank, Limited, had declared an ad-interim divi-dend at the rate of 10 per cent. per annum.

—The R. M. str. Trent, which arrived on the 25th, brought \( \) 301,800 in gold from the River Plate. A good part will probably go at once to the Treasury to represent twice its value in paper

-The "Funeraria" company, capital 2,000,000$ proposes to bury people in Rio at much cheaper rates than have heretofore been current. It is pe-culiar; there is not a physician on the board of culiar; t

-The "Banco de Cobranças e Adiantamentos, capital 1,000,000$, is in process of organization.
Collections and advances are the principal objects of the bank, but other operations will not be neglected.

-The "Moinho Parangense" company, capital 500,000$, will establish a flour mill in the state of Paraná, for which purpose it enjoys exemption from all state taxes on raw material, machinery and

-On the 27th the "Andorinhas," spinning and weaving, company, capital 1,000,000$, the Nova Era Rural do Brazil, the Carvão Vegetal and the União Industrial de Fumos companies were formally organized.

— Barão de Jaceguay has resigned the presidency of the Hotel Internacional company. It is report-ed that the Novo Friburgo palace will not be turned into a hotel after all, but will become the residence of a high official of state.

—The "Industrial e Agricola de Theresopolis" company, capital 1,000,000$, will raise cattle and swine, manufacture butter, cheese, oils and tallow, and cultivate on an extensive scale alfofu, grapes and "delicious fruits" for the Rio market.

—With a capital of 30,000,000$ and the name of the "Nacional de Forjas e Estaleiros" company, it is proposed to organize in Rio an association to enter into competition with the "Forges et Chantiers de la Méditerranée" company of France.

—Decrees dated on the 26th inst. approve the contracts made with the Rio City Improvements Co., for the sewerage service of the Jardim Botanico, Andardhy Pequeno, Engenho Novo, Todos os Santos and Officinas districts, in the suburbs of the city.

On the 25th it transpired that the Jornal do Commercio had changed proprietors. The price was stated to be something over 4,000,000$, and although the names of the new proprietors are withheld, it is more than suspected that Sr. Mayrink is the organizer of the purchasing syndicate.

On the 25th a credit for 150,722$450 was opened to settle a claim for money appropriated, and slaves placed in the army, by the general in command of the revolutionary forces in Babia, when Brazil declared her independence. The claimants have had a decision from the courts in their favor since 1842.

—The minister of finance has granted to the Eveneas company 20 years exemption from import duties. Another company—the Saneamento—organized for a similar purpose enjoys the same privilege. The concession bears no date; an important omission, for the fact that it was granted affected the shares of the Evoneas, and leads to suspicion that those in the "ring" knew of it, before the rest of the world.

-According to the Jornal do Commercio of the 25th the following shows the capital to be employed in central sugar factories upon which the government has granted 6 per cent, interest per annum:

MARKET REPORT.

Rio de Janeiro, 29th September, 1890. Exports.

Coffee.—The past week was also quiet, and the purchases made are not supposed to have exceeded 20,000 bags. Receips have shown an important increase, but this is due to heavy receipts coast wise; the receips by rail continue about on the same average, and the reports of difficulty in about on the same average, and the reports of difficulty in securing labor up-country are again current. As the daily shipments have very nearly equalled the receipts, brokers have reported the market steady during the week and make no changes in quotations; the official quotations are, however, slightly lower slightly lower. Nothing further has transpired in the coffee planting and packing company line, save the purchase by the "Banscadera" of the plant, etc. of the "Conumercio e Lavoura," company, and the organization of the "Metropolitina," capital 5,000,000$, company. On the directory of this organization are the names of the protesting factors, who desire to also secure exemption from export duties; it is possible, therefore, that the new company is formed with the intention o also secure exemption from export duties; it is possible, nerefore, that the new company is formed with the intention of pressing this question.

Remeas.—Since our last advices has been almost constantly in active and general demand, causing our market to assume a most animated and strong position, in harmony with the simulating features, which, in consequence of greatly reduced stocks, prevail for the time being at the American and European consuming centres. Buyers meeting the market liberally, all arrivals were mmediately taken up by them, and frequently bespoken before the rubber had made its appearance, with the result that prices have advanced to $$ poo per kilo. for fine and $$ poo for coarse Islands rubber, while last seles of Up-river have been made at $$ 500 = 2.$ poo fine and coarse respectively. As there are no stocks available and arrivals have been small duting the past few days prices are well maintained. Just now, however, buyers seem to have satisfied their immediate wants, and may resume larger operations on less spirited lines.

satisfied their immediate wants, and may resume larger opera-tions on less spirited lines.
Extrices during the month of August amount to 1,100 tons, against 1,000 tons in the same month of 1889, 1,000 tons in 1888 and 1,100 tons in 1889. Great efforts are being made to marker rubber, and we estimate the arrivals during September at 1,250 tons, agamst 1,130 tons in 1889, 1,050 tons in 1883 and 1,210 tons in 1887.

1,210 tons in 1887.

An interesting census has been recently taken in the Puris river district, one of the most important regions for the extraction of rubber, which reveals a shocking result. Basing the estimate on the number of immigrants, chiefly from the neighbouring states who have gone to that district during recent years, it appears to have been considered that its population consisted of rather more than 4poxos souls. It has, however, been reported, on what is said to be reliable authority, that the number estimate production of the control of the
