duties of president.

— Colombic has at present plenty of trouble through the formidable revolution, which has been going on for months, and the result of which is still uncertain, though the latest telegrams seem to show that the government is getting the upper hand. A new international difficulty may now come upon the republic, since the date for the payment of the 4a0,000 awarded to Messrs, Punchard, McTagyart, Lowther & Co. by the Lausanne arbitration tribunal was 17th April, and a month has now passed without the government taking any steps to comply with that obligation. It remains to be seen whether the British government will take any steps to enforce payment.—S. A. Journal, May 19.

RIVER PLATE ITEMS.

— A Buenos Aires telegram of the 9th says that several travellers in the Cordoba moun-tains have perished through intense cold. Cyclones have likewise caused great damage in that province.

The British gunboat "Swallow" went aground near Colonia, Uruguay, on the 31st ult., but happily without serious results. She succeeded in getting off soon after without sustaining any damage.

During the month of April there were 2,780 births, 592 marriages and 1,104 deaths in the city of Buenos Aires. The official statistician estimates the population at the end of the month as 802,745. The excess of immigration over emigration was only 590. Tuberculosis accounted for more deaths than any other disease.

— We beg to call the attention of our colleague, the Buenos Aires Herald, to the circumstance that the Argentine postoffice is levying an additional rate on its papers. We have weighed one of them and find it ander the single rate weight, neverthelessit is surcharged as short paid and we are compelled to pay double the difference. It's a small swindle, but it is irritating all the same.

but it is irritating all the same.

—The Brazilian minister at Montevideo has made a reclamation on the Uruguayan government on account of the punishment inflicted on a Brazilian soldier in the Flores island lazaretto, and the latter has ordered the summary prosecution of the guilty parties. So far, so good—but is the civilian of less account than the soldier? If the Flores island savages may not illtreat a soldier, why should they be permitted to illtreat a civilian?

Phase Language forgery has been dispaced to the soldier of the soldier.

permitted to illtreat a civilian?

—Phew ! An extensive forgery has been discovered in Buenos Aires of bank-notes of $500, which have reached all the banks and principal business houses. The principal person is said to be no less than a lieutenant colonel, one Eduardo Perez, a rich stock-farmer in the west of the province. All the materials for forgery were found buried in his estancia, and it is not the first time that he has been under suspicion of the offence. Seven other persons, some of good position, are under arrest on charge of complicity. — Montevideo Times, May 30.

—A great meetime.

May 30.

A great meeting was held in Buenos Aires on Sunday last on the subject of the death hematy. The orators were all in favor of its abolition, and resolutions to that effect were passed. (We think this very unwise. The death penalty is rarely, too rarely, inflicted, and is always lampered in its effect by the absurd interference of damas de beneficacia and other persons of both sexes. In a young country with a polyglot population, for the most part only semi-civilised, with the impulsive instinct of the Latin race to use the knife on the smallest pretext, capital punishment is the only preventive terror. England with her centuries of civilization cannot do without it, and rigorously enforces it, but still less can Argentina afford to dispense with it if life and property are to be protected).

—The forgeries which have come to light

Argentina afford to dispense with it if life and property are to be protected).

—The forgeries which have come to light this week are in many respects curious, and have fairly attracted much attention. Forgeries of ten or twenty dollar bills, while they might involve considerable loss to individuals, could hardly be regarded as a public danger to the credit of the currency. But if $500 bills can be put in circulation to any considerable extent, the public credit may be seriously shaken. It is understood that the total number of bills printed represents a value of $300,000,000; but we have only the assertion of the criminals in regard to this, and it is not surprising that an uneasy feeling should prevail as to the number of forged notes which may actually be in circulation at the present time, especially as the imitation is so good as to deceive any ordinary man. If the treasury is to be called upon every year or so to print fresh notes, and withdraw from circulation those which have been counterfeited, the expense will be considerable, and all confidence in what is well termed "the fiduciary circulation will be destroyed. It is to be hoped that the police by their activity will save us from such a contingency. — Review, Buenos Aires, June 2.

ances on the Rio Acre. It the telegram were to say Amazonas instead of Brazil perhaps deni-l would be difficult.

—We have repudiated 56 per cent of the currency debt and have made the par value of the paper dollar 44 cents in gold, but we continue to keep the same number of so called dollars, while as a matter of fact they are worth only 44 cents each. Whatever mischief this repudiation has done or may cause it is now too late to clange the fact and we have now only to see what is the wisest arrangement we can make of our currency nomenclature. Since the paper dollar is recognised as having a nominal value of 44 cents we should change the currency so as to reduce the number of notes and make what is now called a dollar exchangeable into honest 100 cent dollars at the ratio of 44 to 100. We have in circulation in paper money more or less $500,000 000 and this sum counted at 44 centseach dollar would amount to $132,000,000. The government should call in these depreciated dollars and substitute for them an equal sum in 100 cent dollars. These new notes would be convertible no more than our present paper money and just as much, but they would have the advantage of being understood as forming a debt recognized to be convertible as soon and as fast as the conditions of the country and its finances would permit. It is absurd to continue to talk of dollars when we mean only 44 cents, not at the actual value of the dollar which might be less than 44 cents, but the par or uominal value of the dollar. Buenos Aires Herald, May 22.

QUARANTINE ABUSES.

OUARANTINE ABUSES.

Westerday's Syglo gives two delightful examples of the absurdities committed by the health authorities here. When the British str. aEtheday, she was clapped into ten days' quarantine for the fact of having taken on board, at Rocha, a pilot of Argentine nationality, although it was nearly a month since that individual had left the Argentine shores. The mere fact that he was an Argentine seemed to them sufficient excuse for imposing quarantine, and the vessel had to suffer consequently. Such an imbacility is beyond comment. When the Italian cruiser eletratian and the reseal had to suffer consequently. Such an imbacility is beyond comment. When the Italian cruiser eletratian to the port to enquire the reason of the delay. The reply was that the weather was too rough. The boat then returned to the afternias without mishap. It was not too rough for the salturarias boat to make the double journey, but it was too rough for the sanitary authorities to visit the afternia, and consequently the vessel had to spend an extra day in quarantine, her protest on the matter not being admitted. And yet it is to the health authorities responsible for abuses and imbecilities such as these—all of which inflict serious injury on the port and make vessels avoid it worse than if it was really plague stricken—that the Syglo recommends the administration of the lazaret should be entrusted. For our part, we do not think them fit to be entrusted with any authority whatever.

The worst of this sanitary business is that, no matter what abuses, what errors, what impecilities the authorities commit, or what injury they inflict on the interests of others—and the amount of these is simply legion—there is no chance of either protest or reclaim. They, who continually show themselves to be unfit to be entrusted with any authority whatever, exercise an authority more irresponsible and more autocratic than any body in the republic. A claim for damages or compensation for wrongful procedure can be instituted against the government or the claumbers, bu —Husbands and wives sometimes say very sharp things to each other. One day Mr. and Mrs. G. had a very hot argument. Mrs. G. indignantly asked her husband of he dared to say his judgment was better then hers.» It was only an Irishman who could have made the ready retort with cutting sarcasm:— «Certainly not, my love; our choice of each other showed how very inferior my judgment was to yours.» That was certainly one for you, Mrs. G.

THE SANITARY SITUATION.

Do we dispute the opinion of the sanitary authorities that bubonic pest exists in Rio de Janeiro? Certainly not! exists in Rio de Janeiro? Certaiuly not! We are not competent to discuss a question of that character, and we can not dispute an assertion of which we have no special knowledge. But at the same time we know that there are medical men here who privately entertain doubts of the existence in Rio of the said pest; we know that a very considerable proportion of the people do not believe it, and we can not help feeling that the course pursued by the sanitary authorities warrants the belief that the outbreak has been invented rather than break has been invented rather than discovered.

A few months ago one or two cases were discovered in the Gambôa district, were discovered in the Gambôa district, and several people were carried off to an isolated hospital, but no other cases appeared. It may have been a coincidence, but it happened that the extra sanitary inspectorships created when the same pest broke out in Santos, had just been discontinued, and also that the municipal prefect had announced his inability to go on with the laboratory designed to manufacture Versin serum. As the national government showed no designed to manufacture Versin serum. As the national government showed no inclination to take the scheme in hand, it was feared that it would have to be abandoned. The two alleged cases, however, promptly solved every doubt. Arrangements were at once made to go on with the laboratory, and the discontinued, sanitary, inspectorships, were on with the laboratory, and the discon-tinued sanitary inspectorships were promptly renewed. All this, of course, may have been nothing more than a coincidence, but there are some who doubt it.

As for the present outbreak, which was made public about the middle of May, it is true that a disease peculiar in May, It is true that a disease pectual in character has broken out in this city. Many physicians and old residents assert, however, that similar cases have appeared in other years, under certain climatic conditions. They have heretofore treated these as cases of lymphatile, with respiratory of success according the residual properties. chimate conditions. They have nected fore treated these as cases of lymphatile, with varying degrees of success, according to the nature of the disease and the physical condition of the patient. When the bubonic outbreak was made public last month Dr. Terni announced (O Paiz of May 20th) that all the cases of lymphatile which he had treated since the 1st of that month were in reality cases of pest. Other cases of lymphatile, treated by physicians of experience and good reputation, were declared by sanitary inspectors as cases of pest. To the unprofessional mind, therefore, there appears to be some uncertainty as to the identity of the disease, and people are inclined to believe that a disease common enough here at certain seasons is being mistaken for bubonic pest.

Of course the unprofessional observer or course in emprojessional observer may be mistaken. But when he sees the phenomenal increase in the number of sanitary officials and in the aggregate of sanitary expenditure, and when he notes how arbitrary and irresponsible is the power exercised by these officials, he can put help concluding that the the power exercised by these officials, he can not help concluding that the discovery of such a pest is not unwelcome to them. It is a harsh judgment, and may be a very unjust one, but the citizen who finds his trade ruined, his movements hampered, his house and place of business invaded by men who order him to do absurd or onerous things, and his expenses increased by a reckless expenditure of public money. things, and in expenses increased by a reckless expenditure of public money, by arbitrary exactions, and by an ar-tificial scarcity of provisions, he may surely be pardoned for speaking harshly. We have seen also in the enforcement

We have seen also in the enforcement of quarantine restrictions, so manifest a lack of knowledge and judgment that it is impossible to place full confidence in the men who are responsible for the present situation. Were they to call in the older and more experienced physithe older and more experienced physicians of this city and submit the direction of sanitary affairs to them, there would be less doubt and grumbling in our midst. And had the government cabled for some well-known medical expert who has seen and studied bubonic pest in India, then no one could have felt that an epidemic had been invented for improper motives. But the management of the whole affair leaves the public to solve its doubts as best it can, and we are sorry to say the solution is not always favorable to the sanitary officials who are responsible for the anomalous situation in which we are the anomalous situation in which we are

Then there is another consideration which is having some weight on the public mind. We have been led to public mind. We have been led to believe, from what we have read of the plague, that it is very fatal. And yet up to May 31st the deaths at the plague hospital were slightly under 24 per cent. This surely is not the dreaded pest of which we have heard! Yellow fever is far more fatal than this. When we consider the terribly unsanitary condition of this city, the filthy tenements within its most densely populated districts, the enormous percentage of districts, the enormous percentage of unemployed, poverty-stricken people, and the insufficient and improper ali-mentation of a great part of our urban population, we might reasonably fear a terrible mortality were the bubonic pest terrible mortality were the bullonic pest to appear in our midst. Must we believe, then, that this pest has assumed a remarkably benignant character in a place so favorable to its malignant development, or may we not believe that it is something akin to the plague, and yet not the plague itself?

These are of course the deductions of unprofessional observers—the citizens unprofessional observers - the citizens who obey uncodified laws and irresponwho obey uncodined away and irresponsible orders, who live in an atmosphere of phenic acid, who fear that at any moment wife or child may be hurried away to a dirty lazaretto under conditions likely to kill, even where there is tions likely to kill, even where there is no danger from the disease, and who must pay all the bills and are expected not to grumble. To the professional mind they may be valueless; to the world at large, however, they will have some weight in determining the conditions under which men are living in this country.

S. PAULO CRICKET.

S. PAULO A. C. 25. SANTOS A. C., 2nd ELEVENS.
A very pleasant game was the result of this fixture played in São Paulo on the 3rd inst. The S. Paulo captain winning the toss elected to bat first. A very good start was made, the 1st wicket realizing 28 runs, but the Home side were startled when they saw the 2nd, 3rd and 4th wicket fall at the same total. The situation was however saved by Knight ably seconded by Tomkins, both of whom played well, Kinght especially going in for good hard hitting. The total eventually reaching the respectable score of 132.

After the usual interval the Santistas commenced their innings. Runs came slowly, Watson being bowled by Blomeley just as ite appeared to be set. Pritchard played a good innings carrying his bat for a very useful and well played 29. The innings closing for 66, left the home side winners by the same number of runs. S. PAULO A. C. US. SANTOS A. left the home side winners by the same number of runs.

There was quite a large gathering of friends and supporters of the club to witness the game, tea and refreshments being very kindly provided by Mrs. C. W. Mitchell. On Saturday, June 2nd, a smoking concert was held in Rotisserie Sportsman to celebrate the occupation of Johannesberg and Pretoria by British troops. Proceedings had been announced to commence at $3.00 nm., but, alass for "English punctuality." o o'clock struck before the band commenced to play, and it was 20 minutes later when the vice-consul evoked hearty cheers by reading a telegram from Acting Consul Hammil at Suntos, that the news received on the previous Wednesday had been officially confirmed. Mr. Fussell's fine voice then filled the room with the inspiriting "Soldiers of the Queen." Our Baby evoked roars of laughter by his inimitably droll stories. Miss Wright sang two songs very sweetly. Dr. Baumgardner afforded some variety by a whistling solo which made one think, that some swarbler of the springs was in the vicinity of the Sportsman, fearlessly pouring forth its estrains of unpremeditated art." Other gentlemen who promoted the pleasure of the evening, were, M. Thys with two songs, Mr. Green with a recitation, and Mr. Greenland with two songs, After Mr. Fussell had sung "The Absent-minded Beggar," it was announced that the tambourine would not be handed round, but that those present could drop what they could afford, or more, into a Union Jack-drayed vase, as they passed out. The concert was brought to a close shortly before midnight by «Rule Britannia," "God save the Queen," and "Auld Lang Syne," but dancing was indulged in for a couple of hours longer. The amount collected for the Widows' and Orphans' Fund was nearly a conto. A very pleasant evening was spent, and the organising committee deserve the thanks of the community, but at the same time it should be remarked that the program suffered from the too evident existence of the simpromptu." It may be asked, too, if there was not enough patriotic fervor to find vent in a certain amount of speechmaking.

WEST AUSTRALIAN «OUTLANDERS.»

WEST AUSTRALIAN "OUTLANDERS."

The following item is none the less interesting because we found it hidden away in small type, at the foot of a column of the Times. "Yesterday (Monday, that is) the petition to Her Majesty from the residents of the Western Australian Goldfields, who seek separation from the older settled portions of the Colony, arrived in London. The petition is over one mile in length, and bears the signatures of security of the constitution of the members of the executive committee, which state that the signatures are those of persons over age, and that they have not been duplicated. The grievances of which the petitioners complain are practical distranchisement and unjust availon for the benefit of the old selflers." The petition is enclosed in a handsome casket of polished Australian woods, the paneis being embellished with medallions representing typical mining scenes. The key of the casket is of pure Kalgoorlie gold." The keys of the problems presented by these energetic and agitating gold seekers in different parts of the world are not so readily found.—London Commercial Intelligence, May 12.—(Except in South Africa where the key is a ramed interference.)

The total wealth of Europe, personal and real estate, is estimated at 147.000,000,000 This fact can hardly console the hordes of beggars who swarm in the streets of her big cities. Unjust distribution still remains the root evil.

This excited much protest and Deputy Seabra, taking the floor, asserted that he was authorized to state that there was no truth in the report, circulated by the friends of those delegations, that the latter were acting under the inspiration of the President of the republic, who, he added, had informed him that he positively disapproved of such conduct.

In view of the following absurd regulations it might well be asked: Why not suspend steamship communication altogether? It would be much more reasonable. The Buenos Aires Heraid of May 29th says:

"With regard to the travelling inspectors which have been granted by the health board for passenger steamers calling at infected Brazilian ports, the following condition has been added:

That nothing whatever (with the exception of mail bags) including parcels post, be taken on board in the mentioned infected ports.

2. That all passengers, mails and cargo for the mentioned infected ports, be landed in rigorous quarantine and without the steamer communicating with shore;

3. That mail steamers shall only receive the mail bags on board, the same to be immediately placed under disinfection when received;

4. That the only communication between the steamer and shore, shall be when the vessel is visited by the doctor;

RIO DE JANEIRO, JUNE 12th, 1900.

RIO DE JANEIRO, JUNE 12th, 1900.

It is seldom that the mail from southern Brazil does not bring local merchants warning of German competition in that coast of Brazil. This is not to be wondered at when one considers that German emigration has been so large in that section of the country during the past few years as to create comments recently from the press of Rio de Janeiro, and very lately the Brazilian government has been approached on the subject of the increasing movement on the part of German capitalists to establish German colonies in Brazil. With the exception of provisions, it is asserted that the progress of trade with southern Brazil is not as active as it should be. Undertakings in that section of the country are all sending for estimates to Germany, and in many instances, it is said, American manufacturers are quoting through German firms for material needed. The magnitude of German interests in South America has just been disclosed by the statement of the German minister of marine, who estimates that Germany's over-sea investments in agriculture, manufacture and trade, not including stocks and bonds, at 7,500,000,000 marks, or nearly two billion dollars, of which 2,000,000,000 to the Transvaal and 400,000,000 to Central America and the West Indies. It is the rule of the German Emperor not only to have trade follow the flag, but to have his flag follow trade, and the government of Brazil is just taking the alarm.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce, May 17.

It would be interesting to know what started this ridiculous outery in the started this ridiculous oute

It would be interesting to know what started this ridiculous outery in the United States against the alleged designs of Germany against the independence of Brazil. There is a general belief abroad that it originated with the belief abroad that it originated with the politicians who wish to make use of it in the approaching elections, but we can hardly credit this when newspapers like the New York Journal of Commerce make use of it. The outery certainly never originated here, for no one dreams of such an eventuality. There has been no large German emigration to southern Brazil eduring the past few years. There no large German emigration to southern Brazil «during the past few years», there is no alarm here, either in the press or ine government circles, in regard to German designs, and there are no indications that Germany is harboring any such designs. There was a large German emigration to the southern requires under the mountable but the mountable. provinces under the monarchy, but Brazil sought it and paid for it. But of late years the movement has been much restricted because the southern much restricted because the southern states have been unable to keep up the subsidies, while the contractors have preferred to bring out Italian colonists for the coffee planters further north. Of late years Italian immigration has been very much larger than German, and with less beneficial results to the country. As for the increase in trade country. As for the increase in trade, it is the legitimate result of commercial enterprise and hard work. It not only springs from the natural and legitimate preference of the German colonist for the products of his native land, but it is the natural result of commercial enterprise. The Germans have many important importing houses in the southern states, and a large percentage of the retailers are of German descent. That their trade in German goods is large, and that it is increasing, is therefore easily understood. And now, may we ask, what have Americans done to secure even a part of this trade? Nothing at all! They sit at home and make use of their consuls to get in-formation about the markets, and then they stir up an agitation—always at home—to the effect that this trade ought to be theirs. Why then do they not come after it? Why do they not open commercial houses down here and make a rational effort to get the trade? And why do they not advertise? Do they expect that the stock-raisers and the small farmers of the south will send for American goods just because they are made and sold by Americans? If they do, then they must pay themselves with expectations. The trade is for those who work for it, and thus far the Americans are not in that category. And unless they bestir themselves, they And unless they bestir themselves, they will find themselves enjoying a still smaller percentage of the trade of this country. There is no «America for the Americans» among the consumers in this country. Their motto is "the vintens for the Brazilians"; and they will therefore buy what is cheapest and trade where they can get the best terms. It is a serious blunder to mix politics and commerce, for both buyers and sellers have all they can attend to in getting the most favorable price. Making and saving money fills a larger place in our lives than the Monroe doctrine or the political horoscopes of country lawyers turned politicians, and if the people are left to themselves, they will e all the political problems that arise without the assistance of the «empire-builders» of a preceding generation.

THE DECREASE IN REVENUE.

The returns thus far received for the month of May, while showing an improvement over those for April, are not such as to confirm President Campos Salles' belief that public revenue this year will be at least as great as it was in 1800. On the contrary thus show in 1899. On the contrary they show an increase in the shortage, which has now reached a figure that cannot be overcome in the remaining months of the year unless some favorable circumstance, which there is at present no just ground for anticipating, should produce during those months an extraordinary increase in receipts.

The revenue stations whose receipts for May we are able to compare with those for the corresponding months in 1898 and 1899 are the Rio de Janeiro general revenue office and the customhouses of Rio de Janeiro, Santos, Pará, Pernambuco, Bahia, and Ceará. The result of the comparison is as follows:

29,208,848$239 The foregoing returns for 1900 represent, presumably, over 25 % of the total public revenue for the year. There is at present, as we have said, no just ground for anticipating any improve-ment in the returns to be received during the rest of the year and it consequently seems probable that that revenue will not exceed 280,000,000$, or 61,285,000$ less than the budget estimate and research that the budget estimate and research less than the timate and 53,670,000$ less than the minimum estimate of President Campos Salles. Under these circumstances we again appeal to the President to redeem his pledges by adopting a policy of thorough retrenchment in expenditure.

The instructions issued by the minister of finance that the law prohibiting the importation of foreign products with labels in Portuguese (except from Portugal) does not include labels registered as trademarks, is a virtual admission that the contention appearing in these columns is perfectly sound and right. Under the constitution the law is illegal and void, and to escape such a condemnation the minister now hastens to declare that registered trademarks are not included in the prohibition. This, however, is not sufficient. Such a discrimination is most impolitic, for it opens the way to endless difficulties in the dispatch of goods, in which the importer will have to be constantly proving registration and his authority to represent the proprietors of the trademark. But there is still one more point to which we wish to call the minister's attention, and that is the violation of the international trademark convention. Brazil has undertaken not only to protect registered trademarks, but also to give them registry. It is a reciprocal arrangement, and we deny that this country can now adopt a law which will practically vittate the privilege of registering such marks.

THEN there is the broader question of acquired rights which must be considered. If a merchant has been allowed to import and sell certain goods bearing a certain label during a term of years, he has acquired a certain right at the reputation which such goods enjoy, just as he acquires property in the reputation which his place of business enjoys, commonly known as "good will." To compel a change in the appearance of these goods, and the adoption of a new label, will be to inflict an injury upon his business and to cause him loss. This, we contend, the government has no right to do, except for the public good, in which case the importer is entitled to indemnification. Congress is not privileged to destroy private property at pleasure, nor can the government ignore those rights. Every merclant, therefore, who has been using certain trademarks to distinguish his goods, whether registered or not, possesses rights which entitle him to protest against this mischievous prohibition, and we trust that the foreign legations will continue their protests.

It is worthy of note at the national treasury that our foreign creditors have taken seriously the President's assertion that Brazil will next year be in a position to meet her obligations without having recourse' to new or increased burdens. Although many financial journals had expressed their doubts on this point, they have promptly accepted the President's statement and have, almost without exception, expressed their incree gratification over the improved outlook for this country. The President of course fully appreciates the gravity of the situation. He was under no obligation to make so sweeping a promise, but now that it is made he is under the strongest obligations to see that it is carried out. He assures us that the government will not only be able to resume payments abroad after July 1901, in accordance with the conditions of the funding loan, but he asserts that afor this it will not be necessary to require additional sacrifices or subject public credit to further tests. We understand this to mean that no more burdens of taxation are to be imposed upon us, and that the government will henceforth meet all its obligations fully and promptly. And we note that our foreign exchanges have noted the promise and have the same understanding of its import.

THE Buenos Aires press is criticising—and with good reason—the action of the Brazilian sanitary authorities who are continuing leavy quarantines against Argentine arrivals after the Buenos Aires officials have declared the pest extinct. They also call attention—still with good reason—to the circumstance that Argentina is imposing only ten days quarantine, while Brazil imposed twenty. Our colleagues should know by this time that the sanitary official is a stranger to both law and reason. He runs his business on impulse and sentiment, and his professional diguity forbids restrictions on his action.

We have on various occasions called attention to the growing scarcity of small notes and to the disinclination of the clerks in the caixa da amortização to give small notes in exchange for called-in or mutilated notes. On Saturday last we sent some of these notes, principally dity and mutilated small notes to that office and asked for small notes in exchange. The request was unceremoniously refused, and notes of 505000 were given out. Although this redemption office is supposed to be a public office, designed for a recognized public service, its employés seem to consider that they are under no obligation to attend to any request which may interfere with their customary occupation of smoking eigareties and gossiping. As this indifference to public interests is causing a scarcity of change in this market, it is time the attention of the minister of finance should be called to it in order that the abuse may be corrected.

of finance should be called to it in order that the abuse may be corrected.

*IT would seem from the telegrams that in Rio de Janeiro the bubonic pest is taking a severer form than that known in the River Plate, the majority of cases proving rapidly fatal. It is also showing itself more infectious. We think this may easily be attributed to inferior sanitary conditions, and the dirty habits of the lower classes. Dirt and plague generally go hand in-hand, — Montevideo Times. Our colleague has been very greatly misinformed. The official returns show that from April 19th to May 31st 59 patients were removed to the Paulo Candido (bubonic) hospital, of whom 14 died, 23 were declared convalescent and 22 were under treatment. Of the 22 convalescent, 4 were considered merely as isolated. Of the 14 deaths, 3 died during removal and 3 arrived at the hospital morband. It will be seen therefore that the mortality was less than 24 per cent, and that too under the adverse circumstances of hurried removal from their homes, transportation over rough streets in some cases for long distances, transfer to a steam launch, some times after considerable delay, and transport across the bay to the hospital, which means from 40 to 60 minutes. All these things imply fright, fatigue and exposure which in the case of many patients are sufficient to turn a hopeful case into a hopeless one. It will be seen from this that the disease, far from being *rapidly fatal in a majority of cases,* is really very mild in character. Thus far it is less fatal then yellow fever, and when it is considered that it is very largely confined to lymphatic, badly-nourished and badly-housed people, to say nothing of those whose vitality has been deeply undermined by syphilis, it must be considered that it does not compare with yellow-fever in malignity. In fact the mildness of the disease, under conditions which mater conditions of the health authorities that we have the dreaded eastern plague in our midst.

The reduction in the French import duty is only 20 francs per 100 kilos, or from 154 to 134 francs, which implies that Brazil has failed to obtain what was demanded. Besides this, the remaining coffee will lose in weight perhaps ten or twenty per cent. We hear it said, also, that in Guariba, Corrego Rico, and Visconde do Pinhal, there have been hailstorms which have greatly injured the coffee plantations and ungathered fruit.»

—Bulls are evidently endeavoring to make the quotations of Brazilian bonds in Europe and the Rio de Janeiro exchange market act and react on each other. When the collapse comes, somebody will of course make money at the cost of imprudent speculators.

—The good people of Cataguazes, Minas Geraes, were treated to a bull-fight early last month which they will long remember. According to the Gazela de Cataguazes both the bull-fighters and the bulls distinguished themselves in a way quite unusual in a well-regulated bull-fight. The first bull was in mortal terror of the men, and the men were in mortal terror of the bull, and the sights consisted in keeping out of each other's way. The second bull absolutely refused to take any notice of his tormenters, and was led away in disgrace. The third bull was a cow, if we may put it in that way, and she was the best one of the lot. She scorned to run after such a pusillanimous crew of loureiras; she just faced them and not one of them had courage enough to place a banderilo in her neck. And then the spectators took a hand in the show and the police anthority had to protect the swindlers.

The information to hand is very meagre, but we will return to the subject when the full report reaches us.

SHIPPING NOTES

—The passengers who arrived in Rio on the 9th inst, from New York, Pernambuco and Bahia, by the Lamport & Holt steamer «Coleridge,» were the following: Dr. C. C. Saunders, Capt. Lassen, Mrs. Taves, Miss Jessie Taves, Messrs, H. L. Prettyman, E. A. Wilfert, E. F. Inaltrough and 9 third-class. There were also 2 first-class passengers in transit.

—The government has announced that vessels leaving this port for other Brazilian ports can not have free pratique in the latter until the expiration of ten days counting from the day of departure, and after having been disinfected may discharge in quarantine, however, providing the local federal sanitary officer is of the opinion that such a step offers no peril to public health.

—A few days ago a sailing vessel in ballast.

officer is of the opinion that such a step offers no peril to public health.

— A few days ago a sailing vessel in ballast from a clean South African port arrived off the entrance to this harbor and was taken in tow by a tug-boat. On reaching the bar, both were stopped by Santa Cruz and ordered to Ilha Grande for quarantine. This means that an arrival from a clean port at a dirty port and taken in tow by a tug from a 'dirty port is considered dangerous. And yet Dr. Xuno de Andrade appeals to the public not to throw ridicule on the sanitary authorities!

—According to an arrangement between Drs. Malbran and Nuno de Andrade, the inspectors of the latter can visit ships calling here to leave mails, passengers and cargo, operating in quarantine, without prejudicing their having free pratique in River Plate ports. The sanitary inspector, by virtue of his office, is incapable of conveying contagion. No wonder epidemic diseases are continually slipping through our sanitary barriers!

—The R. M. S. «Clyde» was subjected to ten days quarantine in Buenos Aires for having called at Rio. The passengers complained loudly against this measure, and several of the local papers supported their complaints, Loudest of all the complainants was Sr. Gorostiaga, the retiring Argentine minister to Brazil. He had been assured that if he joined the «Clydes from Petropolis without touching at Rio itself he would be permitted to land at once in Buenos Aires. This, however, proved not to be the case: hence his tears. The scheme of travelling sanitary inspectors, of which we wrote last week, has evidently not yet come into operation.

BUENOS AIRES.
The national health board has issued a circular to the shipping agents in this city to the effect that—
1. That all vessels arriving here from Brazilian ports must take the necessary precautions against the rats on board and have the proper implements attached to the hawsers.
2. To close all portholes after sunset and also withdraw all gangways and communications whatever with the quay.
3. The officers and crew of the vessel shall be inspected twice per day by the officers of the sanitary inspection while the captain shall deliver to said officer a list of daily accidents, if any, with full details of the case and address of the sufferer, He should also deliver daily a list of any men which do not work during any day and the cause of his absence.
4. These orders shall be strictly carried into force and if the rules are not carried out in accordance with the decree, the vessel shall be placed under observation and will not be allowed to operate in port until they are duly carried out as ordered.—Buenos Aires Herald, May 31.

-On the 7th inst, the new painting of Sr Victor Meirelles entitled «A Invocação» was formally unveiled at the industrial exposition

—The treasury has placed the sum of 1,500,000$ at the disposition of the minister of war for the adaptation of the S. Lazaro and S. Christovão factories for service as an arsenal and intendency of war.

reading The Kio News.

—The recognition of the governor's nominees for the chamber of deputies was the occasion for great rejoicings in Petropolis on Saturday last, and it is anticipated that a diplomatic binquet to the successful jacobins will be at once given.

—We see by the South American Journal, that Burão do Rio Branco has charged the celebrated French sculptor M. Felix Carpetter with the execution of a statue of his father, the Visconde do Rio Branco, which is to be erected it this city.

—It is worthy of note that there were 243 deaths from pulmonary consumption in this city last month, and this month the morthity will be even higher. Were we to have 200 odd deaths from bubonic pest in one month, the city would go mad.

city would go mad.

—We are requested to state that the British chaplain will hold a service at No. 74 Rua Mendo da Sá, Icarahy. on Sunday evening, June 17th, at S o'clock. Also that the children's service at the church will be held on June 24th at 2.30 p. m.

— Now that cases of alleged bubonic pest have appeared in Nietheroy, what is the use of continuing annoying restrictions at the ferry stations on the other side of the bay. If there is pest in Nietheroy, then there is no need of barriers to keep it out.

—The morning papers of the 8th announced need of barriers to keep it out.

-The morning papers of the 8th announced the discovery of two suspected cases of bubonic pest in Nictheroy on the previous day. One man had been ill eight days, and was under treatment at the Barreto hospital. Not a very dangerous type of bubonic pest, surely.

-It transpires that the alarming mortality of rats in a certain part of Rua Direita was caused by the rat poison administered in a neighboring restaurant. May we not believe that most of the suspicious mortality among the rats in this city has been due to the same cause?

—We hear that an organ recital will be given at the English Church by Mr. Savile some time this month, the date not being fixed as yet. We shall hope to see a full church on this occasion, for the music is exceptionally good and the recitals deserve hearty support and encouragement.

hearty support and encouragement.

—The project for transforming the old Gloria smarkets edifice (so long used as a tenement house) into a national school of fine arts, was placed in the hands of the President on the 5th inst. The scheme asks for 600,000$, which will be raised by loan, the government paying it off at the rate of 70,000$ a year.

On the 6th inst. Councillor Andrade Figueira appeared before the federal court investigating the alleged conspiracy, and denied that he is guilty of the crime of which he is accused. Councillor João Alfredo was unable to appear because of illness, and a commission was sent to take his deposition. He also denied the charges made against him.

denied the charges made against him.

The Buenos Aires postoffice is again playing pranks by charging an extra rate on our exchanges because of a suspicion of overweight. They apparently spend time down there stamping surcharges on newspaper wrappers, just as our employés here spent their time spying into letters and parcels to see whether the public is observing the regulations.

— It is believed by some that the epidemic which is creating so much alarm in this city, is in reality carbuncle, and not bubonic pest. It will be remembered that complaints were made some time ago that carbuncle was prevalent at the municipal slaughter-thouse at Santa Cruz, but the municipal authorities took no notice of it and allowed the meat to be sold.

— We are still doing the extremely foolish thing of imposing quarantine restrictions on Argentine arrivals to keep out what we already have. This fact not only proves the inconsistency of such sanitary regulations, but it also proves their uselessness. If these quarantines were unable to protect us, why continue them? And of what avail are they when we already have the pest?

The Huge Awaper with a dalicate convention of the control of t

—The Havas Agency paid a delicate compliment to our popular American minister on the 10th inst, by publishing a New York telegram of the 9th to the effect that out of 24 democratic conventions thus far held, 22 had pronounced in favor of the candidacy of Mr. Page Bryan. Doubtless the intentions of the Havas agent were of the best, but as Mr. Chas. Page Bryan is a republican and believes in hard money, the compliment is slightly misplaced. On second though, however, perhaps the telegram means William J. Bryan, instead of Charles Page Bryan.

—There will be a partial eclipse of the moon

— There will be a partial eclipse of the moon to-night, beginning at 10:23 p.m. and ending at 12:17 a.m. The occurrence will be carried on in strict quarantine, and no one but sanitary inspectors will be nermitted on board. As it is a foreign production and bears a Portuguese label, the minister of finance will not enforce a prohibition on its entry at the present moment, though he is of the opinion that it should pay the consumption tax and bear a proportional stamp. "Seeing the eclipses in our English colons will be a valid excuse for stopping out a little later than usual.

— It would seen that the director-general of public health really has been taking some notice of our unsunitary paper money, but he cannot discover any way to solve the difficulty. So he proposes to let it circulate without being disinfected, and let it spread contagion. As he enjoys dictatorial authority, he might order the minister of finance to call it all in and issue clean money in its place. This can be done by instructing every public office to exchange new notes for old ones, and by arranging with the banks to make the exchange every day. It's as easy as falling off a bilke."

—We have been very much puzzled over an item in the fornal of the 6th inst. which says that the director-president of the Villa Isabel trannway company had recommended to his employes the observance of sunitary precepts (regras hygienicas) and advised them that the company would place at their disposal the sum of 55000 each. Now, what is this generous donation for? It can't be designed to provide them with new houses, nor even clean new suits of clothes. Possibly it may mean one good square meal, which might lead to fatal consequences. But, on due reflection, we have concluded that it means an occasional bath, which reflects great credit on the company's generosity and progressiveness.

—Public attention is still being attracted to the great surgical operation which Dr. Chapot Prevost made on the two joined twins last week. Athough one of them died, to the great grief of the surgeon, the other is alive and convalescent. Rosalina, the survivor, has an even temperature, her first ligatures have been removed, and her skilful attendant hopes that she will be able to leave her bed within the next fortnight. The case will be long cited in medical annals, and the fame of Dr. Chapot Prevost is assured; but we think the congratulations from unscientific people, published daily in the papers, exceedingly fulsome. The charity of Brazilians—which should be proverbial—is well exemplified in the subscriptions and donations which are being made for Rosalina's future. Dr. Chapot Prevost is likely to be sent to Berlin and Paris at the expense of the government to describe his operation before the faculties.

—According to the public health report of this city for the second half of May, there were 685 deaths, 640 births and 108 marriages. During the first half of the month the deaths numbered 558. The report states that there were 14 deaths from bubonic pest, of which IT occurred in the Paula Candido (isolated) hospital. Compared with the first half of the month the deaths from other diseases were: yellow fever 15 against 2; small-pox 5 against 7; beri beri 9 against 5; diphtheria 1 against 1; dysentery 6 against 4; influenz 6 against 12; typhoid fever 7 against 8; malaria 58 against 12; typhoid fever 7 against 8; malaria 58 against 105.

—Miss Elizabeth John-Marlitt is the sweetest of our singers here in Rio, and she is too seldom heard in public. On Thursday last she gave a concert in the Club Enterpe, which was attended in good numbers by the elile of our music lovers. The whole programme was thoroughly appreciated, and Miss Marlitt's magnificent voice was heard at its best in an aria from La Regina di Saba, and in a duet from Tamhhauser with Sr. Dufriche. On both occasions bouquets were presented to the fair singer. Sr. Humberto Milano's Habanica on the violin set all the audience longing for a dance, and was rapturously encored. The music, vocal and instrumental, was of the high order we invariably associate with Miss Marlitt's name. Our appreciation of the fair songstress is so high that we hope she will be induced this winter to sing "Home, sweet home" to English people even though the applause brings the roof down.

—Some months ago D. Gabriella Dias, a nome to English people even though the applause brings the roof down.

—Some months ago D. Gabriella Dias, a girl of 17 and daughter of the poet Theophilo Dias, left her home in $50 Paulo and ran away with a well known amerchist, whose doctrines she had espoused. Efforts were made by the police to find the fugitives, but without avail. They lived here in Rio for a time, then went to Buenos Aires where they endured many hardships, and then returned to Rio, where they took lodgings in the Ladeira do João Homem. The man, a Spaniard known as José Sarmento, obtained work and the girl occupied herself with sewing and in writing for anarchist papers. Recently she wrote to her mother and offered to return home, if it could be done quietly. The police, however, would not allow this, and having discovered her place of abode had her arrested on Saturday, interrogated, and then sent her under guard to São Paulo—an act likely to embitter her and make her hate official stuniqity all the more. Sarmento, who has an abandoned wife in Santos, was sent to S. Paulo by the same train.

—We can not say that the new 50$ and 20$ notes are an improvement on the old ones either in workmanship, color or paper. The pale colors are probably designed to defeat photo-lithography, and we hope it may succeed, but in all other respects the notes are inferior to those supplied by the American Bank Note Co.

The Associação Commercial of this city has sent a representation to congress in favor of the repeal of that part of law 641 of 14th November 1899 which prohibits the importation of foreign products with labels in Portuguese, 'except those of Portugal. The Centro Commercial has also made a similar representation.

—The state of Minas Geraes is now enforcing the collection of import duties again. A small box of stationery, on which import duties have already been paid, was charged with import duties at the Central railway station last week. The imposition is clearly illegal, but of course the government takes no notice of it. Everyone is now seeking to extort something from the unfortunate tax-payer, who is naturally the worker, and the game will be kept up as long as anything remains. The only way to escape taxes is to stop working.

—It is to be noted that Messrs. Trajano de Medeiros & Co. have memorialized the minister of finance against the free importation of railway material which is manufactured in the country. The minister has sent the protest to the minister of industry in order that information may be obtained from the director of the Central railway on the subject.

The board of managers of the caixa da amortização has resolved to extend 10 31st December next the period for redeeming the called in notes of the treasury and issue banks, and to fix the same date for the redemption of the 20$ treasury notes of the Sth estampa and 50$ notes of the 7th estampa. New notes of 20$ and 50$ will be issued.

New notes of 20$ and 50$ will be issued.

—The Noticia and Gazeta de Noticias inform their readers that the rise in exchange has caused a reduction in the cost of living. The two journals have done well to mention the fact, for the public unfortunately had not discovered it. Doubtless the Noticia and the Gazeta have not paid any bills recently and are consequently anaware that the benefits that should result from the rise in exchange have been neutralised by burdensome taxation.

—It is needless to say that the proposed modification in the method of levying duties by which 25 per cent is to be collected in gold and the balance in currency, but at such an abatement that the total shall not exceed the present total, will serve only to make our confusion thrice confounded. Just think of the calculations, and the consequent impositions. Why the government should want to introduce further complications we can not imagine.

—The minister of finance has issued a mirrottice further complications we can not imagine.

—The minister of finance has issued a circular to the various departments under his direction advising them that 4the period specified in circular No. 3 of 17th January of the current year for the importation of products, whose labels falling under the prohibition of Art. 57 of the regulamento approved by decree No. 3622 of 36th March last, is prorogued to 36th Setember next. This refers to the prohibition of labels in Portuguese on imported goods, and this extension of the time before the act comes into force was announced in these columns two weeks ago. In all probability the date will have to be extended again, for there is no likelihood that congress will consider and decide the matter before September 30th. As the minister is now aware of the illegality of the prohibition so far as it affects registered trademarks, it would have been better perhaps to have had a case prepared for submission to the proper tribunal in order to have the law declared void—should such a decision be possible.

FINANCIAL NOTES

—On last Wednesday the Gazcia de Nolicias informed its readers that in the Paris market Brazilian 4°/o bonds were quoted at 66¾; but on the same day that journal published a telegram from N. M. —A telegram to the São Paulo Diario Popular on the 5th inst. says that the relator of the budget commission of the chamber of deputies has come to an agreement with the minister of finance by which the gold duties are to be increased and the currency duties decreased. The idea, of course, is to increase taxation, which is contrary to the promises made by the President in his annual message. But promises are made to be broken and this is especially the case with those made by the present government.

Rio G. do Sul. 1,210,280$227 not stated — Brazilian stocks have pursued their upward march, and, in truth, this is not at all surprising, so favorable were the prospects of the country foreshadowed by the presidential message at the opening of congress. The government, without asking new sacrifices from the taxpayers and without having recourse to new credits, counts on taking up the entire external debt in gold in July 1901, the time fixed for the expiration of the funding loan. The monetary circulation was reduced last year by 71,000 contos, and it is expected that in the course of the present year a still greater quantity of paper money will be called in, which will consequently tend to improve exchange. — Moniteur des Interets Materiets, May 10.

MANUFACTURED ONLY AT DR. LALOR'S PHOSPHODYNE LABORATORY, HAMPSTEAD LONDON, ENGLAND. Tropon is pure Albumen; it offers this most important constituent of our daily food in highly concentrated form. The nutritive value of one pound of Trepon equals that of 5 pounds of prime beef 78 0-90 eggs.

Tropon is almost entirely assimilated by the system and transformed into blood and muscles, a fact which is of highest importance in those cases where the digestive canal has to be cared for in mechanical respects. (Dysentery, Diseases of the intestines, etc.)

Tropon is very easily digested; it represents a food which without overstraining even the weakest stomach offers a large amount of nutriment. (For Children, disorders and diseases of the stomach, Kidneys and the Nervous System, Liver complaints, Convalescents, etc.)

Tropon—by replacing the lost Albumen—enables us to arrest the decline of strength caused by fever and infectious diseases. (Vellow Fever, Blackwater Fever, Malaria, Tuberculosis, Typlus, etc.)

Tropon is a tasteiess and odorless powder. It can be mixed or baked or cooked with other tood or else can be taken in drinks.

Emiment medical authorities are constantly calling attention to the merits of Tropon.
