RIO DE JANEIRO, MARCH 17th, 1891.

THE people of Brazil ought to feel profoundly grateful to the editor of the Jo do Commercio for the disclosures published in that paper on the 12th instant in regard to the enormous land grants made Minister Francisco Glycerio during the past year, and they ought to at once supplement that important work by the immediate prosecution of the men who are responsible for them. It is idle to urge that the provisional government is not responsible because it was a dictatorship; it might do many things on that warrant, but certainly not the wholesale confiscation of the public domain, nor the wholesale dissipation of the national revenue in jobberies such as immigration contracts, banking privileges and guaranteed private enterprises. However deeply we may regret it, and however much we might wish to conceal the facts, it can not be gainsaid that this first year of socalled republican rule has been the most corrupt and inefficient that this country has ever known. It has been no less oppressive than its monarchical predecessors, while it has been much more costly, much less scrupulous, and far more corrupt. Some weeks ago (Dec. 19th) the Jornal published a list of railway grants by this same government, aggregating over 20,000 kilometres with an aggregate guaranteed capital (30,000$ per kilometre) of 600,000,000$ and a nominal interest charge of 30,000,000$ are. That in itself was enough to unsettle all confidence in such a government, and should at once have led to a strict investigation. It was known at the same time that many extravagant grants of public than its monarchical predecessors, while it and should at once have led to a strict investigation. It was known at the same time that many extravagant grants of public lands had been made, and that many burdensome contracts with immigrant speculators had been signed, but we doubt that the real truth was even suspected. According to the figures collected by the Jornal no less than 210 land grants have been made which cover an area of 30,691,000 hectares, or 76,727,500 acres, or 119,887 square miles—an area nearly equal to that of Great Britain and Ireland (121,115 sq. m.), considerably more than half of either France or the German Empire, larger than Italy (110,665 sq. m.), and more than three times the size of Portugal. To give away such a part of the national territory to friends and speculators is a crime which no self-respecting people can ever excuse. If now we add to this the 330 immigration contracts which the minister celebrated, which involves the introduction of no less then 1,415,750 families, say cerebrated, which involves the introduction of no less then 1,415,750 families, say 7,078,750 individuals, we have a climax of administrative jobbery and recklessness for which it will be very difficult to find a parallel. The "assisted passages" which the parallel. The "assisted passages" which the government undertakes to pay, average about 50\(\frac{c}{2}\) per capita. If we add to this the premiums offered, the maintenance and transportation of immigrants after arrival, and the other purely government expenses connected with the work, the average will easily reach 100\(\frac{c}{2}\) for every man, woman and child brought into the country. If Brazil is ever to be a strong and prosperous country, the people must country. If Brazil is ever to be a strong and prosperous country, the people must put an immediate veto on such reckless administration as this, and they can do it no better than to hold the first delinquents strictly responsible.

According to the recent telegrams from Buenos Aires and Santiago, the Chilian revolutionists have been recently winning some very decisive victories. A party of 50 men landed near Valparaiso recently and approaching the Los Andes fort by an almost impassable route succeeded in completely surprising the garrison. They spiked all the guns of the fort and then captured a all the guns of the fort and then captured a government transport loaded with supplies. This daring success places Valparaise at the mercy of the fleet. A series of battles have also been fought at and near Iquique, with the result that Balmaceda's forces have been completely routed and one of their commanding officers (Robles) killed. In other parts of the country the cause of the revolution has been steadily gaining ground, and unless some unforeseen disaster occurs its complete triumph can now be only a its complete triumph can now be only a matter of a few weeks.

In connection with his discussion of the sugar section of the recent reciprocity treaty between Brazil and the United States, we must again request the editor of the Jornal do Commercio to make a very important correction. In some of his discussions he has laid much stress on the cussions he has laid much stress on the point that the United States is prepared to grant the same terms to Spain for the admission of Cuban sugar as have been granted to Brazil, and that this eventuality is all the more certain because of the is all the more certain because of the selection of a former minister to Spain, John W. Foster, as secretary of the treasury to succeed Secretary Windom. We presumed at the time that the Jornal had possible of the secretary windom. itive information on that point, although we could hardly understand the selection of a man with so little political influence and administrative experience for so important a post. Finding subsequently that others a post. Finding subsequently that others were of the same opinion, an application for information was cabled to Washington, and the reply, which was received after the last pages of our last week's issue had gone to press, fully confirmed our suspicion that the Jornal had made a mistake The new secretary of the treasury is Hon. Charles Foster, and not ex-Minister John W. Foster, who negotiated a reciprocity treaty with Spain many years ago. Of course, this effectually disposes of the Jornal's argument on that point. It may be said, however, that the policy adopted in mind so that it may be decided quickly when the proper time comes. And we when the proper time comes. And we would also like to have everyone interested keep a sharp lookout for a property which might serve the purpose and at the same time meet all the requirements of isolation and salubrity.

THE importance of the São Paulo movement in opposition to Gen. Deodoro's gov-ernment can not be overestimated. Unless the policy of the general government is changed, it must be considered as the first step toward a breaking up of the federation. No one perhaps can speak positively as to the future of Brazil, but judging from the spirit and motives of the men concerned no one can be blind to the fact that there is serious trouble in store for the country if serious trouble in store for the country it these two diverging policies are not harmonized. In the manifesto issued on the 9th inst. by sixteen of the most influential political leaders of São Paulo-including such names as Prudente de Moraes, ex-Ministers Campos Salles and Glycerio, Bernardino de Campos and Moraes Barros—it is charged that the Deodoro government has deliberately entered unpor a policy of has deliberately entered upon a policy of interference in the local affairs of the state, that it has dismissed Gov. Tibiriça without that it has dismissed Gov. Tibiriça without cause and is appointing confidential agents to all the important offices in order to control the organization of the state government. It is also charged that all this is done from personal resentment because the São Paulo delegation voted against Deodoro for the presidency. The charges are certainly serious enough by themselves, but when backed by the best men of the state they become even more so. No well informed observer can help noting that the Deodoro government is pursuing the same addoro government is pursuing the same ad-ministrative lines that were followed by the monarchy, and that personal motives promise to be an important factor in all its acts. to be an important factor in all its acts. It is making arbitrary appointments and dismissals, it is using the police force everywhere to coerce public opinion, and it is employing every influence afforded by the treasury and cabinet departments to control the political action of the country. The Paulistas very properly resent this, and their wealth and intelligence will make their opposition felt. The general govern-ment might easily coerce Espirito Santo, where the same state of affairs also exists, have kept the Emperor on the throne, and pre-vented various other little occurrences. If by con-sistency of policy Mr. Leeson means only, "in so far as concerns the flour duties," then is he very far as concerns the flour duties," then is he very egotistical.

It is to be presumed that government decrees are made for the good of the commonwealth, and, if a few private interests suffer, it must be remembered that they are not a measure of the interests of the Brazilian republic. Also that the complexity of economic science, where many factors have to be considered, both individually and collectively, will not allow of separate legislation for one of those factors; just as you cannot take out one strand from a rope without prejudice to the rest.

Touching Mr. Leeson's observation as to my doubting his statements, I cannot see that he has made a statement important enough to hang a doubt upon. Perhaps he will supplement his first letter with a few facts. Many of us would be glad to know for instance:

How many thousand tons of national wheat he

How many thousand tons of national wheat he

How many thousand tons of national wheat he has ground?
Whether it pays the farmer better to send his wheat to Rio and have it returned to him in flour, or to grind it himself between two stones?
What is the freight from ...... from ...... well from where the native wheat grows?
And whether it is the mills, or the fact of wheat being duty free, that is stimulating farmers to plant it?

MINISTER GLYCERIO'S LAND GRANTS AND IMMIGRATION CONTRACTS.

MINISTER GLYCERIOS LAND GRAN'S AND IMMICRATION CONTRACTS.

We have already requested the government, not only to cause to be published a complete and correct list of the grants of interest guarantees made by the provisional government to railways, but also to inform the country how many grants of public lands and contracts for the introduction of immigrants have been made, mentioning the number of hectares and families.

With the data which, not without difficulty, we succeeded in obtaining, we have already organized a list of railway grants, a list which the government has not yet corrected in any official publication. We know that there are mistakes in that list, but these, sometimes diminishing and at other times increasing the real figures, do not materially affect the general result.

In regard to land grants and immigration contracts, our task has been still more difficult than with relation to vailways.

These contracts are made in the department of agriculture, and many of them—assuredly the grants pair of them—have never been communicated to the press.

However, we have been able to collect the following data, showing the number of hectares of land granted by Sr. Francisco Glycerion his short administrative term, and also the number of families of immigrants for whose settlement he contracted—with the different states specified. Some day we shall publish the names of the concessionances.

Jornal do Commercio, 12th March.

greater than that of any state in the American Union except (California and Texas) between 210 persons and corporations. It has ame minister contracted for the introduction of 1.415,750 families of immigrants, which, at 5 persons per family, embrace 7.078,750 persons, a number probably greater than that of half the present population of Brazil. Estimating the cost of each family at the moderate sum of 500%, these immigration contracts render the country liable for the sum of 707,875,000%, equal to more than eight times the amount of the present annual revenue of the country. It is not wonderful that Barão de Lucena considers Gen. Glycerio a dangerous man.

Coffee.—The market has been quiet and somewhat flat during the past week, a natural reaction, perhaps, after the activity of the week before. On the 11th some of the brokers reduced quotations by ∞0 rs. per arroha, and again on the 13th by 100 rs. but others made no changes and the custom by rail continue small. On the 12th our stock was verified and the result was that 18, 20) bags were added. This does not appear excessive, for there is unquestionably a certain amount of coffee attracted to market by the high prices current, which was formerly consumed by the producers, and which can not be traced upon arrival.

Shipments since our last report have been:

277,752 bags for the United States

14,610 "Cape of Good Hope

2,687 "Elsewhere

4,509 bags.

45,049 bags.

These were no clearances foreign at the custom house during the week.

Pitch Pine.—Receiving from Satilla an which come to dealers.

The markets have been generally quiet during the past was child the past when some movement. The treaty, or convention, with the United States going into effect on the 1st proximo, by which such important changes are made in durities on American produce, renders both importers and dealers unwilling to enter upon new business, and the rest of this month is likely to be very quiet. Quotations generally show little change. Two cargoes of Pitch pine have arrived, on order, and this quality is a little lower. The White pine per Campanero from Baltimore was sold, and the market for New York lumber is steady. Kerosene is unchanged: the large holders will not sell below, 9600 per case, neither will they buy at a lower price, at which the article is offered. Lard is lower again and stocks must now be very considerable. Rice is unchanged and firm, but there is a large quantity altost for our port, a part of which is not very far off. Codifish is unchanged both as to position and quotations, a fair quantity of Norwegian fish has arrived, but stocks are still small. Indian corn is nominally unchanged and little has arrived.
