RIO DE JANEIRO, DECEMBER 1St, 1890.

WE are glad to note that the Jornal do Commercio has obtained assurances that the recent concession for a railway to Tijuca over the carriage road now existing, will be reconsidered. The concession is so antagoover the carriage road now reconsidered. The concession is so antagonistic to the rights and convenience of the public, to whom this carriage road belongs, that there ought not to be the slightest hesitation in its reconsideration. And if this carriage road effective, we should is not at once made effective, we should like to see an embargo placed on the work, so that the question can be decided by the like to see an embargo placed on the work, so that the question can be decided by the courts whether a minister can turn over a public road to a private corporation. We know how desirable it is that a railway should be constructed to Tijuca, and we firmly believe that such a convenience would aid in the rapid development of that suburb and thus afford incalculable benefits to the people of this city. But, to secure all this, we are not prepared to accept the idea that the beautiful carriage road, built at so great an expense, which connects that suburb with the city, should be surrendered to a company for its private use and profit. It would be a serious loss to divert this road to any such use, for when Brazilians learn to better appreciate good horses, good roads and driving, this road up the mountain side to the "Floresta" and the charming Gavéa and Chinese View drives, will become one of the most popular sources of amusement in Rio de Janeiro. In view of the fact that a 60-centimetre railway following the curves and sharp angles of this carriage road, will afford only the slightest advantage over the diligence in the matter of speed there is afford only the slightest advantage over the diligence in the matter of speed, there is not even the excuse of public utility to warrant so gross a confiscation.

THE rapid reconstruction of the central The rapid reconstruction of the central district of the old city, under the impetus given by recent speculation, renders it more than urgent that some decided measure should be adopted for the supervision of buildings and the improvement of the streets. It would be better, of course, to have this left to the regular incorporation of the city and the definite organization of a regular municipal government, but as no to the steps have yet been taken toward that end state.

and as the work of reconstruction is going forward with feverish haste at the present moment it is essential that something should be done at once. To prove that such a necessity exists we have only to call attention to the new bank building now going up next to the new Exchange, which projects at least ten feet into the street beyond the line of the Exchange building. The width of the Rua 19 de Março up to this point and the large buildings facing on this point, and the large buildings facing on it, promised to make it one of the most atit, promised to make it one of the most attractive and imposing business streets in South America, but this projecting edifice at the corner of Rua de General Camara, where the street bends and is suddenly contracted, will completely and irremediably spoil it. The time will come, when wealth and good taste obtain control of municipal affairs, when the municipality will feel itself the control of the control affairs, when the municipality will feel itself obliged to buy this projecting piece of land and pay for a new front to the fine edifice now building, in order to widen the street and remove what everyone can not help condemning. In other places it is possible for the municipality to obtain important improvements in street lines by a timely combination with those who are pulling down old buildings for the purpose of erecting new and costly edifices. Then, too, there are several projects organized or under consideration for the widening and improvement of streets, all of which should be subject to some general plan, in which health, ventilation and beauty should all be considered. The one really sensible scheme considered. The one really sensible scheme is that of widening the Rua Sete de Setembro, which would unite three public parks and would admit of an extension not possi-ble to any other scheme. In all these, ble to any other scheme. In all these, however, it will be impossible to secure uniformity and good results without the creation of a board of public works composed of prominent and responsible citizens.

Ir it be true, as stated at the Empreza Industrial do Norte e Oeste assembly on the 27th ult., that the prospective profits of the Terras e Colonização company are 50,000,-Terras e Colonização company are 50,000,000$ on introducing and settling immigrants, 8,000,000$ on roads, and 50,000,000$ on the sale of lands, besides earning an interest guarantee of 6 per cent. on 30,000,000$ invested in economic railways, then it is quite time for the government to call a halt and reconsider the question whether it is good policy to place such profits in the hands of a company for doing what the state can easily do for itself. Frankly, we do not believe the statement, for the business is not quite so profitable as these specifies. do not believe the statement, for the business is not quite so profitable as these speculators would like to have the investing public believe. But, even on the supposition that the statement is not true, on what grounds is it possible to grant concessions which permit such calculations as these? I to ught to be the purpose of the state to sell its lands to actual settlers at the lowest possible figure, and it ought to be a fixed rule never to bermit a speculator to lowest possible figure, and it ought to be a fixed rule never to permit a speculator to act as an intermediary. The actual settler, the man whose labor is to open and develop the country, is entitled to every possible favor himself, and that too without one single item of expense for the services of unnecessary intermediaries. If the govsingle item of expense for the services of unnecessary intermediaries. If the government must make a propaganda in Europe and pay the passages of immigrants—both of which are, in our opinion, quite unnecessary—then let it be done through its consulates, both in the interests of economy and responsibility. As the case now stands, the state is getting much poor material at an enormous cost—the expenses of special agents, printing, lees, commissions and subsidies being very large in proportion to the small results actually obtained. It is a system so bad and so wasteful that we can not understand how any honest, business-like government could employ it for one single moment. It has already had a long and costly experience here in Brazil, and with no other result than failures in colonization and the enrichment of favored contractors. It is a system full to overflowing with intrigue, deception, dishonesty and injustice, while the nation has derived no more than an infinitessimal advantage from the outlay, and in compensation for the demoralization and discredit arising from it. If the country were properly opened, its lands definitely surveyed and placed upon demoralization and discredit arising from it. If the country were properly opened, its lands definitely surveyed and placed upon the market, and if its economic and social life were made more advantageous and beneficent to the poor people seeking homes in the new world, then immigration would soon flow in of its own accord, without cost to the tawayer and without feasible to the lawayer to the taxpayer and without discredit to the

REGARDING the attack on the Tribuna last Saturday evening, there is but one comment to make-it was a cowardly attempt to intimidate the press and to take satisfaction for a little plain criticism. We have not been able to agree with the Tribuna's policy in all respects, and we had even resolved to denounce its recent most unjustifiable attack on the good name of Argentine women, but as we believe most thoroughly in the liberty of the press we could moment, nor in not for one single single particular, justify this dastardly attack.

And we are glad to note that with but one noticeable exception the newspapers of this city are heartily in agreement in denouncing the outrage. That one exception — the Diario de Noticias, the organ of the minister of finance-we leave to defend its inconsistency as best it can. As for the motives and authors of this attack, nothing certain can be said. It is to be noted that there were no police anywhere near the locality, although the authorities were advised over four hours before that the office was threatened, and although a police station is not over three minutes walk from the place. It is also to be noted that one of the assailants of Gen. Franzini was recognized as a police employé, and that a military officer was seen at the corner near with a revolver in his hand. In our opinion, the authorities will have several very singular coincidences to explain before it can feel itself free from a suspicion of knowing more or less of the projected assault. As for the attack on Gen. Franzini, who happened to be in the Tribuna office, and who announced his name and nationality to the cutthroats before they cut open his head, the conclusion is even worse, Gen. Franzini happens to be a creditor of the government, and is known to be in disfavor in certain official circles. Why should his life be sought by an assassin who had been advised that he had nothing to do with the office at tacked? As was the case when Apulcho de Castro was assassinated because quarrel with some officers, there will be a pretence of investigation and then the whole affair will be hushed up.

From the Jornal do Commercio November 20th THE MISSIONES TREATY.

The Diario Oficial to-day will publish the new The Diario Oficial to-diay will publish the news that "at the reunion yesterday celebrated by the members of the provisional government, under the presidency of the Sr. General-in-chief, it was de-cided that, after voting the Constitution and the election of the constitutional President, the Mis-election of the constitutional President, the Missiones treaty will be submitted to the Constituent Congress."

As the Constituent Congress is incompetent to examine this question and de facto is dissolved immediately after the election of the President, we consider it imprudent and irregular that it should occupy itself with a question foreign to its special mandate. It would be more judicious for the President to call, immediately after his election, a special session of Congress, under Art. 47, § 10, of the project of the Constitution.

We much approve of the resolution taken by the government to submit this treaty without delay to the approval of the legislative power. In our opinion, it would be better that this convention should be discussed at the first regular congress.

to the approvacy or companion, it would be better that this convention should be discussed at the first regular congressional session; but it is not surprising that the government is anxious to face the discussion in a proper manner, when the question is becoming discussed so improperly, with such want of judgment, and by persons who do not even seriously considerable that treats, which they, in limine, conand by persons who do not even seriously consider the terms of the treaty, which they, in limine, con

From the Jornal do Commercio November 30 ATTACK UPON THE "TRIBUNA."

ATTACK UPON THE "TRIBUNA."

During yesterday Sr. Antonio de Medeiros, editor of the journal A Tribuna, was advised that an attack on his printing office in the Rua Novo do Ouvidor was being organized.

Influenced by the apprehensions inspired by this information, he applied, by letter, to the chief of the provisional government asking for precautions, This request, we are informed, was delivered at the Itamaraty palace shortly after 40 clock p. m.

At night-fall rumors circulated among various groups scattered along the Rua do Ouvidor that the Tribuna would be attacked; in this street, at the corner of the Travessa do Ouvidor, there appeared about 8 p. m. an unusual crowd of people, whose purposes appeared to be doubtful.

In fact, shortly after half-past eight, a crowd of over 20 persons, armed with bludgeons, penetrated to the interior of the printing office with yells of: Kill' and Smash'. A part of the crowd went into the ground floor, where the office of the paper is established, destroying the counter, cupboards, shelving and other objects they found at hand; the employes of this section fortunately escaped from the clubs which were wielded without aim.

Another part of the crowd, and this the more numerous, mounted to the first floor, where are established the editorial rooms in front, and the proof-readers in the rear. In the editorial rooms, among others of the staff present, was Sr. Antonio de Medeiros, who, hearing the noise made upon the stairway, understood his danger and, warning his companions, ran to the proof-readers, crying to them to save themselves in the best possible manner.

list companions, ran to the proof-readers, crying to them to save themselves in the best possible manner.

The proof-readers prepared for defense and flight; one of them, José Romariz by name, fortunately thought of turning off the gas. The assailants penetrating the editorial rooms committed the greatest of destruction, breaking the gas fixtures, tables, chairs, shelving with books, journals, etc.

The persons in the editorial rooms were then very lew, and escaped from the blows aimed at them. Gen. M. M. Franzini was not so lucky; the had gone up to the editorial rooms were then very lew, and escaped from the blows aimed at them. Gen. M. M. Franzini was not so lucky; the had gone up to the editorial rooms shortly before the attack to obtain permission to reproduce an article of his published in the Gazeta da Tarda, and found himself in the midst of the assailants, one of whom, probably taking him for one of the editors of the journal, gave him an enormous razor cut on the head, on the left side, near the throot.

While this was occurring in the editorial rooms, in that of the proof-readers the same facts were occurring. The division of the assailants which had gone there did great damage, destroying the malerial which was found.

Romariz, the proof-reader who had turned off the gas, received from one of the assailants a blow on the head that prostrated him, bathed in blood. The others escaped. Whether any of them were wounded is not known.

On the second floor was the printing office, which received no damage. The printers, seeing what was occurring on the first floor, turned off the gas in their rooms and prepared for defense.

what was occurring on the first hoor, turned off the gas in their rooms and prepared for defense. There was for some moments an exchange of revolver shots between the printers on the upper and the assailants on the lower floor, until the latter, satisfied with their destructive work, decided not tog brigher up.

Then it was that the subdelegate of the parish, Sr. Heredia de Sá, accompanied by his clerk, by the commander and policemen from the station, directed himself to the place statesked, and there took cognizance of the fact, examining Sr. Antonio de Mederios and other employés. Shortly after, in initiation of the gendarmes in Les Brigands, there arrived a police cavalry force, breathing fire and tary, trampling upon men and ladies who were passing along the Rua do Ouvidor, with risk to their lives.

At o o'clock, a little more or less, there appeared at the Tribinard Dr. Campos Salles, minister of justice, and Dr. Agostinho Vidal, chief of police, pro tem, accompanied by their aidse Lieut. Pereira and Ensign Abrea. The minister, exceedingly annoyed and sincerely regetting the occurrence, went through the building, examined the damages, which were considerable, and upon leaving strongly recommended to the chief of police, pro tem, that he should proceed to a rigorous investigation as to the attack, and minutely examine all the employes of the journal to discover if any lot the assalants had been recognized by them.

Through the damage done to the fixtures, the bailding was filled by gas, and the closing of the meter was necessary to prevent an explosion. The chief of police, after examining the ruins, ordered that the building be guarded by sentries, and proceeding to his department commenced the myestigation of this sad occurrence.

The two wounded, Romariz, the proof-reader, and Gen. Franzini, were taken to a clemist's in the uncessity and commenced.

The two wounded, Romariz, the proof-reader and Gen. Franzini, were taken to a chemist's in the Rua doo Ourives, where they received professions services from Dr. Carlos Gross. The condition on both, principally that of Romariz, appears to in spire serious appreheasions.

It is said that there was not found, in the rapid xamination made after the occurrence, the money that was in the office, amounting to 2,000$, more or

Gen. Vasques, commandant of the police regiment; Dr. Lourenço Rangel, fourth police delegate; Dr. Luiz Quadros, police surgeon on duty, and various authorities were present at the Tri-tima building. By order of the chief of police the doors of the assaulted house were sealed.

This faithful narrative of the lamentable and shameful attack dispenses us from any commentary.

Our colleague omitted one or two principal

Our colleague omitted one or two principal points:—

The Tribuna's offices are within a step of the Rna do Ouvidor, the Broadway and Regent street of Rio. They are in full view of the offices of the Graeth de Noticius and Cidade do Rtio. They are within a stone's throw, almost, of a police station. There was a noticeable absence of policemen on the Rua do Onvidor just before the disgraceful attack, and there can be very slight reasons to doubt that, whether the minister of justice was cognizant of the assault before the attack or not, some of his subordinates were. In not a few particulars the affair recalls the murder of Apulcho de Castro some years ago.

Vesterday some of Mr. John Whyte's friends presented him with a handsome gold time-piece, on which occasion one of their number said:

"On the eve of your preparations of departure a tew of your friends, some present, others absent, have come together to offer you their best wishes for your prosperity and happiness in the land of your birth, where, after an absence of many years, your bitth, where, after an absence of many years, you are now going to enjoy the fruits of your labor and perseverance. I believe I can say, without hesitation, that during the time of your having been identified with this charming place, you have acquired the friendship and high esteem of all who knew you, and every one' of them will sadly miss your kind, familiar face in years to come.

In wishing you success and happiness in your future life, allow us to present to you a slight token of our friendship and high esteem."

—The list of candidates for the Minas Geraes state assembly are being published in the Rio press, What in the world have dwellers in Rio to do with electing Minas provincial legislators?

-The governor of Minas Geraes summoned up courage enough recently to refuse granting a 5 pe cent, guarantee on 50,000,000$ for the creation o a "central" iron foundry in that state.

—The constitution of Ceará provides that a pres-dent, not a governor, is to rule the state and the egislature will consist of senators elected for nine ears (!) and deputies elected for three.

—At a place called Tijucas, Santa Catharina, the arish priest seduced a girl of respectable family, and his parishioners, instead of breaking his bones, nerely gave him 24 hours to leave—and leave he follows:

—The Pharel of Juiz de Fóra hears that the state capital of Minas Geraes will be moved to Sabará or Barbacena provisionally until the new city can be built, "Whom the gods would destroy, they first make mad."

—Thirteen involuntary boarders in the jail at Pomba, Minas Geraes, aided by the soldier on guard, broke out on the morning of the 20th ult. and made good their escape. The unfaithful soldier went with them.

-Decrees dated on the 28th ulto, created na-tional guard battalions in the capitals of Ceará and Maranhão, and in the municipality of Aquiraz, Ceará, and also a battalion of national guard artillery in Nictheroy, Rio de Janeiro.

—Trouble appears to have arisen between the president and his colleagues of the Porto Alegre metadencia, and all because the former applied to the governor of the state for a credit of 40,000$ without consulting the latter. Perhaps the president had a particular design for spending the cash.

—The naturalized German workingmen of São Paulo have addressed a memorial to the member-of Congress from that state asking that the consti-tution be so amended that all elections shall be held on Sunday, or on a strict holiday. The canny Ger-mans do not wish to lose a day's salary for the fun of voting.

—The good people of Amazonas have sent a pe-tition down to the minister of the interior asking that the governor appointed for that state shall be a native of the same. They forget that the most recent interpretation of the idea of federalism leaves all such matters wholly in the hands of the central government.

—The people of Bahia have so unceasingly called upon St. Swithin, that the holy man appears to have lost his temper and opened his flood-gates to such an extent that the rivers are overflowing and people are moving to less moist positions. It offen happens that indiscreet applications lead to disaster. Even a saint's patience has a limit.

—Mail advices from Rio Grande do Sul state that when the news was received at Porto Alegre that Sr. Gaspar da Silvein Martins had been parloned, two leaders of the opposition party made addresses to the people in which the provisional government was sharply attacked. The crowd sided with the government, and the speakers were "coughed down."

—On the 24th ult, the minister of agriculture asked the Treasury officials if they were inclined to stand oue-half of 45,000s, per annum that a citizen has asked for to establish a "course of technical instruction modelled upon the standard of the sciool of high commercial studies and economic section of the Academy of Political Sciences in Pais."

Of one thing Antonio may be thankful,—that the amputation was not performed in the Misericordia, in Rio de Janeiro.

They caused him to miss his train there, then compelled him to drunk, and then robbed him of 1,980₹. He aided to find a police authority at the time, but when he went there subsequently he was warned to eave the place and was threatened with violence by the men who robbed him. There is some slight suspicion that Nunes was a victim of his own verdancy.

—The town of Itatiba, S. Paulo, was the scene of an attempted robbery and murder on the morning of the 15th ult., which ought to put an end for a time to all this sentimental twishle about treating criminals with leniency. At half past two o'clock a merchant named Pereira, who has the reputation of being rich, was attacked by one or more persons who nearly killed his wife and grandchild, as well as himself. Two sons sleeping in an upper room were awakened by the struggle, and on hastening down the elder was shot, being wounded so severely that he will probably die. The younger son escaped and alarmed the authorities. No clue to the assassins has been found. A little hanging is becoming very necessary in Brazil.

—A very simular accident occurred at Sitio a.

A very singular accident occurred at Sitio, a station on the Dom Pedro II railway, Minas Geraes, on the 23rd ult. An unknown colored man entered a store in a state of extreme intoxication, and remained there until the doors were closed for the night. He was then turned out and went to a shed (omcho) near by, where he sat down near a fire which some one had left. About 11 o'clock cres and groans were heard from the nancho, and when some neighbors went to see what the trouble was they found the poor fellow with his clothes all burned off and suffering intense agonies from burns on various parts of his body. Death resulted at 4 o'clock the following morning, and then the neighbors sat down to wat for the police authority, which did not put in an appearance for some twenty-lour hours after the poor man's death.

RAILROAD Notes

-An unknown white man was killed on the Mogyana line near Anhumas on the evening of the 25th ult.

-A concession with a 6% guarantee has been granted for the construction of a railway from Petrolina to the sea-coast, in the state of Piauhy.

—The report that the government has been put-ting embarrassments in the way of the sale of the São Paulo railway to the Paulista company, has been formally denied.

-The new branch of the Jardim Botanico tramway line, which passes through Ruas Olinda and Bambina, is now ready for traffic. The trams will run to the Largo dos Leões.

—The contractors for the construction of the Bagé to Cacequy branch of the Porto Alegre and Uruguayana railway, Rio Grande do Sul, are to receive 102,701$943 for the work done in August.

—A decree dated on the 22nd ult, grants a monopoly for 80 years and an interest guarantee, 6 per cent. on 30,000$ per kilometre for 30 years, to a citizen for a railway from Caruarú, Pernambuco, to Crato, Ceará.

On the Cato, Ceara:

On the 26th ult. the Joinal do Commercio publishes the division of labor established among the directors of the Geral railway company. There are nine directors—and we presume their slaries can not be very much over 100,000$ per annum.

—The transay lines recently purchased from the Santos Improvements Co. by the Banco de Melhoramentos for 1,200,0005, have recently been sold to the Companiha de Transportes for 1,500,0005. There is a pretty strong show of inflation in these prices.

—It is announced that the first debenture emission of the "Compagnie des Chémins Sudest Brésilienne" in Paris and Brussels on the 22nd ult. Was a success. The issue was 50,000 debentures representing 25,000,000 francs. The surveys of the line began at Santa Maria da Boca do Monte Rio Grande do Sul, on the 13th ult. da Boca do Monte. The report of the grand commission organized to study the projected interstate railway system is published in the Diario Official of the 26th ult. We presume it was organized by experts; it reads as if the commission had taken a very doubtful map and run lines of communication all over it! We have not seen the map organized, the only possible explanation of the commission's exposition, so can form no safe idea of what it really proposes to do. One thing is evident: the money spent on the commission was very badly employed.

The operation of that extraordinarily-compent on the commission was very badly employed.

—The operation of that extraordinarily-conceived railway, the Paulo Aflonso, does not seem to afford any very hopeful result. A credit of 36, o188600 is required to pay running expenses to the end of the year. In 1880 the receipts were 42,2888429, while the running expenses amounted to 137,2258248. leaving a deficit of 94,9378410. In 1888 the deficit was $8,976$220. The road is 116 kilometres long and connects the wilderness above the Paulo Affonso falls with an almost deserted region below. In our opinion the government should sell the road to the Companhia Geral, whose book-keeper will very soon work up a dividend.

 On the 22nd a third concession was granted for the creation of stock farms, central slaughterhouses, and accessory establishments for the production of jerked beef, lard, tallow, preserved meats, bacon, ham, butter, cheese, etc., to which a monopoly is attached, and exemption from import and export duties for a period of ten years. The concession in question is given to José Hyppolito Salgado de Menezes for five central lactories (saladerosi) in the state of Piauhy. The other two concessions are for four saladeros in the state of Maranhão, and for four each in the states of São Paulo, Paraná and Santa Catharina.

There ought to be no hesitation whatever in permitting the execution of this project, for the city of Rio de Janeiro has suffered these shameless violations of decency and morality quite long enough.
- —According to private reports the health of the ex-Emperor is excellent, and he converses upon questions relating to Brazil without bitterness or excitement. In that respect he is more fortunate than those who expelled him, for they cannot refer to the monarchy without bitter and unrelenting criticism. He will receive many compliments to morrow on the anniversary of his birth.
- —We trust that the organizers of that Portuguese batalhão patruotica, which was to drive the British out of Africa, are now content. After getting a free passage home, all but 20 of the volunteers refused to go to Africa. The editors of the Diario do Commercio, Culade do Rio, and Mescantif can now reflect upon the contrariness of things in general and the futility of interested patriotism in particular. particular.

 —A most amusing confession is made by the minister of the interior in his report to Gen. Deodoro, extracts of which have been published in the Jonal do Commercio. The minister says that extended privileges were to be granted states and municipalities, but as these did not know how to use them, the government took charge again. Brazil-we mean the United States of South America—is a federation, of which the Rio government is to be the properties of the state ent is the keystone.

He removed Admiral Castodio José de Mello from command of the division of ironclads, and the latter has asked permission to appeal to General Decodore against this action. To this Admiral Wandenkolk replies that no such permission will be granted, as the direction of the navy is wholly in his own hands.  —We were advised on Saturday, by a gentleman who had just visited the place, that the state of things at the immigrants' station on Ilha das Flores is something indescribable. Filth, vermin, sickness—it is enough to make one doubt the testimony of his own senses. It was a mistake to land these people on such an island; they ought to be landed where there is an abundance of water and ample space, and then a thorough cleansing of person and clothing should be insisted upon the very first thing. When hot weather comes, yellowjack will be sure to visit Ilhas das Flores.

 —Among the passengers for England by the Clyde to-day is Prof. James E. Hewitt, who goes home on a short visit for the benefit of his health. Prof. Hewitt has been a resident of this city 17 years, and during that period has been continuously employed in teaching; it may be said, therefore, that he has more than carned a good, long and profitable vacation. As a personal friend and as our predecessor on this paper, when it was known as The British and American Mail, Prof. Hewitt takes with him our hest wishes for a pleasant vacation and the fullest recovery of his broken health.

 —According to the Buenos Aires correspondent of the Jonal do Commercia, the Argentine consul here, Dr. Berdier, recently telegraphed that the sanitary condition in Rio is metindrow. The consul now denies the accuracy of the dispatch, saying that he only telegraphed that there had been a "notable change," because the deaths from fever had increased from a in October to 8 in the first laif of November. The defense will not do. In our opinion, Dr. Berdier's misleading telegrams have been the cause of very much of the quarantine restrictions which commerce has suffered up to the present time.

- present time.

 —There are several very curious coincidences connected with the attack on the Tribuna offices on Saturday evening. Dr. Sampaio Ferrax left the post of chief of police that very morning. A certain colonel stood at the Ouvidor corner while the attack was being made and prevented anyone going to the scene of disturbance. There was not a policeman in the street, nor near it in the Ouvidor, nor did the police calls bring one until the trouble was all over. The authorities had been advised of the impending attack, and it was known in the street an hoar or so before it occurred, and yet no force appeared until the assailants had got safely away. Perhaps the police authorities can explain these very suspicious coincidences!

- —It is said that Silveira Martins will not return to Brazil to live, but will settle in Montevideo. The prospect of a military republic is apparently not allogether to his taste.
- A decree, dated on the 22nd ulto., revoked the decrees of December 23rd, 1889, and March 29th, 1890, that sought to muzzle the press. With a free press, the "deplored banished" ones authorized to return, etc., it looks as if a republic were really invariant.
- —There is a proverb in English "that from the mouths of children and truth issues." On the 27th O Paix, in its funny column, says counterfeiter defended himself by pleading that he was not a minister of finance, and could not decree the issue of money!
- —A medical commission, under the charge of Dr. Domingos Freire, has been appointed to go to Berlin to stady Dr. Koch's new discovery in the treatment of pulmonary consumption. The idea is a good one, but it will be prejudiced by the se-lection of so unscientific a man as Freire.
- —We once entertained the belief that when Congress had assembled the provisional government would have sufficient sense of propriety to suspend legislating by decree, granting valuable concession and pledging the credit and revenues of the state for special purposes not authorized by statute law, but we are mistaken. The provisional mill is stil grinding out the usual grists.

 —The government announced yesterday through the Diario Official that the Missiones boundary treaty will be considered by the Constituent Assembly after the adoption of the constitution and the election of the President. It is very singular that questions of this character should be considered by a constituent organization, especially as the matter could be settled by an extraordinary session of Congress, if there is so great an urgency.
- of Congress, if there is so great an urgency.

 —Notwithstanding the Ferreira Vianna movement some two years ago, in which money and other donations were procured for the creation of cheap lodging-houses, the city is still full of the lowest and filthiest places of this character. A number of them were raided by the police on the night of the 26th ult. with the result of finding them crowded with from 40 to 100 poor wretches herding together like hogs. The proprietors were fined, of course, but this does not provide for the poor people who can not afford to pay for better lodging. What became of the contributions to the Ferreira Vianna institutions?

 —Apparently it is the uniform which makes all the difference! When Deputy Amphilophio announced that he had voted against the complimentary resolution to Saldnaha Marinho—which he had a perfect right to do, and which every aggressive Roman Catholic would surely feel disposed to do—he at once became a target for all the gibes and abuse that a certain class of pennya-liners could invent. More recently, however, Admiral Deputy Custodio de Mello announces that he also voted against the same resolution! The press, as may be inferred, has nothing to say, the officer being permitted to do unquestioned what the civilian is abused for doing!

 —The captain of the port is continuing to arrest

 —The captain of the port is continuing to arrest employés of the Empreza Gary for throwing garbage into the bay at Ilha Sapucaia. We are informed that the garbage is so heaped up on the shores of that island that a heavy sea could not fail to wash away great quantities of it. In this connection we would like to invite the attention of this shores of that standard markets of it. In this connection we would like to invite the attention of this realous official to a still greater abuse, that of emptying the slops from the restaurants about the market into the bay at the Case das Marinhas landing steps. The stench is at times almost in-supportable, and the refuse dumped into the water there will eventually fill up the place and may sometime lead to an epidemic of fever.
- sometime lead to an epidemic of fever.

 —Some days ago the Diario de Noticias brought out its little joke about Gen. Franzimi's threadhare overcoat, a joke which sounds very queer in the columns of a paper representing the man who was Gen. Franzimi's advocate. Gen. Franzimi's reply was published in the Gazeta la Tarde of the 28th, and it was the republication of the same in the Tribuna that brought him into contact with the assailants of that office on the 29th. In view of the refusal of the government to settle this claim and this attempt on the claimant's life, 1s it not time for the Italian minister to take some cognizance of the case? Is he so indifferent to the interests of his own countrymen that he can see them defrauded and assassinated without a word?

AN INEXPLICABLE STRIKE.

AN INEXPLICABLE STRIKE.

The population of the city were very much supprised this morning to find that the cartmen weer all out on a strike. A few were in the street as usual at an early hour, but the strikers soon sent them home, and for the rest of the day the streets were entirely empty of almost every species of vehicle. With but few exceptions the strikers were orderly and good natired, but an illadvised attempt to stop the trams and to tear up the Carris Urhanos tram lines in the coffee district to stop the transportation of coffee, brought them into discretif. A strong police force has been on duty during the day, and the patrols have been increased. All deliveries of coffee were stopped, as also was the delivery of merchandise at the custom-house.

The real cause of the strike is difficult to determine. It was at first reported to be on account of wages; then it was said to be due to a new municipal ordinance imposing heavy penalties for accidents and injuries to others; and then, lastly, that it was on account of the liabilities and penalties imposed by Art. 398 of the new criminal code, which the carimen apparently believed to enter into operation to-day. Some time after middly the interpendentes issued an edital stating that no ordinance had been meditated or passed by them in relation to cartmen. And now, upon referring to the new criminal code, we do not find any special allusion to them, it merely providing a penalty for injuries caused others by carelessness, or other fault. It looks very much as though the cartmen had been deceived.

THE CABINET CRISIS.

THE CIBINET CRISIS.

By delaying this page until a later hour we are able to give the following items of information in respect to the ministerial crisis. We are credibly informed that the difficulty is due wholly to the antagonistic views of the military and civilian elements of the government in respect to the assault on the office of the Tribuna. This assault was organized and executed by officers, some of them high in the confidence of the executive and one of them at least a party in the Apulcho de Castro affair, who were aided by men from one of the battalions of the garrison. To their great credit, the ministers were highly indignant over the outrage and at an informal meeting on Sunday resolved to resign in case the offenders were not promptly punished. As the names of the criminals are known to the authorities and in the newspaper offices of this city, this ought not to be difficult. This resolution and the resignation of the cabinet were presented to General Deoloro late yesterday, and a cabinet meeting was called for this afternoon to discuss the situation. The result, as we anticipated, which may be seen in the following declaration, to appear in the Diario Official to-morrow, leaves everything unsettled and amounts in reality to a triumph for military aggression and indiscipline:

"The cabinet met yesterday in special session

"The cabinet met yesterday in special session under the presidency of the General-in-chief of the provisional government. With full agreement as to views and perfect uniformity of sentiment, there were discussed and examined the occurrences which are known to the public. After the adoption of measures that appear pertinent and imperative, the government affirms that public order will be guaranteed, as well as that all liberty within the law will be secured."

Financial Notes

- —If all the so-called national industries are to have exemptions from import and export duties, where is the future revenue to come from?
- —A promoting company, to be called "Iniciadora Paulista," capital 200,000$ which can be increased to 1,000,000$, has been organized in São Paulo.
- —On the 25th ult. the Correio do Povo mentions a rumor that the privilege of issuing another 200,000,000$ in paper would be granted to various banks here, but furnishes no particulars.
- —On the 14th ult the government granted years free entry for his machinery, farm utensilete, to a citizen who proposes to establish whe cultivation and flour mills in Rio Grande do Sul.

- --A company has been organized in Campinas, São Paulo, to be called "Commercial dos Vare-gistas e Consumidores," for furnishing supplies to agriculturists on a commission of 10 per cent. The capital is only 3,000,000$.
- On the 26th ult. the Novildades says that the incorporator of the Banco Administrativo Nacional do Brazil was to leave shortly for Spain. Perhaps the gentleman will solicit subscriptions for his bank at home, as he is a Spaniard, we believe?
- —We sincerely trust that the incorporators of companies still believe everyone in Rio is an idiot. The provisions made for expenses of corporation, salaries for directors and auditors in the approved statutes of some of these mushrooms, would make a London promoter's heart glad.
- a London promoter's neart grau.

 —A decree dated on the 22nd ult. authorizes the formation of a joint-stock company, capital 500,000$, under the name of the "Propagadora dos Vinhos e Generos Italianos." The objects of this company appear to be to increase the consumption of Italian wines, maccaroni, etc., in Brazil.
- of Italian wines, maccaroni, etc., in Brazil.

 —According to the Cerrico do Pewe of the 27th ult. a number of merchants have suggested that wharfage and storage at the custom-house shall also be collected in gold to save trouble. We do not doubt our colleague's assertion, but wish he would publish a list of the merchants who suggest paying in gold what may be paid in paper.

 —It is suggested that General Senator Minister. Barbosa's recent attack of rheumatism was due to an attempt to sit in that draught which took away C₁300,000 of our gold. It was a very chilly task, however, and inflammatory symptoms were quickly developed. The best way to stop a draught of that character is to keep the Treasury door closed.

—A credit for ∠6,650 has been opened in London for the purchase of cement for the Quixada reservoir.

—On the 22nd ult, a monopoly for 20 years was granted a citizen to "explore matte" on government lands in Parana.

—The Caixa da Amortização has been authorized to deliver 957,000$ more in bank notes to the Banco União de São Paulo.

—The minister of the interior has appropriated 27,490$189 for improving the water supply to the grounds of the S. Christovão palace.

—Matte is now attracting the attention of company organizers. It is reported that another to, ooo, ooo$ capital affair is "on the carpet," of which Sr. Schastiao Pinho is the engineer.

—The governor of Rio de Janeiro denies in the Gaseta de Neticias of the 29th ult, that he contemplates negotiating a loan in this city. The governor says there is no necessity for such a measure.

—A decree dated on the 22nd ult. approves the statutes of the Public Employés Cooperative Society, capital 1,000,000$. Four sections are provided for, viz: commercial, banking, savings and assistance.

—A decree published to-day and dated Nov. 14th [1] grants a banking concession to the "Banco de Credito Popular do Brazil," capital 20,000,000$, with the right to issue to that amount against a deposit of bonds.

—While discounts are at and above 7 per cent, and the banks are paying that rate for money, how does the minister of finance expect to sell enough 4 per cents to pay for the 5 per cents not offered for conversion?

—A telegram from Rio Grande on Saturday reports the customs receipts at that port last month as 618,6588706, or 447,1148098 more than in the same month of 1889. The increase is due to the change to gold duties on the 15th.

change to gold duties on the 15th.

—The Caixa da Amortização was open on Sunday, the 30th ull., to receive applications from holders of 5 per cent. apolices who desired to secure the advantages offered by the Treasury, to which we have referred, in converting their stock into the new 4 per cent. gold bonds.

—A decree dated on the 21st ult. authorized the organization of a company, capital 150,000$, under the name of the "Cooperativa Operaria de Consumo de Peixe." The object seems to be the cooperation of fishermen and dealers to supply an abundance of fish to this market.

—A teleram dated $8. Paulo on the 20th ull.

—A telegram dated S. Paulo on the 29th ult., and published in the Gazeta de Noticius, states that the governor had extended the monopoly of the Cantareira company to 90 years, and that the company had abandoned the loan for 1,500,000 % to be made to it under the decree of June 5th, 1889.

—It would almost appear that the Banco União de S. Panlo saves up a little money, buys apolices, deposits them and issues against the deposit. The orders of the Treasury to deliver 500,000$ or 600,000$ to the bank are frequent. The directors are wise; but the Treasury should make the bank complete its capital, or abandon the right of issue.

—Surely the names of the companies organized are approaching the ridiculous. A decree dated on the 28th approves the statutes of the "Gordorifica Industrial e Mercantil" company, capital 1,000,000$, the purposes of which are: the preparation of lard, hams, etc., to deal in timber and other Rio Grande do Sul produce.

Grande do Sul produce.

—Will not some one of our local colleagues work out a problem submitted to us? It is this: How much per annum do the various prominent company organizers draw as salaries, from directorships and fiscal commissions? We heard an estimate that one prominent three-fold bank president had an income of nearly 100,000$ from his stipendiary positions, but this seems exaggerated.

tions, but this seems exaggerated.

—At the meeting of the shareholders of the Obras Publicas no Brazil on the 27th it was decided to increase the capital to 20,000,000$. The proposition of the directory, which was accepted, was to divide the 23,000 fully paid shares into 46,000 with 100$ paid up, to call up 30 per cent, more on the 27,000 shares upon which 40$ is paid and permit the shareholders to subscribe for the 27,000 remaining shares upon which 50 per cent, will also be called. There will be four technical directors in charge of special departments, and the inevitable provision for making debenture loans is included.

It does not seem to have been a very good fortnight for companies.

—The minister of finance has declined to permit the Conservas Alimenticias company to import their machinery, etc., free of duty. This company will can fruit, meats, etc.

—The extreme haste with which every decree emanating from the Treasury is drawn up, has obliged the minister of finance to categorically declare that capital and interest of the 4 per cent. bonds—Ruy Barbosa patent—will be paid in gol-4. If Gen. Barbosa would expend less time on his preambles, and more on his decrees, this would not occur.

—At the meeting of the shareholders of the Empreza Industrial do Norte e Oeste do Brazil on the 27th ult. it was decided to absorb the Terras e Colonisação company. The president of the Norte e Oeste company stated that the contracts of the Terras company promised the following profits: 50,000,000 for localizing immigrants, $,000,000 from roads, about 50,000,000 from the sale of lands, beyond an interest guarantee of 6 per cent, on a capital of 30,000,000$ to be employed in economic railways. In view of this statement a bonus to the shareholders was approved. And it ought to be a big bonus too!

With the exception of Flour, which has been quiet, the markets are reported to have shown a fair movement. The only receipts of Flour are the cargo per Frances, arrived on Saturday, but brokers reduce quotations, of American principally, sharply, while reporting the market firm. A considerable shipment of White pine has arrived, which has been sold on terms that do not transpire; for this quality the market is steady, and for Pitch tife firm. There is nothing new in Swedish, nor in Spunce pine. Kerosene is unchanged and steady. Laud is a little higher and reported steady at the advance. Rosin is about unchanged for the lower marks, but there has been more demand for the higher letters. Receipts of Indian Corn are free again, but quotations show very slight changes. Rice conhuses firm at the slight advance of our last. Dealers still express satisfaction with the Codishs market: the demand is fair and the lower malks of the short of the share been cleared off. The only receipts are some 1,500 cases of Norwegian fish.
