Guijarro escaped secretly from Santiago and embarked at Coronel for Barcellona on the Spanish str. "Mexico," and was arrested at Montevideo on the 6th. He is said to have led a scandalously vicious life in Santiago.

visions and merchandise to their employés.

— A Corumbá correspondent of the Jornal do Commercie writes that the projected exploration of the upper Paraguay river and Lake Gaiba is designed to open up a new trade route for Bolivia. Owing to the uncertain nature of mavigation on the Paraguay to Corumbá, which is frequently unnavigable because of low water, the Bolivian town of Puerto Suarez, opposite Corumbá, is closed to trade for the greater part of the year. With a port at Gaiba the river route will be reduced from 20 to 80 leagues, and the land journey to the interior will also be shortened. The land is also higher and healthier. It is believed that the creation of a port of entry at that point will also tend to benefit the river trade.

—The government—apparently without con-

—The government—apparently without considering the matter—has already given its formal approval to the so-called new sunitary convention, and the text of the same was published yesterday. This, with a few additional details of secondary importance, agrees with the account given in our last, and the preamble states that it refers to treatment of vessels from ports infected with or suspected of bubonic pest. As other plagues are not mentioned, it is to be presumed that matters remain where they were, that is to say in an entirely unsatisfactory state. This is not what was wanted, nor what was expected when it was announced that negotiations were on foot for the entire abolition of quarantines. So far from this having been done, the change made, as regards Montevideo, is briefy appreciable. The quarantines have not been abolished, and all the fuss made seems to have come to next to nothing—the mountain has produced a mouse.—Montevideo Times, Sept. 23.

—In the face of this determination to maintain

— In the face of this determination to maintain the quarantine plague, we may ask, once more, is it worth while to spend fourteen or fifteen million dollars in building a new port here? Do the proponent firms know that, while they are interesting themselves in building harbour works, we are cursed with sing harbour works, we are cursed with sing harbour works, we are cursed with sing they pendered at all into the disastrous effect of the port and driving vessels away? Have they enquired at all into the disastrous effect of the quarantine system as worked here? We can hardly believe it. In any case, if the port is to be built it should not be in the deserted harbor of Montevideo, but at Flores Island, which the sanitary authorities seem determined to make the place of call for vessels. All the elaborate and expensive plans for building a port in the bay are a mere hollow mockery so long as the large majority of vessels are detained at Flores Island or kept in quarantine in the outer roads, as has now been the case for more than twelve consecutive monters in the outer roads, as has now been the case for more than twelve consecutive monters and as has been the case for the greater part of the year for some years past.—Montevideo Times, Sept. 23. - In the face of this determination to main-

THE QUARANTINE PLAGUE.

THE QUARANTINE PLAGUE.

We extract from the Montevideo Times the following translation of the last sanitary convention between the Argentine and Uruguayan health boards:

The national council of hygiene has issued the following ordinance for the treatment of vessels from ports infected with or suspected of bubonic pest;—

Art. t.—Vessels arriving from infected or suspected ports shall be submitted to five and four days' sanitary observation (quarantine) respectively.

This observation shall commence to count, for vessels which bring a sanitary inspector, from the day of their departure, provided the inspector has practised the disinfection of the luggage, and the medical inspection of the passengers and crew.

Art. 2.—For vessels not bringing a sanitary inspector, the observation shall count from the medical inspection and disinfection to be practised on their arrival.

Art. 3.—Infected vessels shall fuffil ten days' observation, counting from their disinfection.

Art. 4.—The personal luggage (equipajes) of the passengers and crew postel models in partial models.

Art. 4.—The personal luggage (equipajes) of the passengers and crew, postal packets, objects of personal and domestic use and clothes in whatever condition (the Spanish word used is trapos, which may be translated as clothes, cloths or rags indifferently) shall be disinfected. Mails and cargo shall be admitted without any restriction.

Art. 5.—Articles or objects belonging to the luggage of the passengers, and which in the oninion of the sanitary authority are capable of transmitting the germs of disease and cannot be disinfected, shall not be admitted.

Art. 6.—For the effects of the present ordinance, the ports of Glasgow and Rio Janeiro are declared infected, and Santos and the other ports of Scotland are declared suspected.

Art. 7.—Ordinance 51 of May 23 is hereby revoked.

were invited, and were present:

Bros. Rankin, Alton, Short, Leveritt, and Rense.

The commodore not granting night leave to the fleet, we were deprived of the presence of about 20 brethren.

After the minutes had been confirmed, Mr. Thomas Lowman was initiated and passed to the 2nd degree.

After the business of the lodge was over, the brethren adjourned to an excellent supper, during which the greatest harmony and good fellowship prevailed, and the usual loyal and masonic toasts were proposed and most enthusiastically responded to, one among them being that of the visitors, which was prefaced by a few appropriate and well chosen remarks by the W. M., and it is needless to say that this toast was most heartily received by the company in right good English hurrahs and singing a For they are jolly good fellows. After the toast had been drunk, Bros. Rankin and Alton responded, and thus a most pleasant and successful function was brought to an end.

ENGLAND, according to the Sl. James's Gazetle, has still $2,000,000,000 tons of coal unused and available. According to the past average rate of consumption, it will be more thru 500 years before this quantity is exhausted. The official returns for last year showed a consumption of 157,000,000 tons in Great Britain and Ireland.

GEOLOGICAL survey figures show that the quantity of iron ore produced in the United States in 1899 was 24.683,173 long tons, 27 per cent. over the out-put of 1898, herretofore the record year. The records for 1898 and 1899 represented the largest output of iron ore mined in any country in one year, the nearest approach being a total of 18.662.040 tons mined in 1880 in England. Of the twenty-four states contributing, Michigan leads with 9,146.157 tons, and Minnesota second with 8,161.289 tons. The total value at the mines of the iron ore produced, as reported by producers, was $41,999.077, or $4.29 per long ton, an increase of 216 per cent. over the average value given in 1898.—Bradstreets.

CRICKET AT ICARAHY.

NIGGERS VS. WHITES.

Played on 30th September, 1900, at Icarahy and resulted in a win for the Whites by 16 runs. The match, as is usual with these fixtures, was very close and interesting. The Niggers batted first on a very treacherous wicket, all being disposed of for the small score of 86.

Jackson was bowling splendidly and took the first six wickets at a cost of only a little more than two runs apiece. Not one of the eleven were able to do anything against his bowling.

On the Whites going in to bat, Jackson and Pierce did most of the scoring, the former making 25, and the latter 41, while at the end of the innings Jeans batted very steadily for his to not out and was virtually the means of winning the match. E. Morrissy was bowling decidedly well and captured eight wickets for 56 runs.

The Niggers went in to bat again, but fared no better than in their previous attempt. Ginns bowled R. Morrissy with his first ball, McNair was out 1.b.w. for 7, Moraes and Pullen were bowled by Roberts for 8 and 0 respectively, and when stumps were drawn five wickets were down for 55.

The eminent Professor Chapôt, on board of the Allantique at Dakar, wrote the following to his friend Jonathas Campello:

«Rosalina was only on the first day sea-sick; when she became giddy, I made her lie down and gave her tincture of Nectandra Amara, which produced a most surprising result. Shortly afterwards, the girl said, at think I feel better now, and then the giddiness has already gone.»

A few hours after the first dose she got up and from that time on has been free from the disease.

RIO DE JANEIRO, OCTOBER 9th, 1900.

WE should like to ask the minister of finance how much evidence he wants to prove the distress and disorganization which have been brought upon this country. Without one single exception country. Without one single exception every administrative report, whether national, state, muri ipal or private, shows that there has been a shrinkage in revenue, a decrease in trade, a decline in industry, a diminution in trans-portation earnings, a scarcity of currency in general circulation, universal distrust and want of confidence, and general trust and want of connectice, and general distress. In his own reports he admits the existence of these evils, if not in words, then by the suggestion and discussion of remedies. The collapse of the Bauco da Republica is only one manifestation of the lamentable state of the country, and of the terrible state of the state of the country, and of the terrible state of the state of t demoralization into which private as well as public administration has fallen. Harsh as the judgment may seem, we can not see one single ray of hope in the existing situation, and for the simple reason that no sound basis of reform is even considered. What Brazil needs at the very ouset is a basis of sound and at the very ouset is a basis of sound and vigorous morality in private as well as in public life. It is folly to build a great edifice without a strong and durable foundation, and no less foolish to try to build up a great state without having broad and deep foundations of moral principle for it to rest upon. History teaches that no nation can rise from corrupt and degenerate sources, nor endure long after it has become thoroughly corrupt and impotent. Something may be done to relieve the thing may be done to relieve the present critical situation in this country, and ruin may be averted for some years, but unless radical reforms are made in but unless radical reforms are made in every department of public life, backed by a truer and better moral sense in private life, the same desperate emergency will have to be faced again. It is stated publicly and is widely believed that the press, both here and in Europe, has been to a great extent subsidized in the interests of the present government. The charge is not denied. But yet, the minister must know that the compliments, and excusses of a sub-But yet, the minister must know that the compliments and excuses of a subsidized press will not avert the catastrophe which is hanging over us. it has become epidemic. And yet no one is denounced and no one is punished. If from a situation like this, coupled with a widespread shrinkage in business, the minister can draw the encouragement which his newspaper chorus has been chanting for the past few months, then his optimism deserves a better reward than it is likely to

CONCERNING OURSELVES.

Owing to some private criticisms of our journalistic work and to an attitude assumed by a few members of our for-eign colony which implied an intention to place us under a species of boycott, we were led to speak a few words in our own defence some weeks since for the purpose of showing that our editorial work had been essentially fair and just work had been essentially fair and just toward this country. Other questions claimed our attention before we had finished what we intended to say, and events have since transpired which have fully proved the soundness and friendly character of our criticisms. Two of our colleagues in Buenos Aires, The Southern Cross and Buenos Aires Herald, have promptly entered the lists in our defence and have placed us under obligations which we shall hardly know how to repay.

We shall not undertake to reproduce We shall not undertake to reproduce the complimentary allusions to the editor of this paper which The Southern Cross has been good enough to put on record—and which we must say are more flattering and generous than we have any right to claim,—but we may be excused for reproducing the appreciation of our work which both rappers have been kind enough to expense have been supported by the following the enough to th preciation of our work which both papers have been kind enough to express. From the long and partly personal article of The Southern Cross, of September 21st, we extract the follow-

Softeniber 21st, we extract the following:—

Mr. Lamoureux has, for the last few years, been constantly hostile to the ruinous financial and fiscal policy of the Brazilian government. He has tried to convince Brazilian public men and his readers of all classes that the system of administration pursued in Rio was ruinous. He told Brazil that she would come to grief, that her banks would toter and that taxation, forced to the last limits of endurance, would, in making living ruinou.ly dear, only acceptuate all the more the calamity of a shrinking revenue. The chauvinist press of Rio, which unfortunately seems to be influential, called him a monarchist, a traitor, an enemy of the republic; the subsidized official press covered him with insults, and those insults have been at times re-echoed in the less creditable meanness they permitted him to be made the object of a social and business boycott....

And now he is justified. Everything he wrote in true friendship for Brazil and which was howled at as libellous, has come true to the letter. Brazil is just where he told her she would eventually find herself. We have not yet seen any account in the Rio papers that Mr. Lamourenx has been hailed as a true friend of Brazil. We have not yet seen the chauvinistic and puid clackers of the foreign press of Rio take back any of the base slanders and calumnies which they have been throwing at him for five long years and more. No matter. It is satisfactory to note at least that decent men outside of Brazil recognize the courage and integrity of the Rio News, and that in Brazil itself Mr. Lamoureux, with unbroken spirit, does not think it necessary to cry for elemency or favor, and that all he claims is simple justice. Truth is great and must triumph, and the truth he has always told, for it is not in him to write or speak or publishanything else.

The Buenos Aires Herald of September 18th is more impersonal, and we reproduce its comment in full:

ber 18th is more impersonal, and we reproduce its comment in full:

the compliments and excuses of a subsidized press will not avert the catastrophe which is hanging over us. The purchase of the Paris press did not protect the Panama canal company from the consequences of a corrupt, and extravagant administration; it has not saved the Banco da Republica, it has not increased our revenues, nor promoted commerce, nor benefited national industry, and it will not save the country from the consequences of over-taxation, reckless expenditure and mischievous interference with trade and industry. Failures, withdrawals from business, voluntary liquidations. Closing of factories, defaults in interest and payment of accounts, are of daily occurrence in every part of the country. Worse than this, criminal defalcations are so common as to give one the impression that

THE negotiation for the transfer of the Banco da Republica has now reached its final stage, the camara commercial having decided yesterday to confun the accord between the government and the bank. The revised statutes adopted by the shareholders are now to be submitted to the government or approval, the transfer will then be announced by decree, and then the contract will be signed by the government and directors of the bank. On the termination of all these formalities, the government will appoint its directors and then the bank will be ready to enter upon its new career. There has been no change in the situation since our last issue. The government is determined to conceal the means by which this great bank was wrecked, and to protect the wreckers, and as shareholders and treditors believe that their only chance of securing something is by keeping quiet, there is little probability that anything will be made public. Business continues at a standstill and the situation of the market is most critical. All importation has been suspended, discounts can not be obtained, and nothing but mutual forbearance stands between the business public and general bankruptey. The cash to be advanced by the government may help a little, but the new bonds will only serve to complicate the situation. but the new bonds plicate the situation

ACCORDING to the Gazda de Nolicias Minister Bryan had a brief conference with the minister of foreign affairs on the 4th inst. and showed him a telegram just received from the subwood him a telegram just received from the subwood him a telegram just received from the celebration of a reciprocity treaty. The tenor i of the telegram is not disclosed, but it will not be unreasonable to presume that it conveys some expression of surprise at the proveys may be a supplied to the proposals made, the provent of the telegraph of the proposals and the provent of the proposals would be initiated in regard to the proposals, for negotiations have been in progress in one form or another for over a year. Possibly the Gazda reporter was mistaken in this, and the negotiations referred to are those so long delayed by the minister of finance who was invited to report on the effects which Mr. Bryan's proposals would have on the revenue. The extraordinary delay which has followed, naturally leads the American government to ask for the reason, and we may presume that Minister Murtinlo's opinion will now be forthcoming. This should not be taken as an indication, however, that the treaty is yet in the negotiation.

In rrs call for tenders for furnishing coal to the Central Railway for next year the government has decided to take part of the supply in American coal. As in the previous call American coal was absolutely excluded, this is seeningly a concession. But there is a proviso requiring that at the beginning of next month American bidders shall furnish two tons of their coal for trial. And, as the call appeared for the first time in the format do Commorcio of the 22nd ult, there is of course not sufficient time for American operators to comply with this requirement. Consequently the seeming concession is either a farce — or a cover for a job. If the Brazilian government land been really desirous of obtaining the best coal at the lowest price, it would have announced its resolution in sufficient time to enable all operators to make their bids.

WE can readily comprehend the failure of the Brazilian Review to understand the course pursued by The Rio News in complimenting the minister of finance for some acts while criticising him for others. There is no Dr. Jekyll on the Review's staff; it is all Mr. Hyde. But, after all, what difference does it make? Our neighbor is not in the position of an independent observer, and as soing as he is serving the minister his opinions will disturb no one. The man who sells not self must look to his master for approval, for the world in general, mencenary as it may be, has no very high opinion of such a transaction. We should like to say that it is a matter of sincere regret to us that we can not commend the minister of finance in all he does, but as long as he permits the free use of the national printing office for the publication of private newspapers, we can not give him full credit for rigid economy.

The party in power has always a great advantage in an election, but it is expected that the opposition will make the running a lively one nevertheless.

Governor Severino Vieira, when he received the complaint of ex-Gov. Luiz Vianna and his friends in regard the attack made on them by rioters, is reported to have remarked "Served him right! should say that it can very easily be spared.

—An attempt was made on Sturday to hold an open air meeting of unemployed operatives on Largo de S. Francisco de Paulo; but on account either of the heavy rain or of the action of the police the attempt was not successful. Some of the operatives called at the office of the Jornal do Brazil and complained having been very roughly handled by police spies and roughs.

—We are glad to see that the London war office has settled the momentous question of what kind of a ribbon shall be worn with the South African medals. This is a business in which the war office is profoundly versel, and we may feel assured that it will be settled in accordance with all the best traditions. As for artillery, medical service, etc., the results are naturally less satisfactory, but as long as the British public is satisfied it is idle to discuss the matter.

The Rio press is organizing a commission to go to Buenos Aires to return the visit of the Argentine journalists last year. Arrangements are being perfected by Sr. Cassio Farinha, who was for some years a resident of Montevideo, and it is expected that all the principal journals of this capital will be represented. We sincerely regret we can not accept the invitation kindly extended to us, but we wish the commission a pleasant journey and an enjoyable visit.

On the 4th inst. the local press stated that the French chargé d'affaires had had a conference with the foreign minister in regard to the lyuching of a French citizen in Rio Grande do Sul, a question which will be settled after the courts have given sentence on the case. Is the crime up before any court We understood that the unfortunate man's wife and children escaped and took refuge in Montevideo, in a destitute condition. By whom, then, has the case been brought before the courts, and against whom is the prosecution waged?

—Last Saturday was Councillor Andrade Figueira's birthday. On this occasion there was an imposing demonstration in honor of the councillor, who is still a prisoner awaiting trial. A very interesting feature of this demonstration was an address from ladies expressing indignation at the injustice with which he is treated and admiration for the fortitude with which he bears unjust treatment. The signatures to this address are headed by that of D. Maria Eufrasia Marques Lisboa, daughter of the late Marquez de Tamandarc.

—We hear that the American minister was present at the Penha festa on Sunday last. Few men have been able to make themselves so nearly omnipresent as Mr. Bryan, and it may be said that very little is permitted to ha pen without his taking an interested part in it. We may assume that Mr. Bryan did not attend as a real romeiro, with a cow-horn of einho verde swung over his shoulder, a string of frosted cakes about his neck, a ring of pho doce on his hat, a print of the Virgin in one hand and a quarter of half ripe water melon in the other. The Penha is worth seeing, and it is a satisfaction to know that Mr. Bryan did not allow it to escape him.

—In an article published in the Gazeta de Noticias of June 27 Senator Antonio Azeredo insimated with a clearness that rendered the insimation almost equivalent to positive assertion, that the government was using the public money in corrupting the press. As our readers are aware, both here and in foreign countries there frequently appear in certain journals articles unduly eulogising the Brazilion government and these are copied into nearly all the journals that apparently belong to an organized government admiration society. In last Wednesday's Imprensa there is a still more explicit statement on this subject. According to this statement, which proceeds, says the Imprensa, from a respectable source, the account of aid to the press at the Banco da Republica amounts to 2,35,500.5, of which 1,755,600.5 was drawn by a representative of Brazil in Europe. In view of such disclosures as this is it possible that any honest man can oppose a thorough investigation of the affairs of the Banco da Republica?

— The contract for collecting and inspecting the consumption tax on salt in the state of Rio Grande do Norte was signed on the 5th inst. The state will receive 60,000 å year for the work, and the balance, if any, will be turned over to the federal treasury. The unfortunate industry will be duly harried, and the consumer will pay more for his salt.

—A creditor of the Banco da Republica sug-gests that the bank should accept the new 3 per cent apolices on deposit and advance 50 per cent of their nominal value to holders, in order to avoid speculation in them. The sug-gestion is certainly worthy of consideration. Something should be done to protect holders against the serious losses which threaten them.

—Continued investigations into the affairs of the Pernambuco caixa economica show that the defalcation amounts to 1,170,0005. The fel of the bank's treasury has been suspended. —The Diatrio do Rio Grande in its issue of the 9th ult. gives a gloomy picture of the business situation in the state of Rio Grande do Sul. The frontier towns are doing no business at all and even in those on the Atlantic sea-board trade is threatened with ruin. Smuggling is rampant and in legitimate business sales are insignificant and collections are almost impossible.

—All the remedies coming from the government in the present crisis seem to be designed to help the banks at the expense of the commercial community. A measure which protects the bank against judicial action, but permits it to take judicial proceedings against a commercial debtor, is certainly very one-sided. Of course the bank represents diverse interests, but this should not protect it against the just claims of the individual.

—Having obtained acceptance of its proposals from two-thirds of the creditors of the Banco da Republica, or rather two-thirds of the aggregate owing to them, the government applied to the Camara Commercial on the ard inst. for a confirmation of the accord. The total amount of the bank's indebtedness is stated to be 107.755.5118936, and of this 778 creditors representing an aggregate of 73.656.4558999 had signified their acceptance of the proposal. On the 4th inst. an editat was published calling for reclamations against such confirmation within three days.

—In our last issue we mentioned the temporary closing of the S. Joaquim spinning and weaving factory. We now have to record that of the Liberdade match factory and of J. Scarsi & Co. The Brilliante and Fabrica Brazileira match factories have made large reductions in the number of their operatives. Thus in consequence of exorbitant taxation 1200 operatives are thrown out of employment. In a previous issue, foreseeing the suffering that must result from the present crisis, we suggested the organization of relief committees. We regret to say that up to the present, as far as we are aware, no action has been taken on our suggestion.

—In the columns of his journal A Imprensa Senator Ruy Barbosa has ably defended himself from the attempt to make him exclusively responsible for the financial blunders of the provisional government. If we remember aright, Councillor Mayrink, in his memorable debate with Conde de Figueiredo in 1801, claimed to be the author of the financial policy of that government.

—As our readers are aware there are certain persons who accuse us being an enemy of Brazil for having warned the government and people of the consequences of their financial blunders. We presume that those persons will now make the same accusation against us for urging the government and people to endeavor to remedy the evils that have resulted from their failure to heed our warnings.

For the current year the governor says the decrease in revenues will be still greater, whose aggregate will not much exceed two thousand contos, as the receipts of the first six months were only 1,279,8748-95.

THE RIO NEWS.

THE RIO NEWS.

This paper is now in its 56th year having originally been published as The South American Mail and The British and American Mail. It assumed its present little at the beginning of April, 1879, when it was published three times a month. From a trimonthly it has been changed to a weekly publication, and from four pages it has been increased to twelve.

As an advertising medium THE NEWS occupies an exceptionally advantageous position. It circulates widely throughout Brazil, and also in Europe and the United States. Its subscribers are principally business men interested in Brazilian trade, industries and investments. No other periodical, even with much larger circulation, can offer better inducements to advertisers who seek the attention of these classes.

All communications should be addressed to the Editor and Publisher, Caixa do Correio, 28, Rio de Janeiro.
