Companhia Grande Hotel de Petropolis.

This company owns the two principal hotels in Petropolis, the Pixey and and the Orecans, provided with every desirable comfort for guests and with the service of first-class establishments. The Hotel Bragança is situated at Nos. 21 and 23 on the Avenida 15 de Novembro, a broad and attractive avenue. The Hotel Orleans is at the base of a little mount, fronting the Praça D. Atlonso and with the charming river Quitandhia flowing at its side. Both hotels have pleasure-phaetonsfor excursions in the romantic scenery of the suburbs and carriages to convey passengers to and from the railroad station. This is the season of the year to bear in mind that Petropolis is considered by hygienists to possess an Uprae clumate, or the climate of a high altitude, which ensures its entire freedom from the prevailing diseases of the summer and establishes its character of a veritable health-resort. The two hotels described are recommended as the largest and most fashionable in Brazil. In Rio de Janeiro the company has an office at No. 28 Rua de S. Pedro where you will be courteously furnished with any further information you may require.

Companhia Fabril de Arreios e Sellaria.—
This company has only recently begun operationshere but if the munificent present it made to Gen. Decoloro in commonoration of the second anniversary of the republic, be taken as a criterion, the work it will do will be hard to equal. The present in question was a costly saddle, richly and artistically ornamented. It was exhibited for some days in a prominent down-town establishment, and received the praiges of all who exhamined it. Undoubtedly, the President will find it as useful as it is ornamental. The Companhia Fabril de Arreios e Sellaria was organized late in 1800 with a capital of 1,000,005 and with the fllowing board of officers; president, Manoel Ayrosa de Oliveira; manager, Angusto Cesar Mencese; treasure, José Antonio de Castro Silva; fiscals, Candiblosé Teiviera Chaves, Manoel Fortunato de Arajo Costa, and João Fernandes de Oliveira e Silva and substitutes loss Alves de Acveedo Maia, Jorge José Rosa and Mauricio Mendes de Vasconcellos. All these officers are well-known business men of this city. The company immediately after its organization purchased ground on the Rua da Ajuda and proceeded to put up thereon building-specially adapted to the manufacture of saddles. harness, bridles, whijis and the like, and transanal ericles for the traveller. The building at No. 68 Rua da Ajuda is three storys high and very commodions, and being at the corner has ample light. The machinery has not yet all been put in position. The street-floor will have in frost the office and in the rear a "Universal" gas engine of the best English make, coming from a Brimingham factory. It was at first intended to operate the machinery by gas but it was subsequently found that the expense could be so much reduced by the use of steam that the latter will be employed. The same floor will also be used for the preparation of leather which is used for the preparation of leather which is used for the preparation of leather and for the manufacture of trunks. This building is now being completed

Tontine "Endowment" policies of the Equitable maturing this year show, in addition to the 20 years of protection furnished by the assurance, a return in cash of all the premiums paid, with interest at rates, varying according to age, from 63 to 7 per cent. per annum.

N.B. - No other Company can point to the results of maturing 20-year Tontine Policies.

The Petropolis Concerts.—A series of forty-five concerts have been arranged for the season in the Crystal Palace at Petropolis. The building has been antirely remodelled for this purpose, and the improvements which have been made will undoubtedly be fully appreciated by the music-loving people. The concerts are under excellent management and the course will cover a wide range of popular and classic music. Concerts will be given every Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday. Season tickets can now be obtained, and those who intend to make their residence during the summer in that pleasant suburb should not postpone their purchases until the choice places are all taken. The concerts promise to be a principal attraction and a pleasant recreation to vary the monotony of life in this charming resort. this charming resort.

Furniture and Carpets.—Mr. Henry Kingston at No. 8 Rua dos Ourives, has just received a large invoice of beautiful furniture for parlors, sleeping-tooms and dining-rooms. He has also added largely by fresh receipts to his stock of special uphofstered and fine wicker furniture of rich designs and new styles. All the furniture he offers to the public is particularly adapted to this climate and made of the best wood. In his spacious store-room he displays sofas, reclining chairs provided with every device of comfort, tapestry, curtains, window ornaments, an extensive variety of carpets, mats, hassocks, oil-doths, quilts, mattresses, in fine everything to be found in a complete and first-class stock of furniture and carpets. The upholstering department is a special feature of his establishment, and the work that omes from it is done in the most substantial manner. He also makes a speciality of receiving orders to be filled direct from Europe.

RIO DE JANEIRO, NOVEMBER 17th, 1891.

It appears that our comments on the reappears and our comments on the recent revolutionary attempt in Montevideo have aroused a great deal of angry criticism in that pretty little town. We have no wish to hurt the sensibilities of any good citizen, but it must be admitted that our criticism was more than inefficial benefits. criticism was more than justified by the circumstances. Revolution is justifiable only as a last resort, and for the overthrow only as a last resort, and for the overthrow of a despotic ruler, the subversion of an oppressive system of government, or the suppressions of a dominant class. A revolution ought to be a vindication of rec gnized general principles, or a struggle for liberty. If the government oppresses the people and deprives them of their liberties and natural rights, no matter what may be its excuse, then the people are justified in revolting. In fact, a people who have not spirit, patriotism and courage enough to resist the impositions and aggressions of a jud govpatriotism and courage chough of reast the impositions and aggressions of a had government, are fit for nothing better than slavery. A dog may submit to the kicks and curses of a hard master, and then creep under his feet to lick the hand that administration. under his feet to fick the hard that admir-isters the punishment, but a free man and true patriot will never submit to such an abasement. But is this the case in Uru-guay? Are the people oppressed, and is there no alternative but the intrigue which there no alternative but the intrigue which seeks personal power rather than popular liberty? We know how cruelly and recklessly Uruguay has been misgoverned and plundered, how her splendid resources have been squandered, how taxation has been increased to support an army of official parasites, how her debt has been increased to enrich the autocrats who rule and the parasites who flatter, how her increased to enrich the autocrats who rule and the parasites who flatter, how her industries have been neglected and her commerce strangled, how speculation has thrived at the expense of honest industry, how justice has been denied to those who have sought the law for projection, and now justice has been defined to most and have sought the law for protection, and mercy to those who have dared to protest. We know what a country so richly endowed ought to achieve, and on the other side we know how little an oppressive, cruel, greedy and despotic executive has permitted it to secure. A fairer country, nor a richer, never existed—and yet it is a bankrupt and by-word among the nations of the world! And all this because her rulers have had no respect for law, nor for justice, nor for the personal and industrial liberties of her people. Such a government can never succeed, and never should succeed! For succeed, and never should succeed! For such a country revolution is the only recourse, a spontaneous rising of an indignant people. But such a revolution should never be dwarfed by the petty intrigues of partizan leaders who are hungry, not for liberty, but for power. Such a revolution-should be for the supremacy of law and justice, for liberty and equality, for honesty, honor and virtue. When Uruguay seeks to create such a revolution, she will have the sympathy of the whole world, but as long as her best men are content to hide themselves away and leave her public interests in the hands of such men as Santos, then she must be content men as Santos, then she must be content with the degradation to which a government of the sword has brought her.

THE present anomalous position of the exchange market in this city, owing to the mistaken action of the authorities in suppressing real quotations, is causing some very embarrassing complications. The Banco da Republica maintains a posted rate of 13½ pence, but refuses to accept business on that basis except for infinitessimal sums and under humiliating conditions The other banks generally post no rates, but have accepted business at rates ranging from 103/4 to 111/2 pence, at which a large amount of remittances have been made during the past week. The board of brokers, however, quote only the fictitious rate of the Banco da Republica, and the daily papers, through fear of police interference, quote only the rates given by the The importers, therefore, find themselves placed in this position: pay-ments are offered at Banco da Republica rates, which they cannot remit except at a loss of two to two and a half pence in the milreis; and when they do remit they know that the official quotations in the newspapers will show a wide discrepancy which they will find it very difficult to ex plain. This official meddling with exchange ought to be at once stopped, for it is as useless as it is vexatious. An official rate of exchange cannot be anything else than fictitious, but it can and does cause endless difficulties and complications which are even worse than low rates Much as we deplore the situation, we see no safe and honest way out of it except that of meeting the emergency frankly and without de Ox Thursday night last a young Eng lishman was "recruited" by a police agent almost within a stone's throw of his hotel and was shut up with 12 others in a small filthy room in a police station for the rest of the night. He had his baptismal certificate in his pocket, a receipted hotel bill and two or three letters of recommendation from firms in Buenos Aires where he had been employed. The police officials at the station refused to consider these documents and he was shut up for the night as a com mon vagabond, only to be discharged the next morning without explanation or apology, and at an expense of 2$200 for someone to write a requerimento and a charge of 3$800 by the police officer who helped himself to the cash before returning the man's pocket-book. At the risk of trespassing on forbidden ground, we desire to say that abuses of this character will very soon involve Brazil in trouble with foreign powers, which it ought to be her policy to No respectable man cares to avoid. submit to such an attack on his personal liberty, and no foreign government is likely to permit it without protest. It cannot be excused as a mistake, for the dullest police agent cannot help knowing a foreigner from a Brazilian. We understand that other complaints of this character have been sent in to the British minister, and we may therefore soon expect to know whether the rights of a foreigner are to be respected RIO GRANDE DO SUL.

"Ploto Alegre, Nov. 12.—To-day all the shops in this city remained closed: A little after 9 o'clock a.m. the people, headed by the directors of the Associação Commercial and a large number of representative merchants, held an open-air meeting and proceeded to the palace of the governor. On arriving there the directors requested Dr. Julio de Castilhos to resign his office in view of the unsettled condition of affairs in the state, resulting from various causes with which he was not unacquainted. They appealed to his patriotism to avoid the violent solution that was imminent. The governor answered that, as he had no means of resistance at his disposal, he was ready to accede to their represt and he added that, as he had no legal substitute, he would place his resignation in the hands of the directors of the Associação Commercial as the depository of important interests of different classes of westery. The Associação requested 6en. Barreto Leite to take clarge of the government until a provisional junta could be organized. This junta was afterwards chosen by acclamation, and is composed of Dr. Assis Brazil, Dr. Barros Cassal and Gen. Rocha Ozorio.

THE BLOCK AT BRAZILIAN PORTS.

Our recent article on this subject has evoked a number of letters from correspondents, who fully confirm our remarks. The case of the shap "Hetrita, Monarch", which on arrival at Samtos found too vessels waiting prior turn, is particularly high artiving at that pointain on of shipping can be imagined that pointain on of shipping can be imagined. However, Thomas, of Criciceth, the delay and design. Thomas, of Criciceth, the considerable experience of the Brazilian ports and it was only after the most cartell inquiries that the ship was allowed to proceed to Santos. Following up this case the same owners now report another serious delay, this time to a smaller vessel, with a registered tomage of 777 tons. The ship arrived at Santos on Tueslay last with a cargo of coals for the Brazilian pores and the same owners now report another serious delay, this time to a smaller vessel, with a registered tomage of 777 tons. The ship arrived at Santos on Tueslay last with a cargo of coals for the Brazilian poers ment, and according to a cabberram just received from the captain there is no prospect of getting away before next June. The vexatiousness of the delay is considerably heightened by the last that a system of preference prevails by whach some vessels obtain priority and get discharged before their turn. It will, be remembered that the captain of the Usstern blow many English vessels are amongs the hundred virial of the Santos, and also how many English vessels are amongs the hundred virial of the Santos, and also how many English salots will be compelled to pass the sick season house bornalities. It was only by united action on the part of shipowners acting as a body and lighting each case up to the highest tribinal, and by exercising diplomatic pressure that the gross abuse connected with the ports we have named ceased. Let those shipowners interested in the Brazil trade join one of the "flighting" protecting and indemnity associations, and the scandals of Santos and Rio will cease to exist. One correspondent complains that he already is a member of a Liverpool shipowners' association, and that body refuses to assist him.

Our correspondent forgets that in Liverpool we are in these things eminently pacific, and as shipowners' associations we turn the other check to the smitter, unless, of course, the blow is too hard.

A most absurd thing occurred in port yesterday. The German steamer Löwemburg arrived from abroad and received its health visit, but the doctor ordered that the quarantine flag should not be lowered till the vessel was "well in port." Obeying the rithiculous order, the Captain brought the steamer up, still flying the yellow flag, to within a stone's throw of the Custom House mole, in fact until the vessel touched bottom. municipal district may produce 1,000,000 arrobas of coffee.

—According to a recent French patent, granted to M. Barotti, of Paris, a dry extract of coffee is prepared in the following manner. The roasted mid-finely-ground coffee is introduced into a jacketed cylinder connected with a copper conclusing sphere. The cylinder is kept rotating, and is heated by passing super-leated steam into the jacket. A vacuum is maintained in the sphere racches 160° C., after which the pressure is allowed to increase rapidly, and when the vacuum is only ten centimetres the s'eam is shut off and the apparatus left for five or ten minutes until the temperature rises to 210° C. At this point cold water is at once injected into the jacket. The distillate is fikered and immediately added in suitable proportion a pulverized extract of the residual coffee in the cylinder, prepared by throwing the residual coffee into hot disfilled w. er and evaporating the infusion thus obtained in vacuo. The mixture is finally dried in vacuo either by heat or "overabsorbents," and the resulting powder is called "express add."

The joke is good, but the geography is purely French. A moderate business is reported for the past week, although the fluctuations in exchange render calculations as to the cost of goods very uncertain. There has arrived a fair quantity of Flour. Exporters are asking gold prices for their small stocks, and a very unpleasant feature in the market is that the local mills are holding extremely light stocks of wheat. The only receipts of pine are a small quantity of White from New York. Pitch pine has advanced under the advices of the loss of the Fobin Harrey from Brunswick, and that the Aeronaut from Fernandina was at Bennuda to distress. Kerosene is rather lower, and Lard also, but the latter is steady. Quotations for Rice are unchanged and the market is firm; the last cargo of old rice from Rangoon bas arrived. Receipts of Coffish are insignificant and prices are somewhat higher; due, however, more to the decline in exchange, than to any great improvement in the demand Indian Corn is higher, and firm at the advance, and Hay and Turpentine are also rather dearer. Rosin and Connent are Turpentine are also rather dearer. Rosin and Cement as
